[DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 7.—Vincent Kerens of Washington, D. C., son of the late Richard C. Kerens, multi-millionaire railroad magnate and former Ambassador to Austria-Hungary, who died last Monday in Mercion, Pa., must stay sober for five consecutive years to gain control of his father's $5,000,000 estate. This is one provision of the elder Kerens's will, filed in the Probate Court here today. Otherwise he will receive $500 a month from the estate during his life. The rest of the estate goes to another son, two daughters and six grandchildren.

TREATY IS RATIFIED.

Danish Islands are Half Ours.

Senate Votes Without Roll Call to Pay Twenty-five Millions.

Fight Against Deal Pending in the Upper House in Copenhagen.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—The treaty providing for the purchase from Denmark of the Danish West Indies for $25,000,000 was ratified by the Senate tonight. There was no roll call and fewer than half a dozen Senators, including Senators Norris, Jones and Clapp, voted against it.

Favorable action on the treaty at this session of Congress had been strongly urged by the administration, particularly because of the influence it might have upon the situation in Denmark, where the lower house of Parliament approved it. A fight is being made for ratification in the upper house.

HOURS OF DEBATE.

A vote tonight followed several hours of debate in executive session while the Senate was waiting for the conference report on the emergency revenue bill, the only obstacle to adjournment of Congress. Finding that no serious opposition developed, administration leaders arranged for a recess from 8:15 to 8:30 p.m. to round up a quorum and to force final action. By mistake adjournment instead of recess was taken, causing a few minutes' delay while the sergeant-at-arms looked for a minister to offer the invocation required under the rules, but when no minister was to be found, a precedent was established by dispensing with the invocation and voting began soon afterward.

An amendment by Senator Norris to reduce the purchase price from $25,000,000 to $10,000,000 was defeated by an overwhelming vote, and the treaty was approved just as it was signed by Secretary Lansing and Minister Brun on August 4.

LONG NEGOTIATIONS.

Negotiations for the purchase of the islands have been in progress intermittently for half a century. Because of their strategic value, particularly since the construction of the Panama Canal, the American government has been anxious to acquire them not only with a view to establishing a naval base there, but to prevent the islands from falling into the hands of any foreign power. German interference was credited with blocking negotiations on the subject in 1902 after the United States Senate had ratified a treaty.

Practically nothing was known about the recent conferences between Secretary Lansing and Minister Brun, and there was no announcement of the fact that the negotiations had been renewed until shortly before the pact was signed. Even then the terms of the purchase were kept secret until one of the confidential copies of the treaty sent to the Senate had disappeared and its substance published.

POLITICAL CRISIS.

In Denmark the treaty has developed a political crisis that may result in a new general election of members of Parliament and reorganization of the Cabinet. The lower house ratified it August 14 by a vote of 62 to 44, but much more serious opposition developed in the upper house. After a bitter fight the upper house adopted a resolution notifying the Cabinet that it was willing Parliament should be dissolved and a general election held unless sale of the islands could be postponed until after the European war. The vote on this resolution was 39 to 37.

Since then there had been indications that the Cabinet had won over some leaders of the upper house and suggestions that the controversy might be settled without holding elections for Parliament and by submitting the question of the sale itself to a popular vote. So far as known here, however, no such plan has been finally decided on.

TERMS OF TREATY.

Under the terms of the treaty Denmark would sell to the United States the islands of St. Thomas, St. John and St. Croix, together with adjacent islands and rocks, and including "the right of property in all public, government or crown land, public buildings, wharves, ports, harbors, fortifications, barracks, public funds, rights, franchises and privileges and all other public property of every kind or description now belonging to Denmark, together with all the appurtenances thereto."

Denmark would guarantee cession of the islands to be free and unencumbered except for certain franchises and concessions which the United States agrees to maintain. Provision also is made for protection of the property of the Danish National Church, and exemptions from the transfer include arms and military stores and movables, especially silver plate and pictures in the government buildings.

The treaty sets forth that the purchase price should be paid to the Danish representative in Washington in gold coin of the United States, within ninety days from the date of the exchange of ratifications. There are the usual provisions to safeguard the personal and proper-

STUPENDOUS OUTLAY MADE BY DEMOCRATS.

Five Hundred Bills Enacted into Laws During the Session.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 7.—If the legislative record of the first session of the Sixty-fourth Congress were to be written in figures it would consist of two items—the expenditure of $2,000,000,000 in money and the enactment of approximately 500 bills.

The Sixty-fourth Congress passes into history as the first $2,000,000,000 Congress.

Congress has been in session 245 days, including Sundays and holidays. Since December 6, 1915, when it convened, until it adjourned it has been spending money at the rate of approximately $8,150,000 a day, a record which compares not unfavorably with that of some European countries, which are exhausting their financial resources to pay the price of war.

As usual, there are marked differences among the financial recapitulations. The administration bookkeepers succeeded in making the total much smaller than the minority accountants. The Treasury Department estimated the disbursements for the fiscal year 1917 at $1,126,000,000. This does not includs the expenditures authorized which must be paid for by future Congresses. Senator Smoot, the Republican expert on the Finance Committee, estimates that the total direct and authorized expenditure will amount to $1,947,350,848.

In the items which make up the stupendous total are many which mark the cost of applying the idea of government ownership. Among these are $50,000,000 for a government-controlled merchant marine, $12,000,000 for a government armor-plate factory, more millions for a government-owned nitrate plant and for government factories for the manufacture of military supplies and munitions.

Expiring Spasms of the Session—Emergency Revenue Bill with Drastic Provisions for Dealing with Allied Interference with Our Trade Ready for the President. Adjournment at 10 O'clock this Morning.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Congress will adjourn tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. After nine months devoted to legislation both houses held protracted sessions tonight to end their affairs by approving the conference agreement on the emergency revenue bill to raise approximately $200,000,000 desired by the administration to meet the extraordinary appropriations for national defense and the Mexican emergency.

Only the physical impossibility of engrossing the revenue measure in time for the President's approval before tomorrow prevented final adjournment despite the waning protests of members of both houses who threatened, but did not execute the threats, to prolong the session by demands for action on measures which were forced over until December.

AU REVOIR.

Leaders of the Senate and House agreed upon a concurrent resolution to adjourn at 10 o'clock in the morning, and scores of members left town on midnight trains, eager to reach their homes for participation in the national political campaign.

The last appropriation measure, the general deficiency bill, was adopted by both houses while waiting for the conference report on the revenue bill, and the Danish treaty to provide for purchase of the Danish West Indies for $25,000,000 was ratified. The corrupt practices bill, to limit campaign expenditures, and the immigration bill, which President Wilson had announced he would veto if passed, were put aside and will be taken up in the December session.

THE BILL.

The revenue bill, as it will go to the President for approval tomorrow, contains drastic provisions empowering the President to retaliate against foreign interference with American commerce, creates a nonpartisan tariff commission, increases the duties on dyestuffs to encourage their manufacture in the United States, provides means to prevent dumping of cheap foreign-made goods into American markets after the war, and provides for income, inheritance, munitions, corporation stock, liquor and miscellaneous internal revenue taxes.

PROTESTS.

During consideration of the report in the Senate, Senator Chamberlain of Oregon protested vigorously against elimination by the conference committee of a retaliatory provision against Canadian control of Pacific Coast fisheries, and Representative Gardner of Massachusetts enlivened the House with a bitter denunciation of the retaliatory provision against foreign interference with American commerce.

Mr. Gardner charged Congress with hypocrisy and his criticisms of the administration aroused the ire of some of the Democrats, two of whom—Representatives Decker of Missouri and Cullop of Indiana—made speeches in reply. Representative Bennet of New York, Republican, said he disagreed with both Representatives Gardner and Decker, but that there were questions of national honor that rose above partisanship.

Representative Decker, amid rounds of applause, thanked God that there was in the White House a President who was willing to resort to negotiations before resorting to the sword. He suggested that the views of Mr. Gardner and of Mr. Roosevelt were pro-ally.

"You claim to be devoted to humanity and to despise commercialism," said Mr. Gardner. "Why don't you pass an amendment refusing American harbors to Germany's interned ships until she repudiates the Lusitania crime? These retaliatory amendments would be looked upon all over the world as a blow in support of Germany's ugly cause. What has Congress done? Your only protests have been aimed at the allies, who are fighting our fight and the fight of civilization."

REVENUE PROVISIONS.

The revenue provisions of the bill include a normal income tax of 2 per cent. with increased surtaxes, an inheritance tax, a tax of 12½ per cent. on net profits of munitions manufactures, a license tax of 50 cents on each $1000 stock of corporations capitalized in excess of $99,000; wine, beer and liquor taxes; brokers' taxes and a re-enactment of the theater and amusement taxes of the existing war revenue. All stamp taxes in the present law are repealed and all that were included in this bill were eliminated in conference. These were regarded as "popularly obnoxious."

Democratic Leader Kitchin called up the conference report on the revenue bill in the House at 9:20 o'clock tonight. Democrats applauded when he announced the elimination of the stamp taxes. Representative Stafford of Wisconsin, Republican, said it was a grave mistake for the House conferees to accept the Senate amendment increasing duties on print paper. Mr. Kitchin was inclined to believe the amendment might cause a slight increase in print paper prices, but said the situation with respect to Canada was the warrant for the agreement upon the amendment.

The House acted quickly after brief debate, and sent the bill to the Senate before 10 o'clock.

COMMENT ON THE SITUATION.

South of the Somme the French, east of Denniecourt, captured trenches from the Germans and brought their front more in alignment with their new line through Belloy-en-Santerre and Berny-en-Santerre. Great aerial activity was shown by French and British aerial squadrons in bombarding points of vantage behind the German lines. The Germans are heavily shelling the French in the old first line German trenches a mile in length between Vaux Chapitre region and the town of Chenois, in the Verdun sector, which were taken by the French Wednesday night. In Galicia the Russians are still actively in quest of Lemberg, keeping up their pressure against the Austro-Germans westward from the regions of Bresany and Halica.

While the American and Mexican Commissioners continue their sessions at New London, Ct., to iron out the differences between Mexico and the United States, Villa appears to be active just south of the border. In the Santa Clara district ranchers are reported to be fleeing in panic before the Villistas.

Speakers at the Pharmaceutical Association Meeting Warn M.D.'s of Danger—Better Drug Clerks Wanted—Protest Voiced Against to Many Drug Stores.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) Sept. 7.—Speakers before the annual convention of the American Pharmaceutical Association today condemned the readiness with which many physicians resort to the "needle" to alleviate pain and a campaign of education to warn patients of the danger from hypodermic injections was urged.

Dr. H. C. Wood of Philadelphia sounded a warning against many cough syrups and cited instances where confirmed drug users have been developed through this means.

Revision of the bylaws of the association will compel manufacturers of patent medicines to comply strictly to the standards demanded in the Federal pure food laws in the future.

"There are too many drug stores and too few competent drug clerks," declared Dr. B. F. Pritchard of New York, before the legislative section. A longer apprenticeship before clerks are permitted to open their own stores was suggested as a remedy.

Universal adoption of the metric system of weights was urged. It was asserted such action would have an important bearing on the South American trade.

ENGLISHMEN HEAR AMERICANS SPEAK.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BIRMINGHAM (Eng.) Sept. 7, 3 p.m.—American and other foreign delegates today addressed the forty-eighth trades union congress, representing nearly 2,000,000 workingmen, now in session here. William D. Mahon of Detroit, president of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees, a delegate of the American Federation of Labor, presented the American standpoint regarding the proposed labor and peace congress after the war.

The congress gave an enthusiastic reception to the declaration of the American delegate that the workers in America generally sympathized with the cause of the Entente allies, because they thought it represented right and liberty.

MEXICAN COMMISSION HEARS FROM WILSON.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—President Wilson today sent to the joint American and Mexican commissioners, in reply to their message sending him "most cordial greetings," the following telegram:

"May I not express to the American and Mexican Joint Commission my very warm appreciation of the telegram just received, my profound interest in the tasks of friendship and accommodation to which it is addressing itself and my confident hope and expectation that its deliberations will be crowned with a success which will long cement the friendship between the two nations."

DATA BEING STUDIED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW LONDON (Ct.) Sept. 7.—While the American-Mexican Commission appointed to evolve a settlement of border disputes was not in session today, real progress was made by the American commissioners toward a fuller understanding of the task before them. They spent several hours in studying data on conditions along the international line and in Mexico, provided by the State and the War departments. They also questioned at length Special Agent James Linn Rodgers and Stephen H. Bonsal, also attached to the State Department, as to their personal knowledge of affairs beyond the border.

Secretary Lane said the American commissioners had found many hopeful suggestions. Conditions in Mexico appear to be on the mend, he said, and official reports to the State Department bear out the views in this regard.

RESUME SESSION TODAY.

The joint sessions will be resumed tomorrow.

The review made today by the American commissioners included the immediate situation on the border and conditions that led up to the sending of the American punitive expedition in search of Villa and his bandits. The request for the withdrawal of this force probably will be formally presented by the Mexican commission tomorrow.

One of the papers examined was a report made by Gen. Pershing about a month ago, saying that the object of his expedition had been accomplished, so far as it has been possible under the conditions which surround the movement.

FUNSTON URGED RECALL.

Another was the formal recommendation of Gen. Funston that the Pershing expedition be recalled. The Washington government has never formally admitted the receipt of this message. It is understood to have been made in reply to a suggestion that Gen. Pershing furnish the commission with his judgment as to the military necessity for retaining military forces beyond the border. So far as is known, this is the final word on that phase of the border problem the American commissioners have from the military arm of the government.

Ignacio Bonillas and Alberto Pani, the two Mexican commissioners who remained here during the day, also devoted themselves to preparing for tomorrow's conference.

EAST AFRICAN PORTS YIELD TO THE BRITISH.

LONDON, Sept. 7.—The ports of Kilwa Kivinje and Kilwa Kisiwani, in German East Africa, respectively 150 and 175 miles south of Dar-es-Salaam, have surrendered to the British under threat of bombardment, according to an official statement issued tonight giving details of the recent surrender of Dar-es-Salaam.

The statement says:

"September 3 a naval attack by British forces in whalers, in conjunction with a heavy bombardment of enemy positions north of the town, was followed by landings at Konduchi and in Massani Bay. The enemy evacuated Dar-es-Salaam, which was occupied by the British. The town was virtually undamaged.

"On the 7th British naval forces and marines, with military landing parties, occupied the ports of Kilwa Kivinje and Kilwa Kisiwani, which surrendered under threat of a naval bombardment."

M'KINLEY SPEECH READ AS REVENUE BILL PASSED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—The Senate at 12:55 o'clock tonight adopted the conference report on the revenue bill without a record vote, clearing the way for adjournment of Congress at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Following disposition of the bill Senator Hughes of New Jersey provoked the anger of Senator Penrose and other Republican leaders who threatened to demand the presence of a quorum by insisting on reading a speech of the late President McKinley favoring the eight-hour day. Senator Hughes declared the McKinley attitude was in strong contrast to that of Mr. Hughes (Republican Presidential candidate.)

At 1:07 o'clock the Senate recessed until 8 o'clock tomorrow morning. The concurrent resolution for adjournment at 10 a.m. tomorrow was left on the table for action when the Senate resumes.

RANCHERS FLEE BEFORE BANDITS

Villistas are Raiding Near Santa Clara Canyon.

Passenger Trains Operated Only in Daylight.

Cattle Buyer for Outlaws Held at El Paso.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

EL PASO, Sept. 7.—Villa bandits are raiding ranches in the vicinity of Laguna, Terrazas and Tres Hermanas, in the vicinity of Santa Clara Canyon, passengers who arrived in Juarez this morning over the Mexican Central Railroad report. One Mexican family of refugees on the passenger train fled as soon as the first signs of the Villistas were noted in their neighborhood. They report seeing an armed band of fifty bandits riding across the skyline near their home. Without waiting to take any of their clothing or personal belongings they fled to the border.

FIRE UPON TRAIN.

When this train was slowing down at Laguna station to let aboard the Mexican refugee family, Ramon Rodrigues and his wife and five children, three lone horsemen were seen behind a butte to the west, in the vicinity of Santa Clara. They fired at the train and the fire was returned by the Carranza guards, one being shot. But because of the superior number of guards on the passenger train no attack was made.

The passenger trains are being operated on a daylight schedule for fear the Villa bandits, who are less than twenty-five miles from the railroad line, will wreck or hold up the train to rob the passengers and get ammunition.

VILLA INSIDE CANYON.

The two Villa bandits were were executed near Santa Isabel by Carranza troops were a part of Villa's rear guard, who were left there to report to him the movement of Carranza soldiers over the Mexico Northwestern line and toward Santa Clara. Villa himself is said by Gen. Gonzalez to be inside of Santa Clara Canyon, where there is a small ranch-house and plenty of good water.

George Holmes, a cattle buyer for Villa, was arrested by officials of the United States Department of Justice today on a charge of conspiring to set on foot a military expedition to Mexico by arming and paying Gen. Manuel Ochoa, who crossed at Fabens, Tex., to join Villa.

CLARK CASE VERDICT SENT TO PERSHING.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

COLUMBUS (N. M.) Sept. 7.—A general court-martial was called for today to try Hugh Clark, private of the Second Massachusetts Regiment, on charges of criticising his superior officer, Capt. Edmund J. Slate. Clark is accused of writing "false and misleading articles" for a Holyoke (Mass.) newspaper against Slate. Failure to substantiate the charges caused Clark's arrest.

The court adjourned after submitting its verdict, which was not announced, to Gen. J. J. Pershing for approval.

Clark, appearing in his own behalf, reiterated his published charge. Officers of the company and the regiment offered testimony seeking to disprove these charges.

TWO MORE BANDITS HANGED IN MEXICO.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

CHIHUAHUA, Sept. 7.—Julio Valle and J. Prieto, Villa bandits, have been captured near Santa Isabel, Chihuahua, and executed by government troops, according to dispatches received today from Gen. Ellsondo. Villa still is believed to be in the Santa Clara Canyon in the neighborhood of Tepehuanes, although an unofficial report today said he had reached Laguna, about sixty miles north of here.

Dispatches from Gen. Samuel Santos in Torreon say that Rafael Castro, a Villa general, has approached him with a view to surrendering in return for amnesty. Castro denies, according to the dispatch, that he was implicated in the massacre of eighteen Americans and other figures at Santa Isabel in January, last.

MILITARY AND CIVIL SOCIETY ENJOY THEIR PROGRAMME.

Successful Result of the Interest in the Soldiers by Mrs. Robert Wankowski, Wife of the Brigadier-General—Large Glee Club as an Attraction.

BY HENRY D. MARSHALD.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

NOGALES, Sept. 5.—Society, military and civil, filled the Lyric Theater last night to enjoy what the California Seventh Regiment had to offer as a musical programme.

The affair was the successful result of the interest taken in the enlisted men by Mrs. Robert E. Wankowski, wife of the brigadier-general. It was through her efforts that the house contained the most prominent people of Nogales, and this brilliant California woman has, because of this evening of entertainment, won a lasting place in the hearts of the men who wear the olive drab of Uncle Sam.

A glee club, with members drawn from every company in the Seventh, and directed by F. Edgar Stahl of the Second Band, gave several numbers creditably, including Ballard's "Winter Song," "The Rosary," "Then You'll Remember Me" and "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep." Other numbers were: Piano solo, Leo J. McQuaid; male quartette, Messrs. Jernegan, Fredendahl, Stahl and Davis; tenor solo, J. L. Jernegan; duet, George Kirchenschlager and J. L. Jernegan; ukulele duet, Fredendahl and Davis; cornet solo, Aime J. Reinwald; bass solo, Edward Fredendahl.

The glee club was very ably assisted in concert by Robert Alter, a Los Angeles violinist, well known in musical circles. Mr. Alter left his music studio when the President called out the Guard, and is here as a private in the Hospital Corps. He played "Berceuse" (Jocelyn.) Military Polonaise and several other numbers that were insisted on by the audience.

Mrs. Wankowski closed the programme by singing "California," supported in the chorus by the glee club. The members of this club are: Sergt.-Maj. Decius, business manager; Sergt. C. L. Ary, president; J. L. Jernegan, vice-president; Charles L. Davis, secretary; Sergt. A. A. Rose, librarian; first tenors, J. L. Jernegan, Clinton E. Banbury, John J. Fox and George Kirchenschlager; second tenors, Irvin J. Higgins, J. A. Barklew, Harvey H. Henry and C. Ellis; first bass, Maurice Broudy, W. M. Bell, Charles L. Davis and Edward Harmon; second bass, Edward A. Fredendahl, C. L. Ary, Wilford W. Phillips, Jack Bain and Leo J. McQuaid.

DOZEN STATE REGIMENTS WILL BE MUSTERED OUT.

Orders Issued in Washington to Discharge Some Fifteen Thousand Guardsmen from the Federal Service—Forty Thousand Still in Camps—These May be Dispatched to the Border to Relieve Forces Now There.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Orders were issued by the War Department today for the discharge from Federal service as soon as practicable of twelve National Guard regiments comprising about 15,000 men, recently withdrawn to their home States from the Mexican border and a number of smaller organizations of some 1500 college and university students.

Orders for the mustering out of additional units are expected to follow soon. The next regiment to leave the Federal service will be the Fourteenth New York Infantry, which will go as soon as its members are freed from danger of paratyphoid contagion.

There are about 40,000 guardsmen still in State mobilization camps and these probably will be dispatched to the border very soon to relieve men now serving there.

Secretary Baker favors giving all the State troops a chance for the training to be acquired on the patrol line.

ON A NEW BASIS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Sept. 7.—Organization of the National Guardsmen on the border into provisional divisions will have to be started on a new basis, it was said at southern department headquarters here on receipt of news from Washington that 15,000 guardsmen returning to their State camps who should be taken from the Federal service.

The Ohio and Kentucky guardsmen who have just arrived at El Paso can be used at points west in the new plan of organization, but at stations along the Texas border which lost New York, Missouri, Maryland and Louisiana regiments, fresh formations will have to be devised.

Italians in Albania Disperse Enemy Detachments.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, Sept. 7 (via London, Sept. 8, 12:06 a.m.)—The French artillery fire south of the Somme has prevented the Germans from making a counter-attack, according to the official communication issued by the War Office tonight. Some additional progress for the French troops is recorded.

The statement reads:

"North of the Somme, in a trench recently captured, four bomb throwers and sixteen machine guns were added to the material previously brought in.

"South of the Somme the enemy, reduced to impotence by the violence of our artillery fire, was unable to make a counter-attack. East of Deniecourt we captured some new trench elements and took fifty prisoners.

"A German reconnaissance west of Maisons de Champagne was dispersed and some prisoners fell into our hands.

"On the right of the Meuse the enemy bombarded our new positions in the Vaux-Chapitre wood. During last evening's attack in this sector we captured 280 prisoners, including six officers.

"Aviation: On the night of September 8 sixteen of our bombarding aeroplanes dropped heavy bombs on railway stations, bivouacs and enemy stores at Reisel, Athis and Villecourt, a big fire being caused at the last-named place."

THE BERLIN REPORT.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BERLIN, Sept. 7 (via London, 5 p.m.)—Repeated attacks were made yesterday and last night by the French and British along the Somme front. Today's official announcement says Vermandovillers was entered, but that assaults at other points were repulsed.

"The battle of the Somme continues and fighting is taking place on the whole line," the announcement says. "The British continue to make vain attacks with especial stubbornness near Ginchy. The French again began to charge on their extensive attacking front, but before the northern portion of our line the attack broke down completely.

"East of the Meuse repeated French attacks against Thiaumont work and the wooded heights were repulsed."

St. Thomas and St. John are a part of the Virgin Islands, so named by Christopher Columbus. St. Thomas lies about thirty-six miles east of Porto Rico, with St. John to the eastward. St. Croix, the largest of the three, is forty miles south of St. Thomas in the Caribbean Sea. St. Thomas, an important coaling station and depot of trade with an excellent harbor, is twelve miles long east and west and from one to three miles broad.

St. John is eight miles long, east and west, and of irregular breadth. Its area is about forty square miles. It occupies an excellent position near St. Thomas and its port of Coral Bay on the east side is said to be the best harbor of refuge from cyclones in the Antilles.

St. Croix, also named by Columbus, is nineteen miles long, of irregular breadth and contains 51,990 acres, of which over 16,000 acres are devoted to the cultivation of sugar. Christiansted, commonly called the basin, is the capital city of the Danish West Indies and is situated at the head of an inlet on the north side of St. Croix. There are harbors at the capital and at Frederikstad, the second largest town.

The islands are inhabited mostly by free negroes engaged in the cultivation of sugar cane.

COTTON IS HIGH; BRITISH SCARED.

LIVERPOOL EXCHANGE LIKELY TO BE CLOSED.

Supreme Effort to be Made to Force Down the Price of Staple. Government Much Concerned Because All Europe is Reported to Have Run Short of the Material.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, Sept. 7.—The British government may close the Liverpool Cotton Exchange in order to lower the price of cotton. The government is much concerned over the cotton situation because Europe has run short of cotton and its needs are urgent. In the excitement over bad crop news and price advancement Liverpool has been more bullish than New York or New Orleans.

The British government has not viewed the sensational rise in prices with good grace. The British appetite, when contracted pretty well up to their capacity and, having little or no reserve stock, are not in a good position if, they have to buy heavily at present prices.

A week or ten days ago the British government sought to warn the Liverpool traders that prices had gone far enough and must not go higher, and it was hinted that unless a check was put to speculation the government would establish a maximum price beyond which there could be no legal transactions. The traders paid no attention to this hint. Cotton advanced to a pronounced degree the next day, and it kept rising until it has gone to the highest figure at this season of the year in forty years.

Then came the threat to close the Liverpool exchange. That was not to be blinked at or laughed at, and the advance not only was checked, but prices began to decline sharply.

APPEALS TO PRESS FOR CO-OPERATION.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 7.—In outlining the policy of El Pueblo, one of the leading newspapers of Mexico, under its new management, Herberto Barron, now its director, has made an appeal to the press of the United States and Cuba for co-operation in efforts to foster friendly relations among those countries. Asserting he has no doubt of the good faith and honorable intentions of President Wilson in regard to Mexico, he appeals to the President to withdraw the American punitive expedition so that the Mexican members of the joint commission now meeting at New London, Ct., will not be in the disadvantageous position of having to attempt a settlement of the differences between the United States and Mexico with "pistols at their breasts."

It will be the policy of El Pueblo, Senor Barron says, to convince foreigners that Mexico is friendly to foreign capital.

MUST SQUEEZE JAPS FOR INFORMATION.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Japan will not inform the United States of her new demands on China unless information is specifically requested.

Japanese officials here said today it was their belief that American rights neither were violated nor concerned and that Japan was under no more obligations to discuss the negotiations with this government than the United States was under obligation to discuss the Mexican situation with Japan. It was intimated, however, that information would be forthcoming if requested at Tokio.

State Department officials say their information still is too incomplete to allow them to form any decision. The demands as published are thought to admit of wide variance of interpretation.

Reports today tell of more disturbances in inner Mongolia caused by a recrudescence of banditry, together with an imperialist movement in conjunction with the unsuccessful southern republic revolution.

Master Bakers Favor Letting Bread Prices Remain Local Issue.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—The fate of the 5-cent loaf of bread was undetermined at adjournment of today's session of the Executive Committee of the National Master Bakers' Association.

The general sentiment was in favor of letting the price of bread remain a local issue for each city, instead of attempting to promulgate a general increase in price throughout the United States.

A committee was named to determine final action and report at tomorrow's session.

SHOPMEN AFTER THREE MILLIONS

Many Western Lines Resume Wage Negotiations.

Fewer Hours and More Pay, Men's Dual Demand.

Employees Deal with Roads Simultaneously.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Railway executives of twenty-two western lines today resumed negotiations at Chicago, Kansas City and elsewhere with representatives of 25,000 shopmen who are seeking higher pay and reduced hours.

The shopmen are negotiating with the roads simultaneously, but not collectively. The trades represented include machinists, sheet metal workers, blacksmiths and their helpers.

The demands, according to railway executives, are for an increase of 5 cents an hour in wages and for an eight-hour day. The increase and time reduction, according to railway officials, would total perhaps $3,000,000 a year. Where the open-shop policy obtains the railways are dealing with the shopmen not as unions, but as representatives of employees.

Contracts with some of the railroads expired last May, while others did not expire until September 1. The shopmen, it is stated, agreed to delay their negotiations until the trainmen's strike peril had reached a head or been eliminated.

Railway officials here said they did not believe any eastern railroads were negotiating with the shopmen at this time.

WISCONSIN INSECT REFUSES TO BE SPINELESS-CACTUSED.

Collegians' Efforts to Combine Pest with Honey Bee, with Object of Eliminating Former's Proboscis, Has Result Opposite than Intended.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

THREE LAKES (Wis.) Sept. 7.—Burbanking has been tried on the mosquito, with questionable success. So avers a fishing party on the chain of lakes in reporting the results of an effort to duplicate the Californian's stunt of making a spineless cactus on the spine of the mosquito.

Two young collegians, in camp where the fishing was good, found that the mosquitoes were biting as savagely as the bass, and also the honey bees were busy. The theory was that by breeding the bee with the mosquito the effect of smallpox vaccine might be achieved, and the virility of the bee sting and the mosquito's blood-sucking proboscis nullify each other.

The interbreeding worked; a mosquito was developed on the lines of the mosquito, but with the appearance of the bee. The experiment with the sting, however, was an utter failure. The amateur Burbanks discovered that instead of developing a mosquito without a sting, they had bred a mosquito which stings at each end of its anatomy.

GERMAN PREMIER QUOTED IN BERNE.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Sept. 7, 2:50 p.m.—According to definite information reaching Berne, Switzerland, from Germany, says a dispatch to the Wireless Press, Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, the German Imperial Chancellor, upon being questioned at the August meeting of the Federal Council as to why he yielded to the demands of the United States regarding the unrestricted torpedoing of ships on the high seas, replied emphatically that the value of the submarine was exaggerated by adherents of wholesale torpedoing.

The Chancellor said that insistence on an unrestricted submarine warfare would cause war between Germany and the United States, and that the results of unlimited torpedoing would not justify such a policy.

Elaborating on this point, the Chancellor is quoted as saying that Germany could not effectively blockade England nor cut off England's food supplies.

REYES'S FOLLOWERS TO CLEAN UP OAXACA.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHIHUAHUA, Sept. 7.—The remnants of the old army of Canuto Reyes, scattered throughout Southern Durango and Northern Zacatecas, have been successfully gathered together under the amnesty act and are entraining from Torreon and Guadalupe for Oaxaca, where, as loyal Carranza followers, they will be incorporated in the army of Jose Isabel Robles. Gen. Robles has been given the task of cleaning up Oaxaca, in the southern end of Mexico, where the rebels were little disturbed during the troubles with Villa and Zapata.

The people living in the mining districts of Federnales, west of Chihuahua, have armed themselves to resist any attacks by Villa followers.

HENRY FORD SUES CHICAGO "TRIBUNE."

COMPLAINS THAT THE PAPER CALLED HIM AN ANARCHIST.

Detroit Auto Manufacturer Asks for One Million Dollars Damages in Which Bill he Quotes from an Editorial that Offended Him—Declares He has been Ridiculed.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Suit for $1,000,000 was filed by Henry Ford, the Detroit manufacturer, against the Chicago Tribune in the United States District Court here today. Mr. Ford asks for personal damages as compensation for an editorial printed in the Tribune June 23, which it is charged called Ford an "anarchist."

The bill charges that the Tribune sought to bring the plaintiff into "public hatred, contempt, ridicule and financial injury" by publishing the editorial.

The editorial, it is charged, referred to Mr. Ford as "ignorant," a "deluded human being" and an "anarchistic enemy to the nation which protects him in his wealth." The editorial also charged that employes of Mr. Ford would lose their positions if they went to the border as members of the National Guard.

The bill quotes the editorial as saying:

"Ford is an anarchist.

"Inquiry at the Henry Ford offices in Detroit disclosed the fact that employees of Ford who are members of, or recruits in, the Naval Guard, will lose their places. Their wages will stop, their families may get along in any fashion possible, their positions will be filled, and if they come back safely and apply for their jobs again they will be on the same footing as any other applicants. This is the rule of the Ford employees everywhere.

"Information was refused as to the number of American soldiers unfortunate enough to have Henry Ford as an employer at this time, but at the Detroit recruiting office it was said that about seventy-five men will pay this price for their service to their country.

"Mr. Ford thus proves that he does not believe in service to the nation in the fashion a soldier must serve it." The editorial continues: "If his factory were on the southern and not the northern border, we presume he would feel the same way. We do not know precisely what he would do if a Villa band decided that the Ford strong boxes were worth opening and that it would be pleasant to see the Ford factories burn.

"If Ford allows this rule of his shops to stand he will reveal himself not as merely an ignorant idealist, but as an anarchistic enemy of the nation, which protects him in his wealth.

"An American so ignorant as Henry Ford may not understand the fundamentals of the government under which he lives.

"That government is permitted to take Henry Ford himself and command his services as a soldier if necessary. . . . He takes the men who stand between him and service and punishes them for the service which protects him. . . .

"The proper place for one deluded a human being is a region where no government exists except such as he affords. . . .

"Such a place, we think, might be found anywhere in the State of Chihuahua, Mexico. Anywhere in Mexico would be a good location for the Ford factories."

It is said that 100 indictments in all will be returned.

The amounts of the bonds of the men under arrest were placed at $1500.

Fairbanks Expected to Come to Pacific Coast.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—An incomplete itinerary for Charles E. Hughes's second speaking trip in the West was given out today by Manager Alvin T. Hert at western campaign headquarters of the National Republican Committee.

Mr. Hughes will go directly from New York to Peoria, Ill., Tuesday, September 19. He will go to Wisconsin September 20 and then to Indiana for a three-days' trip through the State. He will close his trip in the West with a two-days' trip through Ohio.

Mr. Hughes will make his third and last speaking trip of the western campaign in October, when he will visit Iowa, North Dakota, South Dakota, Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma and other States. No schedule for this trip has been arranged.

Harold L. Ickes, in charge of the Progressive bureau at western headquarters, announced today that he had received letters from hundreds of Progressive leaders in Western States pledging their support to Hughes and Fairbanks.

Mr. Fairbanks will open his speaking campaign at Springfield, Mo., Monday, September 11, and go from there to Oklahoma City, where he will speak Tuesday, September 12. He will then make a tour of the Western States, probably going to the Pacific Coast.

HUGHES REFERS TO THE ADAMSON LAW.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

HAMPTON BEACH (N. H.) Sept. 7.—Charles E. Hughes, in an address here today, referred to the Adamson law "not as an eight-hour-a-day law, but a wage law," and declared that failure of arbitration of the settlement of industrial disputes was but "another step from the abdication of government itself."

His audience applauded loudly.

"We cannot afford to surrender what we have won for our institutions in this country," the nominee said. "What have we won? We have won the right to free discussion, a free press, a democratic form of government, free assemblage, free Legislatures and an executive chosen by the people. We have left autocracy. We have left tyranny. We have left force. They shall not come back if we can present it.

"We have recently seen what I regard as a very deplorable surrender of that principle. I am for the arbitration of industrial disputes. That is in the interest of labor. Labor cannot afford to surrender that principle.

"We have recently had, at the proposal of the executive, an act passed by Congress confessedly in ignorance of the facts, confessedly in ignorance of what justice demands. It is not an eight-hour-a-day law. It is a wage law, and nobody knows whether it is just or not.

"Now, I am for justice in everything, but I propose that in all we do we shall investigate first and then legislate. Our methods in this country are of peculiar importance to us, because they are methods which conserve our peace. It is only one step from peaceful settlement of such disputes to the denunciation of our courts and all the machinery of peaceful settlement, it is only another step to the abdication of government itself."

THREATENING LETTERS RECEIVED BY JOHNSON

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 7.—Although two letters have been written Gov. Johnson threatening his life unless he leaves certain amounts of money in a designated place in this city, and although one suspect, Carmine Pfundi, is in the City Jail, the Governor declares the "whole thing is nonsense." In a statement issued tonight, he said:

"I think the whole thing is nonsense. Only crazy men would write such letters, and put them under my door. The best evidence they are crazy is that they demand $30,000 of me. I have been threatened so many times since I have been Governor that this sort of thing no longer bothers me. I am sorry there has been any publicity about it."

The first letter was found on the door of the executive mansion Monday night or Tuesday morning. It demanded $15,000 be left at Twelfth and L streets, near the Capitol, Tuesday night. The police watched the place and arrested Pfundi, who could give no explanation of his presence there.

This morning between the hours of 12 and 3 o'clock a note demanding $20,000 was dropped into the yard at the executive mansion. The Governor was closely guarded throughout the day, a dozen police watching his box at the mansion grounds.

Tonight Gov. Johnson confronted Pfundi at the police station, but the suspect struck to his original story, denying all knowledge of the letters.

GERMANY PLANS FOR TRADE WAR

Will Meet Competition of Her Military Foes.

Large Numbers of Ships are Already Being Built.

Factories to be Equipped for Maximum Output.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. — Germany's plans for rehabilitating her foreign and domestic trade are not being made without regard for the trade war her enemies propose to wage when the armed conflict is ended. Official dispatches today make it certain that the allied trade drive will be met by the active opposition of Germany.

While industrial Germany is reported as regarding lightly the threat of a trade war, there are many evidences of the physical preparations being made to resist it.

Large numbers of freight and passenger ships are being built, the reports say, and plans are being made on an immense scale to re-equip manufacturing plants with machinery of maximum efficiency.

IMPROVED PROCESSES.

One effect of the war, as seen in Germany, has been to improve processes and cheapen production. Women pressed into service as factory machine operatives to meet the drafts of men for the battle fronts are reported to have shown themselves much more efficient and have increased the productiveness of machinery, but in the interest of the general welfare it will not be the policy to keep them in factories during times of peace. The government agents, however, on the influence which the record of the women will have on the men returning to peaceful pursuits.

DYESTUFF COMBINATION.

Wide publicity recently has been given in Germany, the reports say, to a combination of several leading dyestuff and chemical concerns in the interest of better equipment and increased efficiency to meet the new commercial competition.

New commercial competition, standardization of factory processes and questions of marketing raw products are among the foremost considerations.

Recently it was announced in Germany the Krupps acquired several large and valuable mining properties in different parts of the empire and made plans for large extensions of its business, which include supplies of coal, copper and other ores.

RUMANIAN GARRISON'S SURRENDER EXPLAINED

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Sept. 8.—In addition of the capture of the Rumanian garrison at Turtukai, a Reuter dispatch to the Vossische Zeitung received here by way of Copenhagen says that the Rumanians were prevented from retiring across the Danube by the violent artillery fire of the attacking forces. It was a case of annihilation or surrender, and the garrison surrendered.

Enemy air raids were made Tuesday, according to a Rumanian Bucharest dispatch, against Constanza, Ploesti, Constanza, Kustendje, Plaitra, Neamtzu and Bacau. Rumanian public demands reprisals against enemy subjects, the dispatch says.

The American Embassy at Constantinople has assumed the protection of Rumanians in Turkey, according to a telegram from the Turkish capital received in Bucharest and forwarded by Reuter's.

PHELAN WINS FIGHT CALIFORNIA WINE

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 7.—Senator Phelan was successful, after all, in his fight for the California wine growers. The conferees on the revenue bill at the last minute today decided, on his earnest recommendation, to restore the tax on grape brandy and dry wines as it had been fixed by the House.

The Senate had fixed the grape brandy tax at 55 cents, a prohibitive figure, and the conferees cut it to 10 cents. The tax on dry wines, which had been raised to 5 cents by the Senate, was reduced by the conferees to 4 cents. The conferees, however, insisted on an advance of 25 per cent. for stretched wines, the resultant product, instead of

WILSON TO MOVE TO ASBURY PARK.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—All arrangements were completed today for the transfer of the executive offices of the White House from Washington to Asbury Park, N. J., tomorrow. For the first time since Mr. Wilson became President a complete staff of secretaries, clerks, telegraphers and other attaches will accompany him on his vacation.

Although President Wilson plans to spend most of his time at Shadow Lawn, the estate at Long Branch, N. J., he will go to Asbury Park as often as necessary to visit the executive offices and attend to public business. Because of Mr. Wilson's decision to make only a few political speeches away from Shadow Lawn, his campaign will be of the front porch variety.

WILSON SIGNS SHIPPING BILL.

GOVERNMENT TO BUY OR LEASE SEA TRADE LINES.

Organization of a Corporation with a Capital Stock of Fifty Million Dollars Authorized by the Measure to Which President has Just Officially Affixed Name.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Today President Wilson signed the shipping bill. It authorizes government organization of a corporation or corporations with capitalization of not more than $50,000,000 to buy or lease ships and put them in trade if they cannot be leased for operation to private capital.

Creation of a government shipping board to acquire and operate ships for rehabilitation of the American merchant marine is provided in the bill. The money is to be raised by the sale of Panama Canal bonds.

Amendments agreed to upon the last day the bill was before the Senate include one which would authorize the President to seek adjustment of foreign discrimination against American shipping through diplomatic negotiations and to take retaliatory action if such negotiations fail. Another authorizes the Treasury Department to withhold clearance from masters of vessels who deliberately refuse to accept freight from American citizens without satisfactory reasons.

As passed by the Senate, the bill previously having been approved by the House, the measure would create a shipping board of five commissioners. The board would be authorized, either directly or indirectly, through a corporation or corporations to be organized, to build, purchase, lease or charter vessels suitable for use in ocean commerce. Limitations upon these powers would prohibit acquisition of any vessel at the time engaged in foreign or domestic commerce of the United States unless it is to be withdrawn from such commerce by the owner without intention to return thereto within a reasonable time; the purchase of any vessel which is under registry or flag of a foreign country engaged in war, or acquisition of any vessel which would not be available for ocean commerce without unreasonable alterations.

The bill further authorizes the shipping board to organize one or more corporations, with a total capital stock not exceeding $50,000,000, the government, through the board, to subscribe for a majority of the stock.

A radical change in American merchant marine policy is provided in a Senate amendment permitting government-acquired vessels, whether foreign or domestic-built, to enter the coastwise trade of the United States.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Senator Smith of Georgia today introduced a resolution for Congressional investigation of commercial trade opportunities in China and the establishment of direct trade relations between the United States and that country.

The resolution was referred to the Foreign Relations Committee.

TO INCREASE OUTPUT OF NAVAL OFFICERS.

To Restore Tax.

PHELAN WINS FIGHT FOR CALIFORNIA WINE GROWER

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 7.—Senator Phelan was successful, all in his fight for the California wine growers. The conferees on revenue bill at the last minute decided, on his earnest solicitation, to restore the tax on grape brandy and dry wines as had been fixed by the House.

The Senate had fixed the grape brandy tax at 55 cents, a prohibitory rate, and the conferees cut it to 30 cents. The tax on dry wines had been raised to 5 cents by the Senate, was reduced by the House to 4 cents. The conferees, however, insisted on an allowance of 25 per cent. for stretching the product, instead of 25 per cent., as asked by Senator Phelan.

The original measure levied a tax of 4 cents a gallon on wine containing up to 14 per cent. of alcohol; 10 cents a gallon on wine containing between 14 and 21 per cent. of alcohol, and 25 cents a gallon on wine containing between 21 and 24 per cent. of alcohol. Wine containing over 24 per cent. of alcohol, none of which is made in California, was to be taxed as distilled spirits.

BOMBARDMENT OF BRUSSELS.

Details of the Attack Given by an Eyewitness.

Fifteen Aeroplanes of Allies Engaged, He Declares.

One of the Machines Brought Down by Germans.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

THE HAGUE (Netherlands) (via London) Sept. 7, 9 p.m.—Brussels was bombarded by a squadron of fifteen aeroplanes Wednesday, according to an eyewitness of the raid who has arrived here. He told the Associated Press correspondent he was sitting with friends in a hotel in the center of the city when the squadron appeared over the city. Anti-aircraft guns immediately went into action.

It then was 1 o'clock in the morning, he said, and some time previously soldiers had issued warnings for the extinguishment of all lights.

The aeroplanes were seen distinctly, he declared, and some flew so low that they seemed to touch the roof of the hotel, but their nationality was not made out. Guests in the upper rooms of the hotel fled hurriedly downstairs.

Intermittent bomb explosions and firing continued until daybreak. One machine, he added, was reported to have been brought down at Porte Louise, on the outskirts of the city. He said the damage done had not been ascertained when he left Brussels.

"This was the most important raid in a long while," he said. "Smaller affairs occur almost every other day. These frequent air visits by Entente aeroplanes hearten the Belgian people wonderfully, and inevitably lead to exaggerated notions of the impending departure of the Germans."

This is the first report of an air raid on Brussels Wednesday. The British official statement issued on September 4 reported that on the two preceding days British aeroplanes had made a raid on Hoboken, near Antwerp, and on a town near Bruges.

BRITISH AIR BOMBS RAIN UPON RAILWAY.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Sept. 8, 12:19 a.m.—The British official communication issued shortly before midnight says:

"The general situation is unchanged. Our artillery dispersed enemy working parties east and southeast of Ginchy. Between the Somme and the Ancre the enemy's artillery shelled the rear of our lines. Our artillery replied effectively.

"Between Souche and La Bassee Canal our artillery and trench mortars bombarded the enemy's lines continuously and northwest of Holbeke we effectively shelled the bridgehead of the Ypres Canal.

"Yesterday our machines bombed an important railway junction on the enemy's lines, causing great damage to the station and rolling stock.

"One of the enemy's aerodromes was bombed. One machine was destroyed on the ground. Many other points of military importance were bombed. Some good work was done from low altitudes in locating positions reached by our troops.

"Three hostile machines were wrecked and four others driven down in a damaged condition. Two of our machines are missing."

DECLINE COMMENT ON RIPLEY'S DEFI.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—Railroad officials here declined today to discuss the declaration made yesterday by President E. P. Ripley of the Santa Fe system that his road would refuse to recognize the Adamson eight-hour law for railroad employees until ordered to do so by the United States Supreme Court.

William S. Sproule, president of the Southern Pacific Company, said he had no comment to make. President Levey of the Western Pacific said that, inasmuch as the railroads had until January to think the matter over, they would have plenty time to consider every angle of the new bill before reaching any decision.

President Ripley's statement was widely discussed by members of the brotherhoods, but Samuel Veatch, general chairman of the Order of Railway Conductors, said he knew of no concerted plan on the part of the railroads to ignore the new law.

CROCKER EXPLORERS REACH BATTLE HARBOR.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BATTLE HARBOR (Labrador) Sept. 7. — The Greenfell mission schooner George B. Cluett, which went to the relief of the Donald B. McMillan Arctic expedition in July, 1915, has returned here. Only Capt. H. C. Pickles and the crew are aboard, McMillan, Dr. E. O. Hovey, who led the relief expedition, and the other scientists of the party having elected to remain for awhile in the northern part of Greenland.

Donald B. McMillan, the Arctic explorer, left New York July 2, 1913, in search of "Crocker Land," under joint auspices of the American Museum of Natural History, the American Geographical Society and the University of Illinois. With the explorer went Ensign Fitzhugh Green, United States navy engineer and physicist; W. Elmer Ekblaw, geologist and botanist; Maurice O. Tanquary, zoologist; Dr. Harrison J. Hunt, surgeon, and Jerome Lee Allen, wireless operator.

After establishing their base at Etah in the spring of 1914, McMillan and Green made the dash of 130 miles across the polar ice to supposed Crocker Land, which Admiral Peary, after returning from the North Pole, said he thought he had seen. Led on by the mirage that apparently had deceived Peary, they continued until satisfied that there was no land in the location described by Peary. Then they returned, Ensign Green having barely escaped death in an avalanche of snow.

Within twenty-four hours after they had left, the ice field on which they had traveled for days, according to reports sent by McMillan to civilization, became a seething, boiling mass of ice.

Although he had satisfied himself that Crocker Land did not exist, McMillan was not ready to return homeward, but, instead, elected to make a dangerous journey across the ice to Finlay Land, 1400 miles away.

For many months nothing was heard from McMillan, and in July, 1915, the schooner George B. Cluett, which had been chartered from the Grenfell Association by the Crocker Land Committee, left St. Johns, N. F., for Etah, Greenland, in charge of E. O. Hovey, chairman of the committee and the curator of geology in the American Museum of Natural History, to relieve and bring back the members of the expedition.

As a result of the unusually severe ice conditions on the west coast of Greenland and to engine trouble, the George B. Cluett was unable to penetrate farther north than North Star Bay and was compelled to spend the winter in Parker Snow Bay, 150 miles east of Etah.

In June of the present year another relief party was sent out by the Crocker Land Committee, the steamship Danmark being instructed to proceed to Etah, Greenland, to the relief of the members of the Crocker Land expedition and to land them with their equipment at Sydney or St. Johns. The Danmark also carried new machinery to replace that broken when the George B. Cluett was caught in the ice last year.

Three members of the original McMillan expedition are already in the United States. They are Dr. Maurice C. Tanquary, Jerome Lee Allen and Ensign Green.

WOULD AMEND CONSTITUTION.

Platform of the Suffragists Finally Decided Upon.

Women will Continue to Have a Lobby in Washington.

Address of Mrs. Catt a Feature of Day's Proceedings.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) Sept. 7.—After a long debate which carried the afternoon session of the convention well into the evening, the national American Woman Suffrage Association today adopted a platform, outlining its plan of campaign for securing the submission of the Federal suffrage amendment to the State Legislature for ratification.

It was decided that the next annual convention in 1917 be held in March or "thereabouts;" that a lobby be continued at Washington and that the association conduct a nation-wide campaign of education, agitation, organization and publicity in support of the Federal amendment. A $1,000,000 campaign fund is to be raised between October this year and October, 1917.

It was further agreed by the convention that no State association shall ask the Legislature of its State for the submission of an amendment or referendum to the people until the national board or executive council of the association shall have been given the opportunity to investigate conditions and give consent. Any State organization which proceeds to such State campaign without consent must be prepared to finance and conduct its campaign without help from the national body. Other steps also are to be taken to standardize and nationalize the woman suffrage movement.

IN A TANGLE.

The convention got into a tangle over the method of considering the platform, many parliamentary moves being made to postpone immediate consideration or to have the numerous items in it taken up seriatim. Intimations were made that a steam roller was being used to put the platform through the convention, but in the end it was adopted without amendment.

Then followed another debate on the resolution of President Carrie Chapman Catt, presented yesterday, which interprets the constitution to mean that the submission of the Federal amendment is the immediate and principal object of the association and that all State work is merely in preparedness to that end. This resolution had been made a special order for the morning session and was moved back until this afternoon. When it did come before the convention Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, former president, endeavored to have consideration again postponed until tomorrow morning. There was objection and the delegates plunged into a discussion of the resolution.

Finally many of the delegates became weary of the long session and when another motion was made to postpone consideration it was quickly adopted and the resolution was fixed for the first order of business tomorrow morning.

MRS. CATT SPEAKS.

The annual address of the President was one of the features of the day's proceedings, Mrs. Catt reviewing the suffrage movement in many states for years back. She declared that the Federal amendment should be the ultimate aim of the association and that the work in the States should be a programme of preparedness to win nation wide suffrage.

Many delegates told of difficulties of getting proposed constitutional amendments through the Legislatures. Mrs. Guilford Dudley of Tennessee, in favoring a Federal amendment said that one of the objections heard to it was that it infringed on the State rights.

She pointed out that many statesmen who opposed a Federal suffrage amendment as an invasion of State rights favored the amendment electing Senators by the people, the national prohibition amendment and the national child labor law, which she said are in the same class with regard to alleged infringement.

"And," she exclaimed, "President Wilson, the candidate of the Democratic party for re-election, defiantly said it gave him great pride to have signed the child labor bill."

The evening session of the convention was given over to listening to speeches by Southern women. It was called "Dixie Evening."

PAINS IN SIDE AND BACK

How Mrs. Kelly Suffered and How She was Cured.

Burlington, Wis.—"I was very irregular, and had pains in my side and back, but after taking Lydia E. I know your remedies have done me worlds of good and I hope every suffering woman will give them a trial."—Mrs. ANNA KELLY, 710 Chestnut Street, Burlington, Wis.

The many convincing testimonials constantly published in the newspapers ought to be proof enough to women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the medicine they need.

This good old root and herb remedy has proved unequalled for these dreadful ills; it contains what is needed to restore woman's health and strength.

Rival Fire Chiefs Sweep and Polish Brass to Hold the Job—Brawley Divided in Sympathy and Volunteer Firemen Oppose Change.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BRAWLEY, Sept. 7.—Brawley today holds the unique position of having two chiefs of her volunteer fire department. This condition came about through the refusal of Dan Rice to vacate his position at the request of Fire Commissioner Earl McReynolds, who yesterday named Ralph Myers of Pasadena to succeed the Chief.

"I asked Mr. Rice to resign as Fire Chief in the best interests of Brawley," declared Commissioner McReynolds.

"I won't quit," Chief Rice told the commissioner. "I want the Board of Trustees to discharge me first."

Commissioner McReynolds, under the present commission form of government here, is entirely responsible for the efficiency of his department. After demanding Chief Rice's resignation, Commissioner McReynolds appointed Mr. Myers, who arrived here today, to take charge of the department.

Rice appeared today still wearing the badge of his office and swept out the fire-engine house as usual. In this work he was aided by Mr. Myers, who also polished the metal of the fire truck. The newly-named Chief is drawing the pay for the office.

Members of the department, most of whom are well-known young business and professional men of this city, insist upon Chief Rice being retained. T. D. McKeehan, one of the most active firemen, is quoted today with saying he believed the members of the department would resign if Chief Rice is removed.

Talk is also heard of recalling Commissioner McReynolds for discharging Chief Rice. The question is expected to be settled at the next meeting of the City Trustees.

RIVERSIDE, Sept. 7.—Efforts to locate Miss Ramona Borden, daughter of Gail Borden, failed today, though it was expected she would be married in this city to Cole Parker, a Chicago attorney.

Friends and others interested have kept the County Clerk's office busy since morning answering telephone inquiries regarding the issuing of a license to the couple, but the office closed without the prospective bride and groom putting in their appearance.

It is thought friends are shielding the couple from the public and that they may seek out a nook in the Mission Inn for a marriage bower tomorrow.

Signal Hill Owners Excited Over Their Prospects.

Land Owners Approached by Those Interested.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, Sept. 7.—With the news that strong indications of oil had been brought to the surface by the drilling crew on Domingues Hill, there was a scramble today by Los Angeles men for oil leases on Signal Hill. Long Beach is experiencing its first oil excitement.

F. A. Ralph of Los Angeles headed the capitalists who are endeavoring to get leases on land for the purpose of boring for oil on the hill. More than a score of land owners, including George H. Hughes, have been approached with offers to lease, and many have put their signatures to the leases. As far as local geologists know, there are no indications of oil on the surface of the hill.

It is stated here that those who have put down the prospect hole on Domingues Hill have struck oil and in such quantities, and so heavily impregnated with oil, that they are sure that that hill, and possibly Signal Hill, will become one of the big oil-producing districts of Southern California.

A company of owners of Signal Hill property are busy forming a company to drill for oil on their own account, and it is understood that this concern will begin drilling within a month. Having refused the 8 per cent. royalty offered by the Los Angeles oil men, they propose to share and share alike if any oil is struck on their properties.

Considers Construction of Large Theater at Beach and May Select Ocean Park Site—Japanese Fishermen Report Big Catches.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 7.—Alexander Pantages, head of the vaudeville circuit bearing his name, is contemplating the erection of a "ten-twenty-thirty" house in the bay district.

Mr. Pantages, who is passing the summer at Ocean Park, says that he believes that the three amusement centers, Venice, Ocean Park and Santa Monica, afford excellent opportunities for theatrical enterprises, especially of the vaudeville type.

He has been investigating various sites and says that the heavy patronage given motion-picture houses on the bay show that a vaudeville entertainment here would receive support.

Mr. Pantages says that he believes Ocean Park, being centrally located, would present an excellent location, but it is known that other inducements might be offered him to locate elsewhere, should he carry out his tentative plans.

If a theater is built here, Mr. Pantages says, it will be modeled after the one to be built in Los Angeles, though considerably smaller.

BUILD UP YOUR BLOOD

It is a hopeless task to try to restore your health while your blood is deficient in quantity or quality.

The blood circulates throughout every portion of the body except the hair and nails. It takes the nourishment from the food and distributes it to the various muscles and organs; it takes also any medication that is administered through the mouth. The blood is the only means by which medicine can reach the nerves. If the blood is thin its carrying capacity is lessened because it is the red corpuscles in the blood that carry oxygen and other needed constituents to the various parts of the body.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People increase the red corpuscles in the blood. They enable it to absorb more oxygen, to carry more life and strength to the weakened organs. In any disease in which the patient becomes thin and pale Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can be used successfully to combat the anemia and build up the health and strength.

"Building Up the Blood" is a booklet, full of good information. Every mother and every growing girl should have one. It is sent free on request by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Price 50 cents.

KAISER HONORS BRAVE NURSE.

Iron Cross Wearer Tells Two Years' Experience.

Russia Treats Captives Well, Says Miss Butterfield.

She Plans Return to France After Visit Home.

Boaring the Iron Cross, with which she was decorated by Emperor William, and a record of nearly two years of service in hospitals of the warring European nations, Miss Bertha Butterfield, a member of the American Red Cross, left Los Angeles yesterday morning via the Santa Fe on the last lap of her journey to her home, which is in Cincinnati. Miss Butterfield started her trip July 3 at Petrograd, Russia, where she had been stationed nine months.

Miss Butterfield arrived here Tuesday morning from San Francisco and went directly to the home of her friends, Dr. and Mrs. Harry W. Bates, No. 2351 Echo Park avenue.

While in Petrograd Miss Butterfield had entire charge of the distribution of food and clothing to the German prisoners quartered in that city.

"There was no mistreatment of these men," said Miss Butterfield.

"They were given as much attention as the Russian troops. The saddest thing I saw while in Russia was a church service one Sunday morning some miles out from Petrograd. The men occupied one side of the church and the women the other. The people were arranged according to their ages, with the small boys and girls in the first pews and the old men and women seated in the last.

"The priest was as solemn as could be. He opened the services with a prayer for the Russian army. Between the front and back pews of the men's section there were many unoccupied spaces. This was caused by the absence of men who had enlisted, many of whom were already reported dead. The women's section was crowded from first to last. At the close of the services the priest prayed for the men who had sat in the empty pews and for the souls of those who had died.

"There is no preparation for peace in Russia. Instead there is preparation for war. The country is now becoming better organized, and each days sees some new project started for the purpose of aiding the army. This war is a big thing to the women of Russia. All of the men are not out yet, but the women are beginning to find themselves. The end of the war will be the start of a new era for the women of all the countries in the conflict."

Miss Butterfield was eleven months in one of the big hospitals at Vienna, which was often visited by Emperor Francis Joseph. It was for her services in this hospital that she received the Iron Cross from the German Emperor.

While en route to this country from Russia, Miss Butterfield passed through Japan and for a short time visited Peking, China. While in Peking she was received by former President Yuan Shi Kai.

Miss Butterfield intends to re-enlist as soon as she has had a slight rest. She hopes to be sent to France. She re-enlisted three times during her service in Russia and Austria.

WHEN YOU WAKE UP DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Wash the poisons and toxins from system before putting more food into stomach.

Says inside-bathing makes anyone look and feel clean, sweet and refreshed.

Wash yourself in the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do.

For every ounce of food and drink taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste material is not eliminated day by day it quickly ferments and generates poison, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream, through the lymph ducts which should suck only nourishment to sustain the body.

A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast each day, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons, gases and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside-bathing. Men and women who are accustomed to wake up with a dull, aching head, or have furred tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, sallow complexion, others who have bilious attacks, acid stomach or constipation are assured of pronounced improvement in both health and appearance shortly.

EIGHT-HOUR LAW CONCERNS PAY.

Railway Employees Wonder if It Means Less Money or Longer Work Days.

Passenger train crews running out of this city are greatly concerned as to what effect the Adamson eight-hour law will have on their pay and whether they will be forced to work a full eight hours to earn their present rate of compensation.

For example, crews running from San Francisco to San Luis Obispo now work seven hours on each run and only twenty days each month. If the law is interpreted strictly, requiring eight hours' work for all employees and the method of paying be changed from so much per trip to so much for each eight hours, the pay of this class of trainmen would be cut approximately in half.

R. J. Clancy, assistant to the general manager of the Southern Pacific, stated yesterday that the railroad officials had as yet made no study of the situation and are not in a position to say whether wage schedules will be changed to conform to the strict letter of the new law. W. H. Brewer, assistant to the general manager of the Santa Fe, is of the opinion that no change will be made.

ALL SILENT UPON EDISON DECISION.

COMPANY WON'T TALK; CITY'S COURSE PROBLEMATIC.

Award of Railroad Commission in Power Company Condemnation Case is Being Studied in Detail. Council Committee Favors Paralleling Existing Lines.

The Southern California Edison Company announced yesterday that it will have nothing to say in regard to the award of the State Railroad Commission until the city acts. The city is "sparring for time." City Attorney Stephens received the full decisions, majority and minority, last evening and took them home with him to study.

President Betkouski of the City Council asserted that nothing will be done until he returns from San Diego, where he is going tonight to represent the city at the exercises on the exposition grounds in honor of Admission Day.

He adheres to the statement he made night before last that the city will not pay a premium to the Edison company in the way of severance damages. In this attitude he is supported by other members of the Council, notably Councilmen Wheeler and Roberts.

Councilman Wheeler and Councilman Roberts, together with President Betkouski, form the Public Service Committee of the Council, and they unanimously stated yesterday that they are in favor of paralleling the Edison company's lines sooner than pay the amount, in round figures, of $1,500,000, awarded as severance damages.

"They are convinced it is useless asking the people to vote bonds for this purpose and they would sooner see a forest of poles in Los Angeles than ask the people to make up the amount which the State Railroad Commission considers a fair valuation of the Edison company's property.

Officials of the Edison company decline to say whether they will appeal to the State Supreme Court from the award of the Railroad Commission. The company can contest the constitutionality of the Public Utilities Act and it can also take action in the State Supreme Court to review the act of the Railroad Commission. It can apply to the Supreme Court for a writ of review if there is anything in the award that does not conform to the law, but the Supreme Court cannot change the amount of the award.

If the city intends to take over the property it must act within sixty days. It must institute an action in the Superior Court under eminent domain proceedings unless the Edison company files a stipulation agreeing to accept the award, which is not likely.

PORT SHIPPING SHOWS GROWTH.

Despite War and Canal Closing Tonnage Increases.

Large Lumber Imports and Oil Exports Help.

Private Ownership Preferable to City's Red Tape.

Thanks to larger lumber imports and fuel oil exports Los Angeles Harbor showed an increased tonnage last year despite the war, according to the annual report of Secretary Clarence W. Matson submitted to the Harbor Commission yesterday. Mr. Matson says:

"The total commercial tonnage of the port for the year increased more than 300,000 tons over the preceding year, and this, too, notwithstanding the fact that the closing of the Panama Canal and the war tremendously interfered with our Atlantic Coast and foreign commerce, while during the last month of the year the longshoremen's strike stopped nearly all shipments through the port except fuel oil. Had shipping been normal, the increase over the preceding year undoubtedly would have been very much greater than it actually was.

INCREASE IN TONNAGE.

"The tonnage movement in the year just closed, was 2,051,735.40 tons, compared with 1,739,548 tons in the preceding year, an increase of about 18 per cent.

"The increased tonnage was the result principally of larger lumber imports and fuel oil exports. The merchandise tonnage also would have been very largely increased had there been enough ships to carry it. Both the present and future offer tremendous opportunities to steamship owners for commerce through the Port of Los Angeles.

"The most serious drawback to the commerce of Los Angeles has been, and is at present, the shortage of shipping due to the war. This has not only cut off our water commerce with the Atlantic seaboard entirely, but it has also greatly interfered with our foreign commerce in general merchandise, just at a time, too, when both of these items ought to be increasing by tremendous bounds."

MUNICIPAL STEAMSHIPS.

Secretary Matson says there are numerous reasons why privately-owned steamships are preferable to municipally-owned and operated shipping, but he says if private capital does not engage in shipping the way is open for the city of Los Angeles to do so. He says:

"One of the principal arguments in favor of private ownership of steamships is the red tape and complications involved in municipal operation, and under existing circumstances I believe the municipality would be warranted in engaging in water transportation only if private capital fails to protect the city's interests in the transportation field.

"On the other hand, no matter how many privately-owned steamships Los Angeles might have had at the opening of the war—in coast-to-coast commerce, for example—the attractions of high rates elsewhere would have been so great that the ships would undoubtedly have been diverted or sold; but if such ships had been municipally-owned, the temptation of excessive profits would have been removed, and the ships would have continued in the coast-to-coast trade, with no advance in rates, to the untold benefit of Los Angeles commerce."

POLICE MUST PAY FOR ALL THEY GET.

MAYOR REFUSES GUARD AT DOOR OF HIS OFFICE.

Has no Time for Banquets Until City's Business is Transacted—To Select Best Men for Places Regardless of Recommendations, He Says.

Mayor Woodman doesn't want a guard and he does not desire a policeman stationed at the door of his office. He also says that if a policeman gets a cigar he should pay for it. Further, he announces that he does not intend to attend banquets unless he has plenty of time to do so.

The Mayor yesterday had J. L. Neighbors put back on the beat. Mr. Neighbors was the uniform guard at the Mayor's office under Sebastian. "I told Chief Snively I did not require a police officer on guard here," said Mayor Woodman.

"I want every man at the office to be placed on his beat. If a police officer buys a cigar at a cigar stand I want him to pay for it," he continued. "Perhaps police officers always have done that, but in any case it must be done. Police officers are not to accept favors from anyone.

"Where I find matters in connection with the police department are not in accordance with the regulations I shall correct them," he stated.

As to banquets the Mayor said: "I have received several invitations to banquets. It is some burden on a man to co-ordinate the different departments of the city so that the city's business can be run efficiently as a whole. I am going to pay attention to the city's business first, and then if I have time for social matters I will attend to them."

Speaking of filling offices later on the Mayor said: "I am going to select the best man I can find for the place regardless of recommendations."

SEARCHING FOR WILL OF EDITOR GILBERT.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN JOSE, Sept. 7.—Search for the will of Edward Gilbert, editor of the Alta Californian, killed in 1855 in a duel with J. W. Denner, then Secretary of State of California, was being made here today by H. A. Pfister, County Clerk. The search is being made at the request of Mrs. Emma McLean Lee of Flint, Mich.

In a letter to County Clerk Pfister, Mrs. Lee said Gilbert left his estate to the late Henry McLean with a provision, she believes, that it should in turn go to the latter's nearest relative. She is a cousin.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—The city and county of San Francisco are planning to operate auto busses for street traffic in connection with the municipal street railway, according to announcement made today by the Public Utilities Committee of the Board of Supervisors.

The first line will be across Golden Gate Park, connecting lines of the municipal railroad. Transfers will be exchanged.

The City Engineer's office was requested by the committee to prepare plans and specifications for the most desirable type of bus and announcement was made that the auxiliary service would be in operation before the end of the year.

"He died splendidly in action at Ypres August 31," the War Office telegraphed.

PORTLAND WANTS A CREDITS BANK.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Sept. 7.—Arguments in favor of locating a rural credits bank in Portland were presented here today at a hearing held by the Federal farm loan board.

General presentation of Portland's argument was made by J. D. Brown, president of the Farmers' Union. He said a district embracing Oregon, Washington and Idaho should be created, but even if a larger district were included Portland was the logical place for the bank.

STATE TO APPEAL HARKNESS CASE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—The State of California filed notice of appeal to the State Supreme Court today in a final attempt to collect an inheritance tax running into millions of dollars on the estate of L. V. Harkness, an oil magnate, who died a year ago on his ranch near Hollister, Cal. The Superior Court at Hollister held that he was a citizen of the States of Kentucky.

Affidavits were filed later to prove that the millionaire considered himself a resident of California.

According to U. S. Webb, Attorney-General of California, the tax sought to be collected is the largest in the history of the State.

CO-OPERATIVE MINE INSPECTION FAVORED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—An agreement for the co-operative inspection of mines such as has been maintained for the last two years was renewed today between the State Industrial Accident Commission and the United States Bureau of Mines.

Under this agreement, a copy of the renewal of which was sent to Washington for indorsement, the expense of the supervision of the State's mines will be shared by State and Federal governments.

Curious.

CAN YOU DO IT?

Defense of Officers Accused of the Theft of a Big Bill is that No One Can Tell Denomination of Currency Fifteen Feet.

Can a man standing in the door of a saloon tell a $100 bill held in the hands of another man at the bar fifteen feet away? That is the vital point in the preliminary hearing of Officers W. H. McMichael and Frank Dowdell, charged with grand larceny.

The officers were before Justice Brown Wednesday, and the facts as brought out were to the effect that Fred D. Grant laid the bank note on the bar and called for the drinks. It was jokingly observed that the bill was not worth 15 cents. One of the officers is alleged to have picked it up. It was not spent over the bar. The officers deny taking the money. They are represented by Attorney Frank Domingues, who laid great stress on the fact that it would be impossible to tell the denomination of a bill fifteen feet away, as one witness testified he did. The case was not concluded.

Practice Cruise Cut Short for Secret Reason.

Boys had Planned to Go to Hawaiian Islands.

Overland Club is to Present Honorary Trophies.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Sept. 8.—By changing the plans for the practice cruise of the battleship South Dakota, the United States Navy Department has disappointed half a dozen wealthy young men of Pasadena. When the young society leaders enlisted for the cruise it was the understanding that the ship would sail to Honolulu and return, but now it turns out that the vessel will not leave Southern California waters.

Ernest H. May, president of the Security National Bank, received a letter yesterday from his son, Ernest Crawford May, who is on board the South Dakota. The young man said that Los Coronados Islands off San Diego, had been visited in the practice cruise, and that apparently this would be the longest voyage to be taken. The government has canceled the cruise to Hawaii.

Among the other young men from Pasadena on board the South Dakota besides Mr. May are Harlan Christy, Thad Jones and Weslake Morse. The young men left home last week and are expected home on the 20th inst. The practice cruise is intended to fulfill the same function for the navy as did the Monterey training camp for the army.

The Overland Club is planning to give trophies to the young men who are preparing themselves to serve on board a warship in case of the emergency of war. The young men will be given a reception upon their return, at which time the mementoes will be distributed. The club offered a silver loving cup to the young man from Pasadena who made the best record at Monterey and the prize was awarded to Tod Ford.

Early yesterday morning, in a fog, Chief of Police McIntyre and Officer Shelton engaged in a spectacular foot race through an orange grove after two fleeing youths, and caught them. The boys, who are 15 years old, ran away from Juvenile Hall recently, and since then, according to alleged confessions, they have burglarized several Pasadena homes.

The lads were traced to a ranch in Lamanda Park. When the big police machine drove up in front of the house the boys ran out and dashed through an orange grove. The Chief and his escort jumped out of the machine and gave chase. In the race the Chief shed his overcoat. After a lively sprint of two blocks the youths were captured.

CITY BRIEFS.

Miss Mildred Baer, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Willis Baer, is at the Pasadena Hospital, where she underwent an operation for appendicitis yesterday morning. Her condition was regarded favorable yesterday evening. The young woman's illness cut short the vacation of the Baers, who were at Del Mar.

The Pasadena Welfare Bureau had the honor recently of furnishing a cook and a houseman for the executive mansion, occupied by Gov. Boyle of Nevada. It was due to the fact that Miss Leta M. Sewell, visiting nurse for the Pasadena school district, was on a vacation at Lake Tahoe that the employment bureau had a chance to demonstrate its efficiency. There Miss Sewell met the Governor's wife and learned of the urgent need for a cook at the executive mansion. The need was supplied at once.

Two hundred delegates to the Swedish saengerfest and convention in Los Angeles will attend a banquet to be held at the Maryland this evening. While there will be no concert programme following the banquet, several vocal selections will be given during the dinner.

Before permanganate of potash was selling at war prices the city health department bought a supply of 2300 pounds at a cost of $300. Yesterday 100 pounds of the potash sold for $150, one-half of the amount paid for the original consignment, leaving a five-year supply on hand.

Pasadena has entirely too many junk dealers in the opinion of the members of the City Commission. There are now about 100 dealing in junk and the officials believe that about one-fifth that number is sufficient. The Commissioners decided yesterday in executive session to impose a high license that will materially decrease the number.

IMPERIAL CROP PANS OUT WELL.

EL CENTRO, Sept. 7.—Imperial farmers are rejoicing over the steadily increasing prices of the valley's chief products. This is the cause for the comfortable feeling of prosperity: Cotton, 15 cents per pound; cottonseed, $30 per ton; butterfat, 35 cents per pound; hogs, 10 cents per pound; barley, $1.80 per sack. All of which tends to guarantee products this year variously estimated from $17,000,000 to $22,000,000.

Complaint Alleges that Millionaire's Ponies are Poorly Fed.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Sept. 7.—At the request of the Humane Society, a complaint was issued yesterday in Justice Strang's court against C. D. Hillman, millionaire and owner of an expensive home known as the Castle, charging him with neglecting to provide sufficient food for two Shetland ponies which are driven by his children. Mr. Hillman was not at home yesterday afternoon, but Mrs. Hillman characterized the charges as ludicrous and said that they were prompted by jealousy on the part of a neighbor.

"You should see the feed bills we pay," Mrs. Hillman said. "They would prove that we give the ponies plenty to eat. The ponies are rolling fat. They have the same ponies our children drove in the Tournament of Roses. It is a joke to say that they don't get enough to eat."

A Joy A Boy

Academy

One who has a strong body, a clear mind, and, above all, a clean heart; one who is courteous to old age and respectful to father and mother; one who has kept his soul sweet.

Parents, to get such results as these is the greatest work in the world—and these are some of the things which my school is emphasizing. The highest recognitions from the Government and from Universities have been secured in less than six years' time, but I have not yet reached my own ideal. But I am working earnestly and enthusiastically to make it such a school to which you can gladly entrust your boy, as many loyal patrons have been doing.

Freetas Girl Safe.

That Margaret Freetas, 16-year-old Oakland girl who was supposed to have been kidnaped last Monday by representatives of the underworld when the steamer Governor docked at Los Angeles Harbor, did not quit as expected was the text of a telegram received by her brother, Charles Freetas of the St. Claredon Hotel, yesterday. Miss Freetas is still in San Francisco. She was to have visited her brother here and as he had not seen her for five years he was unable to decide whether or not she was among the passengers who left the steamship at the harbor last Monday. As a girl of her description was seen entering a taxicab with another woman, it was supposed that Miss Freetas had been abducted.

LURE OF SCENE NETS CRIMINAL

Draws a Youth Back to Sure Reckoning

His License Number and Officer Nabs Him

Boy Confesses Earlier "Glad it's Over."

The indefinable "pull" that brought thousands of criminals to the scene of their crime years of absence was responsible for the arrest last night of Wm. J. Wynn, a 20-year-old boy, who escaped June 29, 1914, from the County Hospital, where he was on trial on a charge of grand theft.

The arrest of young Wynn accomplished through the thinking of Motorcycle Officer [illegible] who at the time thought he caught a new thief and a dream he had landed a [illegible] whom the police department had been searching for the past years. Flinn and Owens, the officers, were operating a speed trap on Main street, near Fifth, when a small car sped by at the rate of eight miles an hour. Ordinarily the officers would have caused the driver, but Flinn noticed the car's number registered 204,341, a number far above the highest issued here for some time. He overtook the driver, who gave the name of Parker, and questioned him. The satisfactory answers failed to bring the youth to police headquarters.

At this point the officer's memory of Lieutenant of Police Chapman came into play. Chapman remembered the car, but could not place it until he examined police bulletins of two years ago. Here a full report, with a picture attached, of young Wynn was found.

The young man confessed immediately and breathed a sigh of relief.

"I am glad it's all over," he said. "Two years ago I walked out of the County Hospital. There was no one who questioned me, and I did have handcuffs on.

"They had me charged with stealing electric batteries from a garage. I did it all right. I am glad that the chase is over and I can do my time. I had a handcuff still on each wrist in San Pedro by catching on to the back of passing motor car. Then I got down by the water front and under a pier and knocked the irons lets off.

"For the past two years I have been knocking about the west and somehow I wanted to come back to Los Angeles, and finally succeeded in doing so. I couldn't stay away any longer."

Young Wynn declared he obtained the automobile with which he [illegible] licenses number in San Pedro "where a man had given it to me." He said he had been in the County Hospital recuperating from a shot wound inflicted by a jealous heart.

WHIFFEN-KUCK SCANDAL A "PROGRESSIVE" MESS.

Grand Jury to Investigate the Effort to Peddle the Mayoralty.

WHEN F. J. Whiffen made the charge Wednesday that a former State Assemblyman had tried to secure the position of deputy for him if he would pay for the services he stirred up a veritable hornet's nest among the politicos. Developments came in rapid succession yesterday, resulting in prompt action by the District Attorney and the calling of a session of the Criminal Complaints Committee of the grand jury for this morning.

Arthur G. Kuck, a real estate operator and former member of the State Legislature, who was the Progressive candidate for State Senator against Harry Chamberlin, was described yesterday by Mr. Whiffen as the man who he says attempted to bribe him. Soon after this announcement became public Kuck was summoned to the office of the managing editor of the Express-Tribune, where he was confronted by Whiffen and others. This conference was one of the most interesting scenes of the whole mess.

Those present are the men for whom subpoenas were issued late yesterday by Deputy District Attorney Woolwine, Lieutenant T. Earl, Harley W. Brundige, political writer of the Express-Tribune; Lieutenant Hoskins, managing editor; Arthur G. Kuck, F. J. Whiffen, Deputy District Attorney Martin F. Betkouski, F. J. Cryer, T. Brain, J. S. Conner, Mrs. Estelle Lawton Lindsey, Mr. Roberts, F. C. Wheeler, John Whiffen and F. C. Wright; Lorin Handley and Owen McAleer, members of the Board of Public Works; Robert Allen, who was a candidate for the job given to Mayor Woodman; Frazier, John Doe and Richard Roe.

At the office of the Tribune-Express Kuck denied the charge hurled by Whiffen. He reiterated the vehemence he showed when under a fire of questions later in the day in the office of Deputy District Attorney Doran.

Following the meeting in the newspaper office Mr. Whiffen, who was accompanied to the office by J. W. Vickers, a lawyer who occupies offices with Mr. Whiffen, said:

"After we got there we found he (Brundige) had brought in not only Mr. Kuck, but a representative from the District Attorney's office, Mr. Cryer. He was present, and several persons connected with the Tribune and Express, including Mr. Brundige, Mr. Miller, Mr. Hoskins and two stenographers, one of whom is Mr. Earl's private stenographer."

Continuing Mr. Whiffen said: "Mr. Kuck denied being at my office at all on Monday. He denied the matter of the Mayoralty was discussed between me and him at all in any manner, but that he had come to my office Tuesday for the purpose of seeing me about a piece of real estate owned by Mrs. Hovey. He said he was only in the office about five minutes.

"I was surprised to find Mr. Kuck there, but I was glad of it, because I wanted to hear what he had to say for himself. Mr. Brundige acted as a sort of chairman and Mr. Cryer did most of the examining. Mr. Brundige, however, asked some very leading questions that were proper."

Mr. Vickers said that at the conclusion of the meeting Mr. Hoskins said that four candidates altogether had been approached. As to Mr. Cryer Mr. Vickers said: "I think Mr. Cryer was not quite sure what he was doing there; he said he was asked to come down."

Mr. Whiffen concluded by saying: "After the inquiry Mr. Brundige said, 'It looks like it was one statement against another.'"

FROM THE COUNCIL.

All members of the City Council denied any knowledge of the alleged activities of Kuck. One member, however, did say he would as leave believe Kuck as Mr. Whiffen.

When Mr. Whiffen told his story to Deputy District Attorney Doran he related minute details of the affair elaborating his statement published in The Times yesterday. After reciting the alleged circumstances surrounding the two visits he says were made to him by Kuck, Mr. Whiffen told of a meeting he had with Martin Betouski and John Topham, City Councilman, at which the Kuck matter was brought up by Mr. Betkouski.

Asked by Deputy Doran how he happened to meet the two Councilmen, Mr. Whiffen said the appointment was made through Henry Frazier, a reporter for the Express-Tribune. He said Frazier had taken an interest in the Mayoralty question because of his friendship for him (Whiffen.)

Kuck's statement to Deputy Doran was not so lengthy. When asked if he is running for State Senator he replied:

"I suppose I was before this happened."

Kuck, after denying in toto the charge made by Mr. Whiffen, told how he happened to go to the office of the Express-Tribune. He said:

"Mr. Brundige called me up to get my story. He said, 'Can you come down to my office?' and I said yes, and I went down. He asked me if I had any objections to Whiffen's being called to the meeting and I told him I had not."

Kuck said he had never discussed the matter of the appointment of a new Mayor. He admitted, however, that Whiffen was his choice. He said he knows all of the Councilmen in a way and "I know Roberts (another Progressive) very well."

Councilman Topham, who has been mentioned as a candidate for Chief of Police, is preparing to leave the city today. He is going to Minneapolis to attend the convention of the National Association of Stationary Engineers. The action of the District Attorney in having him subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury may upset his plan.

THREE OTHERS?

Mr. Whiffen said that he was told in the office of the Express-Tribune that three others had been approached by someone who offered to land the job of Mayor for them if they would dig up $2500. The trio were reported to be Lorin Handley and Owen McAleer, members of the Board of Public Works, and Robert Allen.

Mr. Allen admitted that someone had called him up by telephone and made such a proposition and he thought he knew the man's name.

Handley and McAleer denied they had been approached. Mr. McAleer said:

"No man in California who knows Owen McAleer would make such a proposition to him. My reputation and character is such that no one would give such a serious matter a moment's thought. Any man attempting to bribe me would land on the floor quicker than you could say Jack Robinson."

KUCK IS IDEAL OF JOHNSON.

Governor Lauded Him to the Skies and Urged All to Vote for Him.

Arthur G. Kuck, former "Progressive" Assemblyman, whom F. J. Whiffen accuses of an effort to peddle the Mayoralty, is the man who was eulogized by Gov. Hiram Johnson at a meeting at Manual Arts High School during the campaign two weeks ago.

Kuck was a candidate for State Senator, and the Governor praised him to the skies, urging everyone to get out and vote and work for him, referring especially to the assistance which Kuck had afforded in the furthering of the "Progressive" legislative programme.

At the same meeting Kuck pledged himself to work for the interests of the masses as opposed "to the special interests now seeking to gain control of the government."

He Has Been Making Our Laws.

Arthur G. Kuck, "Progressive" legislator,

Who is accused by F. J. Whiffen with an attempt to sell him (Whiffen) the job of Mayor of Los Angeles for $2500, to be paid out of the perquisites of the office. Kuck denies it but admits that he went to Mr. Whiffen's office at the time mentioned.

Outspoken.

WOOLWINE'S STATEMENT ON MAYORALTY SCANDAL.

THE following statement was made last evening by Dist.-Atty. Thomas Lee Woolwine regarding the Whiffen-Kuck matter:

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 7, 1916.

As another evidence of the intermeddling of E. T. Earl with the sworn duties of the officers of the law in this county, he has had his employees call Mr. F. J. Whiffen and Mr. Arthur G. Kuck down to the Express office, and had their statements taken as to the recent charge of Mr. Whiffen to the effect that Kuck had guaranteed him the Mayoralty for a consideration. Earl's employees asked Mr. Cryer to come there and be present when the statements were taken, and, to my amazement, I learned that Mr. Cryer had gone to the Express office and was present at the meeting when the statements were taken. At the same time one of my deputies, Mr. Doran, by means of secret service operatives, was searching all over the city in an effort to locate Whiffen and Kuck for the purpose of having them come to the District Attorney's office to give statements in relation to this matter.

I have the utmost faith in Mr. Cryer. I would stake my life upon his absolute integrity and courage, but it was, to say the least, an error in judgment for him to participate in any proceeding that E. T. Earl has anything to do with, and I am sure that if Mr. Cryer had known Earl as I know him he would have had these men come to the District Attorney's office instead of going to the Express to listen to what they had to say.

Mr. Cryer was simply induced to be present at these proceedings in the Express office, because it was his belief that a representative of the District Attorney's office should be present to guard the interests of the public during the taking of such statements, and he was at the time unaware of the fact that the District Attorney had already placed the matter in the hands of Mr. Doran and that search was being made by Mr. Doran for Messrs. Whiffen and Kuck, with a view of having them come to the District Attorney's office, in preparation of a grand jury investigation.

This whole matter will be investigated fully, and subpoenas have been issued already for a number of witnesses.

[Signed] THOMAS LEE WOOLWINE.

Circumstantial.

WHIFFEN MAKES FORMAL STATEMENT ON CHARGES.

In Account to Deputy District Attorney He Tells His Version of Alleged Offer to Sell Mayor's Job—Conference Arranged with Councilmen by "Express-Tribune" Man is Detailed.

FOLLOWING is a verbatim report of a formal statement made yesterday to Deputy District Attorney Doran by former Councilman F. J. Whiffen relative to charges that A. G. Kuck offered to deliver the Mayoralty for a sum of money:

Question: Now, Mr. Whiffen, will you be kind enough to make a statement in your own words about this matter?

Answer: Yes, sir, I will. On Monday last, about 2 o'clock in the afternoon, Mr. Kuck came to my office; Monday being a holiday, there was no one there but him and myself. He came into the office and he said: "I have a proposition to make to you that is of great importance and I want you to promise me that this will be strictly confidential." I had my curiosity aroused and I consented to his request. He then proceeded to state that he came representing the City Council and that I could be Mayor of the city if I would pay a certain amount of money and permit them to name the Chief of Police. I said to him: "I am surprised that you would approach me upon such a proposition as this. I would not consider it for a minute; I resent your coming here with such a proposition to me, and you will greatly oblige me if you will take your hat and get out." "Now," he said, "Fred, don't get angry about this. Let's talk it over; let's reason this matter." He said: "You were a candidate for Mayor in the last city election and you spent money with the hope of being elected. This is a similar proposition. I don't think it is any worse in one case than another." I said to him, "I think the cases are not parallel at all — entirely different."

ASKS SUM WANTED.

He talked along in a persuasive manner at some length. Finally I said: "What amount is it that is being demanded? I want to know. You are not prepared to make a deal until we know what amount."

He said the amount had not been made.

Then I said: "I think you had better go and get the amount that is required, and when you have that you come back here and I will talk with you." I wanted to talk with him further. After more conversation upon the matter he went away.

The next day (Tuesday) he called me up over the phone and the stenographer answered and put me on the phone, and he asked if he could see me, and I said, "Yes, come right over," and he came over. Mr. Vickers, who has a desk in the office with me—a young attorney—was there, and I said to Vickers, "Mr. Kuck is coming over here." I had previously told Mr. Vickers all of this story, excepting the man's name. Of course, Mr. Kuck didn't want anyone in the room with me when he made the proposition on Tuesday, so I said to Mr. Vickers, "I suppose you will have to vacate the room while Mr. Kuck is in here," and, when the stenographer notified me that Mr. Kuck was waiting in the reception-room to see me, Mr. Vickers says, "I better get out," and he got up and stepped out, and Mr. Kuck and he met in the doorway.

AMOUNT IS NAMED.

Mr. Kuck came in and he at once brought up the matter, naming the amount. Twenty-five hundred dollars was the amount demanded and that they name the Chief of Police. "Well," I said, "Kuck, have you any other proposition along this line to make?" "No," he said, "nothing else." Then I said: "I don't think I want to talk with you any more. I simply reiterate with reference to my position just what I told you on Monday." (Now, these weren't just the words I used, but substantially to that effect.) He still wanted to talk over the matter further, as he had wanted to on Monday, as though he would persuade me to change my mind. Of course, I would not consider any proposition he would make. He said: "You know this money will not have to be paid now; it can be paid as it comes in." I don't know what he meant and didn't inquire of him what he referred to, where it was to come in from or whom it

PAY MILLIONS FOR CORNER.

Ground Lease Signed for Big Theater Building.

Mighty Office Structure for Third and Broadway.

Notable Impetus to Northern Business District.

A ninety-nine-year ground lease on the southwest corner of Broadway and Third street was signed yesterday by the Stability Building Company and Fred S. and Charles D. Stimson of Seattle, owners of the site, under the terms of which a magnificent nine-story theater and studio building will be erected, construction to begin within sixty days.

Negotiations for the enterprise were begun six months ago, being fostered first by the Business Stability Association, which was organized several years ago to promote the interests of the established business center of Los Angeles and to stabilize existing downtown values.

Later, several members of the association undertook the active financing of the project, after having arrived at an understanding with the owners of the site, and, their efforts proving successful, they organized and incorporated as the Stability Building Company.

All the necessary money having been pledged, there remained only the final step of obtaining the signatures necessary to make the ground-lease agreement and other details legally binding.

THOSE INTERTSTED.

The Stability Building Company is composed of twenty-six prominent individuals and concerns interested in business property in the downtown district north of Fifth street.

The stockholders are Homer and Guendolen Laughlin, the O. T. Johnson Corporation, Gladys Blicke, the estate of George D. Rowan, the Bradbury Estate Company, the Times-Mirror Company, Charles C. Chapman, Eli P. Clark, A. P. Johnson, Charles D. Blaney, Charles A. Winship, the Central Properties Company, the Southern California Music Company, F. P. Fay, the Mason Company, Marie Zobel Isaacs, Mrs. Nellie Shannon, C. J. Fox, John Luckenbach, C. R. Rossart, F. R. Lee, V. R. Burden, V. R. Burden, the Blicke-Rowan interests and R. A. Rowan.

Homer Laughlin, Jr., is president, A. P. Johnson and Eli P. Clark vice-presidents and Miles S. Gregory secretary. These, with Charles C. Chapman, R. A. Rowan, Fred W. Flint, Jr., Roy R. Clark, Frank J. Hart and L. F. Kelly, constitute the directors. Mr. Laughlin, Mr. Johnson and Mr. Clark are the members of the special building committee which will look after the selection of an architect and other details connected with the construction.

The building will be one of the largest in Los Angeles, having a frontage of 120 feet on Broadway by a depth of 194 feet on Third street. It will be of fireproof construction, the framework being of concrete and steel and the floors and partitions probably of hollow tile.

It is the intention of the projectors that the structure shall be, in an architectural sense, one of the strikingly beautiful and imposing buildings of the country. The successful architect will be selected from a large field of applicants, as the interest in the plan among the designers has been keen ever since it became apparent that the project was likely to go through.

Certain details of arrangement have already been definitely determined upon. The building is to contain a splendid theater with a seating capacity of more than 3000 persons, and designed to serve not only as a motion-picture house, but for grand opera, important stage spectacles and great public meetings.

The stage, it is stated, will be the largest west of Chicago and the theater as a whole the finest of its kind on the Pacific Coast. The Broadway frontage will contain a number of modern stores and similar provision is made for the Third-street side. The upper stories will be devoted to studios and offices. Negotiations for a tenant for the theater are under way and the company already has been approached by many seeking store and office space.

Approximately $3,000,000 will be paid in ground rental for the site during the life of the lease, the annual payment being $30,000. The building will cost $600,000, which amount has been subscribed in full. The project is in every way one of the most important ever announced in Los Angeles, and, according to authentic accounts, will be but the forerunner of other big structural enterprises in the northern section of the business district.

LESSORS TAKE STOCK.

The owners of the site are to be interested in financial way in the building that covers their corner, as well as being the lessors of the ground. The two men are the sons of the late T. D. Stimson of this city, during his life one of the heaviest owners of real estate in downtown Los Angeles, his holdings having included, in addition to the large site at Third and Broadway, the northwest corner of Third and Spring, the northeast corner of Seventh and Spring and several highly valuable inside properties on Broadway and Spring and Main streets. Other heirs live in this city.

The Seattle members of the Stimson family removed to the northwest city a number of years ago, becoming heavily interested in realty there. Among their holdings in the city of their adoption are the Colonial and Liberty theaters, two of the finest playhouses on the Coast. Last night, following the signing of the papers for the Third-street and Broadway lease, the two northwest capitalists boarded a Southern Pacific train for home.

TROUSSEAU FOR SOME MERMAID.

Minister's Bride Loses Her Wedding Finery Over Steamer's Edge.

The pleasure that comes in digging into an old trunk and resurrecting one's wedding garments will never be for the Rev. E. Nelson Allen, pastor of the South Hollywood Presbyterian Church, or his bride of a month, formerly Miss Lina Lineham of Portland. Reposing in the silt of San Pedro harbor is the bride's trousseau, hand-made and valued at $500.

When the steamship Governor was unloading baggage last evening the huge wardrobe trunk in which the honeymooners' clothing was packed slipped from the net. In falling the trunk was smashed on the steel edge of the ship's side. It plunged into the harbor, floated away, and, when filled with water, sank into the mud.

Mr. Allen and his bride, who was a well-known Portland singer, were married in that city August 9.

DELEGATES TO TEXAS.

International Irrigation Congress at El Paso Needs Five Los Angeles Citizens—President Wilson to Dedicate Elephant Butte Dam.

"Wanted — Five representative, highly-intelligent, public-spirited and prosperous citizens. Must be willing to work for nothing and pay own expenses to El Paso and return. Apply to Frank Wiggins, secretary, Chamber of Commerce."

This opportunity for temporary employment in public work came yesterday with the announcement from the International Irrigation Congress, which holds its twenty-third annual session October 14 to 18, that the Los Angeles chamber is entitled to five delegates. Members experienced in irrigation work are desired.

There will be plenty of interest in the meeting, as the Elephant Butte dam, the largest of its kind in the world, is to be dedicated, with President Wilson making the principal address. There are 60,000 soldiers maneuvering around El Paso, and the trip to Old Mexico can be made for a jitney.

NEW ATTACKS ON PROMOTER.

Gaylord Wilshire Again Put on the Defensive.

Improper Transfer of Great Property Alleged.

Six Thousand Stockholders, Big Sum Involved.

After winning preliminary skirmishes in the courts, stockholders in the Bishop Creek Milling Company yesterday brought an action in the United States District Court which involves the transfer of the Bishop Mine in Inyo county. The stockholders in the new litigation are Charles C. Land, Oscar Dahmer, P. J. Costigan, Anton J. Peacock, August Buschbaum, Fred Moser and N. P. Littleholm, who say they own stock in the Bishop Milling Company. The defendants named are Gaylord Wilshire, Mary Wilshire, H. A. Kearns, the Inyo County Bank, Wilshire Bishop Creek Milling Company, Bishop Creek Gold Company, Bishop Creek Extension Gold Company, Rocky Point Consolidated Mine Company and the Consolidated Wilshire Mining Company.

The prayer of the bill is that the property of the Bishop Mining Company be reconveyed to the Bishop Creek Milling Company; requiring the reconveyance also of $200,000 of the common stock of the Bishop Creek Mining Company, an injunction against Gaylord Wilshire and others from transferring any of the property belonging to the Bishop Creek Milling Company or the Wilshire Bishop Creek Company; that the conveyance of the Bishop Creek mine to the defendants be declared null and void, that a receiver be appointed for the property and an accounting made.

The offices of the several companies headed by Gaylord Wilshire are at Bishop and most of the mining property is in that vicinity. The first company of the group, organized in 1900 was capitalized at $25,000,000 or 5,000,000 shares at a par value of $5 each. This was the Bishop Creek Gold Company. In 1910 the Bishop Creek Milling Company took over the stock of the original company and still later, in 1915, the parent company was absorbed by the Wilshire Bishop Creek Company. After the last transfer of stock an assessment of 5 cents a share was levied. This assessment was supposedly for the purpose of paying an accumulation of debts. The stockholders, how-

SEND RESIGNATIONS.

Charities Commission Members and Health Commissioner Tender Formal Notices to Mayor, but He Refuses to Accept Them.

Dr. Millbank Johnson of the Charities Commission and the other members of the board forwarded their resignations to Mayor Woodman yesterday and urged their immediate acceptance. Dr. Powers, Health Commissioner, also sent in his resignation. The Mayor declined to accept any.

"I am not taking any resignations at the present time," he said. "I do not care to do so. I want to investigate every department thoroughly first."

The members of the Charities Commission wrote the Mayor that they have suggested a new ordinance providing for a new commission, they have worked out the experimental details sufficient to demonstrate the value of a general scheme of charitable regulation and supervision by the city, and if their proposed ordinance is adopted the scheme will have passed the trying stage.

Therefore, they say, they believe they have performed the functions for which they were appointed, and they deem it opportune that their resignations be accepted by the Mayor immediately.

Whiffen-Kuck Statements Give Each Other the Lie Direct.

Formally.

KUCK DECLARES HE'S INNOCENT.

Makes a Statement to Deputy District Attorney.

Specifically Denies He Put up Sell-out Offers.

Affirms He Doesn't Know Why Whiffen Accuses Him.

Arthur G. Kuck, whom former Councilman Whiffen charges made an offer to deliver the office of Mayor for a sum of money, yesterday made in the presence of Deputy District Attorney Doran and Detective Hunter of the District Attorney's force, a formal statement relating to the accusations. Exclusive of a score of cross-examination questions that developed no new data, the statement is verbatim as follows:

Question: Your name is Mr. Kuck?

Answer: Arthur K. Kuck, 633 Black Building.

Q.: You are running for State Senator?

A.: I suppose I was before this happened.

Q.: You are on the ticket?

A.: Yes, sir. Now shoot; anything you want to know, ask me. I don't know what to say to you without you do.

Q.: Now, according to the newspaper accounts this morning Mr. F. J. Whiffen claims that you came up to see him and that for $2500 you would see that he was appointed Mayor.

A.: That is the statement he makes in the papers.

Q.: Now, what I want to know is whether or not that statement is true.

A.: Absolutely not. I never made any statement of any nature at all.

Q.: You have already met Mr. Whiffen since coming down to the Express Building and you have threshed the matter out down there with Mr. Cryer?

A.: Mr. Cryer went there.

Q.: How did you happen to go down there?

CALLED TO MEETING.

A.: Mr. Brundige called me up to get my story. When I got to the office this morning the call was on my desk, and I called him and he said, "Can you come down to my office," and I said, "Yes," and I went down. We began to talk about the matter and he said, "Why not have Whiffen down here; have you any objections?" I said I had none whatever, and he called up Mr. Whiffen who agreed to come down. We didn't talk of the matter then, while we were waiting. There were several others there in the office. I don't know who they were. Someone suggested that it might be a good thing to have the District Attorney's office represented. They asked if I had any objections and I said I had none. They called up Mr. Cryer and succeeded in having Mr. Cryer come. They all came into the room, in Mr. Brundige's office, Mr. Cryer, Mr. Whiffen and the rest of them that were there. I can't tell you who they were. Mr. Whiffen made his statement, similar to what was made in the paper, and I absolutely denied it.

Q.: That was about all that was done or said?

A.: Mr. Cryer asked some questions bearing on the situation.

Q.: Now, how long have you known Mr. Whiffen?

A.: Oh, years and years.

VISIT TO WHIFFEN.

Q.: Mr. Cryer tells me you have been down to see Whiffen a couple of times at his office.

A.: I was down to see him once.

Q.: When was that?

A.: Tuesday.

Q.: What was the purpose of your visit then?

A.: I have been trying to locate a lease on a building on Vermont avenue for a business proposition; at one time I had a conversation with Mr. Whiffen regarding some property owned by a Mrs. Hovey. I think he was her agent and I called in there and asked his opinion in regard to the condition of the property. Mrs. Hovey has been dead some time and I didn't know the condition of the property. That deal now is practically concluded. I have a check in my pocket now.

Q.: Was anything said about the Mayor's office?

A.: Simply what anybody might make to any other person. Personally, I favored Mr. Whiffen for the election; I have worked for him every time he ran for the Council. Woodman's name had not been mentioned in the papers up to that time. Of all the men mentioned I, of course, favored Whiffen. I asked him what he thought of his prospects and he said, "Very good," and we just talked in a casual way about it.

ABOUT COUNCILMEN.

Q.: Did you ever discuss the matter as to who would be appointed Mayor with any of the Councilmen?

A.: Not a single word; I haven't had any conversation with a single member of this Council I am positive, unless it was to speak to them on the street.

Q.: Did you ever discuss anything about the matter of appointing a new Mayor with any Councilmen within the past month or before that time?

A.: Never.

Q.: You know all the Councilmen, do you?

A.: In a way. I am not particularly acquainted with them. Some I have known for a number of years. I know Roberts very well.

Q.: Now, how do you account for Mr. Whiffen's statement?

A.: I don't know; I don't account for it.

was coming from. I don't know that there was anything further of importance. There may be some things that have escaped my mind at this time that would have bearing upon the case, but I don't recall them just now. If you want to ask any questions I wish you would.

DIDN'T TALK REALTY.

Q.: Did you discuss any real estate deal at that time?

A.: No, no.

Q.: Did he say anything to you on either one of these two visits about some property on South Vermont avenue?

A.: No, not at this time. The only time I remember talking to Mr. Kuck about real estate either on Vermont avenue or anywhere else, it is over a year ago; I think he came to my office to inquire about a piece of real estate that was owned by a client of mine, a Mrs. M. L. Hovey; she was a widow at that time; she owned two houses and lots on Vermont avenue.

Q.: Where is she now?

A.: She is dead.

Q.: Have you had any business transactions with Mr. Kuck?

A.: No, sir; none whatever.

Q.: When was the last time prior to his having called on you on last Monday that he visited you?

A.: I don't think he has called on me at any time during the past year. The last time I remember talking with Mr. Kuck was at lunch at the Union League Club. He sat at the same table and next to me. That was six or eight or ten months ago.

Q.: Now, had any of the Councilmen ever discussed with you the matter of appointment as Mayor?

NOON CONFERENCE.

A.: No, sir; the only one of the Council I talked with at all—there were two who—I had made an appointment with one, Mr. Betkouski, Tuesday at noon. There was a meeting arranged by a friend of mine to meet Mr. Betkouski at the Pig'n Whistle and take lunch together. I went to the Pig'n Whistle and took a certain booth that it was understood we should occupy and waited until about 1:30 o'clock, when Mr. Betkouski and Mr. Topham came, and when they came I said we had better order our lunch and could talk while eating. Mr. Betkouski said, "We have had our lunch," and I said, "Then we had better get down to the subject matter we have met for." I said, "I want to make a statement to you, Mr. Betkouski, with reference to my attitude in the Mayoralty proposition. You have known me for a long time; you have sat in the Council with me for five years, and you have known me since, and you know what I would stand for and what I wouldn't. If you think I am the proper person to fill the place, I would appreciate it if you would support me." That is as far as I had gone, and Mr. Betkouski listened to what I had said, it seemed, attentively, but immediately I got to that point he says, "What about this rumor I hear about you having been approached?" I was surprised that he had heard anything, because I didn't think anybody knew of it except myself and Mr. Vickers. He said, "You have been approached," and I said, "I have, yes, sir," and he said, "Who was it?" and I said, "I don't feel that I should give the party's name at this time." Then he appeared very angry. He said, "You should give the party's name, or I reflect upon you if you don't." I said, "The name will be given later on, but I don't feel like giving the name out at this time." He damned him and said he ought to be run out of town. We talked only a few minutes longer; I asked them whether they had held a caucus or how the Council stood, and he said he didn't know anything about it. I said, "I have just about concluded I would be just as well off without it; I don't care a cent either way."

MAKING THE DATE.

Q.: When was it the meeting was arranged between you and how was it arranged between you and Betkouski and Topham?

A.: It wasn't arranged between me and Topham. It was between me and Mr. Betkouski. It was arranged by Mr. Frazier of the Tribune and Express. He has always been a good friend of mine.

Q.: Now, Mr. Frazier came to you?

A.: He called me on the phone; he said, "Hadn't you better see Martin?" I said, "Maybe I had." He says, "You better arrange to take lunch with him."

Q.: When was this?

A.: On Tuesday morning.

Q.: Was it before or after Kuck came up to see you on Tuesday?

A.: Before.

Q.: But after Kuck had seen you on Monday?

A.: Yes.

Q.: What else was said between you and Frazier?

A.: There was nothing else except he stated what booth in the Pig'n Whistle we would occupy.

Q.: How did he know that?

A.: He didn't know. He said, "You better get there early so you can get that particular booth before someone else occupies it."

Q.: Then he evidently went around and arranged with Betkouski to see you?

A.: Yes, of course he did.

Q.: And Mr. Topham came with him?

A.: Yes, sir.

Q.: Did Betkouski and Topham vote together?

A.: I don't know.

TOPHAM SILENT.

Q.: Was Topham a friend of yours in the Council?

A.: Yes, sir.

Q.: What did Topham say in the Pig'n Whistle?

A.: Nothing—very little.

Q.: Did he make any suggestions that you run for the appointment?

A.: No, none at all.

Q.: What seemed to call forth the remark of Betkouski criticising this man who approached you?

A.: On general principles, I guess.

Q.: Why should he criticise anyone for approaching you to encourage you to become Mayor?

A.: I cannot tell you that. It was the manner of approaching me and offering me this money.

Q.: Betkouski didn't know that, did he?

A.: I don't know that he did; all that he seemed to know was that I had been approached.

Q.: What were his word you recall?

A.: "Damn such a man as that, he ought to be run out of town and I would help to do it."

Q.: Why should he talk like that about anyone that should come to you to ask you to run for Mayor? it wasn't any of his business, was it?

A.: I can't tell you; I don't know. Mr. Topham seemed to assent to Mr. Betkouski's words and his resentment and anger.

EXPRESSES APPROVAL.

Q.: Did he express any words apparently approving what Mr. Betkouski had said about the party that had approached you?

A.: Yes, he did, verifying the statement Mr. Betkouski had made as though he was in accord with it.

Q.: They both apparently were of the same frame of mind?

A.: Seemed to be, yes. Martin said, "You know I have always been a good friend of yours. During the last campaign I was for you solid," I said, "You did, I know, you did and I thoroughly appreciate it."

Q.: They suggested this to you first about the appointment, did they?

A.: No, the object of the meeting I supposed was understood by Mr. Betkouski to be to talk over the matter of the selection of a person for Mayor and they seemed not to advance the talk on the purpose of the meeting—didn't seem to want to open the conversation—so I said with references to the Mayoralty proposition—I have already stated that in my statement—I had only advanced a few words along that line when Martin broke in and said, "What about this rumor that is going around that you have been approached?"

Q.: Now, have you seen Henry Frazier since?

A.: I spoke to him over the phone.

Q.: Did you call him or he call you?

A.: He called me.

Q.: What was the conversation?

A.: He simply asked me if I had seen Martin and what the result of the meeting was. I told him I had seen him and Topham was with him, and I told him further I expressed myself as not being overly anxious for the job.

TELLS FRAZIER FIRST.

Q.: Now who was the first one with whom you discussed the conversation with Kuck?

A.: Mr. Vickers.

Q.: And who was the first you disclosed it to after you disclosed it to him?

A.: I think—Now hold on. The first one that I mentioned that to, anything pertaining to that, was Mr. Frazier on Monday night. On Monday night I called him up. I called him; he didn't call me. I said, "I have been approached by a certain party with a money consideration and also they demanded that they name the Chief of Police." He wanted more, he wanted all the details, and I said, "I have said enough. You know from what I have said I don't want the place under any such conditions."

Q.: That was Monday night?

A.: Yes, sir.

Q.: Then you met Henry Frazier again the next morning?

A.: No; I talked with him over the phone with reference to this meeting; somewhere about 9 o'clock.

Q.: Don't you suppose then that Mr. Frazier was the one who told Mr. Betkouski?

A.: Might be that is the way it leaked out. Then on Tuesday morning I told Mr. Vickers.

Q.: Now what was the object in calling up Henry Frazier and telling him you had been approached?

A.: Well, Henry has been a good friend of mine, while I was in the Council and all the way through, and he has been on very intimate terms, and he has always rather relied on me for news. This I didn't intend to be a news item, although it might be later on.

Q.: Who was the first one you told Kuck's name to?

A.: I believe the first one was in the morning, to the Herald reporter. It felt that it was my duty to divulge the name. I feel in earnest about this matter. I don't want to see the city in the hands of such persons. I want the people to know absolutely. I had studied over it and I felt that I ought to give the name of the party out.

Confab.

WHIFFEN AND KUCK BANDY HOT WORDS

AT MEETING WHEN EACH TELLS HIS OWN VERSION.

Unofficial Conference Held, and ex-Councilman Repeats Charge that Senatorial Candidate Offered to Sell Mayor's Job — Denials Fly from Each Side.

Most of the angles of the Whiffen-Kuck Mayoralty graft controversy were hashed over at a conference held yesterday morning at the Express-Tribune office. Former Councilman F. J. Whiffen, who charged that A. G. Kuck, candidate for State Senate, offered to deliver the Mayoralty to Mr. Whiffen for a sum of money, was present, and told his story in Mr. Kuck's presence. There were several lively clashes of words, with Mr. Kuck denying categorically everything Mr. Whiffen charged against him.

Present at the conference were Mr. Whiffen, J. W. Vickers, an attorney with a desk in Mr. Whiffen's office in the Washington Building; Mr. Kuck, Deputy District Attorney Cryer, H. W. Brundige, chief editorial writer of the Express-Tribune; L. A. Hoskins, managing editor of the same papers, and two stenographers. The gathering was called by Mr. Brundige, who was master of ceremonies throughout.

Mr. Whiffen made a long statement, covering the same ground as that he made to Deputy District Attorney Doran later in the day. It was, in brief, that Mr. Kuck went to him twice, making an offer to have Mr. Whiffen made Mayor in return for the payment of a sum of money.

Mr. Kuck replied in detail, declaring he went to Mr. Whiffen's office to discuss a real estate transaction, and the Mayoralty was mentioned only casually.

Mr. Whiffen had stated Mr. Kuck was at the former's office twice—last Monday and Tuesday. Mr. Kuck declared he was there only on Tuesday.

"Mr. Kuck," said Mr. Whiffen, "look at me, and tell me you were not at my office on Monday."

Mr. Kuck looked at him and answered, "No, sir!"

Mr. Whiffen, when Mr. Kuck stated the conference Tuesday was about a real estate transaction, offered a swift denial.

"The conversation," he declared, "was solely on the matter of the Mayoralty," and denied in detail that it concerned real estate.

"I want to state just as emphatically that it did," Mr. Kuck fired back.

It was brought out that Mr. Whiffen did not ask Mr. Kuck, according to Mr. Whiffen's version, at any time who were the men who were back of the alleged offer to deliver the office for money.

RULING REVERSED.

The District Court of Appeal yesterday reversed Superior Judge Peairs of Kern county in his refusal to give Philip Winner, convicted of grand larceny, a new trial. It appears that more than fifteen days elapsed from the date of Winner's conviction before the court entered the decree denying him another hearing.

WHAT THE MAYOR AND COUNCIL HAVE TO SAY.

Woodman, Roberts, Wright and Wheeler Declare They Never Heard of the Matter Till Published—Betkouski and Topham had Tip and Asked Whiffen About It. "One Man's Word Against Another's."

FOLLOWING is what the new Mayor and several members of the City Council had to say yesterday regarding the Whiffen-Kuck scandal:

MAYOR WOODMAN.

Mayor Woodman said: "I know Mr. Kuck, but he made no proposition to me. I was not approached by anybody in connection with any deal and there was no suggestion by anybody of my coming through with any money.

"The first I knew that I was to be named Mayor was on Tuesday morning. Mr. Topham telephoned me to come down and see the Council in the Black Building. I think it was in Mr. Topham's office.

"Councilmen Betkouski, Brain and Topham were there. I thought I was going to see all the members of the Council. Before any of the Councilmen present could ask me any questions I put one to them. I said that having seen so much in the papers about whoever was selected Mayor being obliged to stand for the removal of Efficiency Director Burks I wanted to know whether I was expected to make any pledge on the subject. I was told no promise would be required of me and, as I said in my public statement, I made no pledges in regard to any matter.

"The members of the Council present told me a majority had decided on me. From the Black Building I went to Councilman Wright's office. He told me his first choice was Robert Allen, but a majority of the Council had agreed on me and he congratulated me. Mr. Brain was present.

"As to the allegations made by Mr. Whiffen of his being approached I know absolutely nothing about them. I repeat I never was approached by anybody."

MARTIN BETKOUSKI.

President Betkouski of the City Council also asserted he knew nothing of the Kuck affair. "I heard indirectly that Mr. Whiffen had been approached," he said, "and arranged a meeting with him to find out about it. Mr. Whiffen declined to say, at that time, who was the man he says approached him. I said then that if what he said was true there should be an investigation by the grand jury. If Mr. Whiffen has the goods all he has to do is to produce them. I see no reason, however, for the Council to ask for an investigation; that is a matter for the District Attorney and the grand jury."

W. A. ROBERTS.

Councilman Roberts said: "Nobody ever approached me with reference to any deal for the Mayoralty. I spoke of Woodman for Mayor before Sebastian resigned; I thought he was the proper man for the place. I have not seen Mr. Kuck for several weeks and know nothing whatever about the allegation made by Mr. Whiffen."

FRED C. WHEELER.

Councilman Wheeler said: "I would not think for a moment of suspecting any of the members of the City Council in connection with this matter. As far as Mr. Whiffen and Mr. Kuck go it is one man's word against another's."

FOSTER C. WRIGHT.

Councilman Wright said: "If the charge made by Mr. Whiffen is true there certainly should be a grand jury investigation. I know nothing about it except what I have read in the newspapers. Mr. Kuck never approached me. It is true that after the caucus in the Black Building Mr. Woodman came to my office. I asked him to do so. Councilman Brain was present. I believe I extended my congratulations to him and said I believed he would make a good Mayor."

JOHN TOPHAM.

Councilman Topham said: "I know nothing of this Kuck affair. It is one man's statement against another and when it comes to the two men I believe I would take Kuck's statement before I would that of Whiffen.

"I don't see any reason for the Council to pass a resolution asking the grand jury to investigate. I do not construe Whiffen's statement as necessarily a reflection on the Council. I will say, however, that if the facts warrant it the grand jury should make an investigation.

"It is true I got a tip Tuesday that Whiffen had been approached. Betkouski told me and he and I met Whiffen at the Pig 'n Whistle about 1 o'clock. Why didn't Whiffen then tell us the name of the man he says approached him? He refused to give us the name of the man involved. We asked him for it, but he refused to give it.

SET PICNIC DATE.

The annual summer picnic and outing of the Michigan State Society will be held at Sycamore Grove the 15th inst., according to an announcement made at the monthly meeting of the organization in The Times Assembly Rooms last night. Talks were made by Simon S. Young, vice-president, and by Mrs. J. L. Wilson, secretary. The programme was followed by dancing. T. L. O'Brien, president, presided.

Her Talents Recognized.

Miss Beulah Wright of the University of Southern California will spend the week-end at Del Mar. Sunday afternoon, in the little nature theater, Miss Wright will interpret Henry Van Dyke's poem, "The God of the Open Air," and also give a talk on contemporary literature. In the evening, in the music-room, her subject will be "The Ideal and the Realistic Drama." Miss Wright's work is so well known that many of her friends contemplate motoring from La Jolla and San Diego to hear her.

GETS ALLEGED SLAVER.

Fred Gargullo, alias Fred Kelley, was taken into custody at San Diego yesterday by Special Agent Webster of the department of justice on a charge of having transported Mabel White from Phoenix, Ariz., to Los Angeles for an immoral purpose. The authorities have been on the hunt of Gargullo for some time. He was brought to this city last night and lodged in the County Jail.

TO CENTER WORK HERE.

A NEW COMBINE WILL BRING COMPANIES WEST.

By Grace Kingsley.

As a part of even larger plans, arrangements have been perfected by Samuel Goldfish, chairman of the board of directors of the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, to bring West several companies headed by prominent stars—including, it is said, Pauline Frederick and Mae Murray — and also to double the capacity of the Lasky studio in Hollywood. Accompanied by Arthur S. Friend, attorney for the corporation, Mr. Goldfish left for New York City, and before his departure stated:

"After four weeks with Mr. De Mille, we are convinced that Los Angeles is the ideal motion picture producing center. Heretofore most of the Famous Players pictures have been made in New York; in the future the majority of the Famous Players-Lasky pictures will be produced here. Immediately upon my return to New York, we will arrange for the sending of several more companies out here. We have already secured several new directors for the Lasky Company, in addition to those who will arrive from the East. We shall practically have to double our force of employees at the Lasky studio, to handle the increase in producing directors. As soon as possible we will erect new office buildings and stages. The increased output will practically triple our expenditures, and we feel that it will not only be of great support to the motion picture industry here, but to the citizens of Los Angeles in general."

Further plans concerning the studio will be perfected immediately upon Mr. Goldfish's return to New York.

Jack's Record.

Jack Bryce, who will play the leading masculine role in W. T. Wyatt's sketch, "Woman's Wit," which the local manager wrote in collaboration with Countess Marstini, appeared last in this city at the Orpheum with Maude Fealy in the sketch "Her Decision." Mr. Bryce was leading man with Florence Stone two seasons, and has otherwise had notable experience on the stage. "Woman's Wit" will have its first presentation at Pantages Theater next Monday.

Little Mary's New One.

Artcraft Pictures Corporation, which will present all the pictures made by Mary Pickford with her own company, announces that Miss Pickford's first feature will be "Less than the Dust," written by Hector Turnbull. Turnbull credits his inspiration to the poem of the same name by Laurence Hope. The story deals with a little English girl and her adventures and mishaps in India.

Morosco Winners.

Manager Oliver Morosco writes announcing his plans for the season just opening. It would appear therefrom that Mr. Morosco is entering upon one of the most successful years he has yet known.

"Upstairs and Down" will be the first Morosco production to open in the metropolis this fall. It will be seen at the Cort Theater, beginning the 21st inst. The cast will include Mary Servoss, Leo Carrillo, Howard Scott, Roberta Arnold, Paul Harvey, Ida St. Leon, William MacDonald and others.

"So Long Letty" is now in rehearsal in New York, with Charlotte Greenwood, Walter Catlett, May Boley, Sydney Grant, Ben Linn, Percy Bronson, Winnie Baldwin and others in the cast. It will open in Washington at the Belasco Theater the 25th inst.

"Peg o' My Heart" will peg right along, and that dependable "Bird of Paradise" has already begun its annual migration. "The Unchastened Woman" will open in Boston shortly. "Canary Cottage," now completing a two months' engagement in San Francisco, will remain on the Coast for awhile, and will have its New York premiere in the new Oliver Morosco Theater in Gotham in December.

To See War Pictures.

The entire personnel of the United States Army's aviation school at San Diego, about sixty in number, will see the Kleinschmidt motion pictures of European battles now on exhibition at Clune's Auditorium Theater.

The last two showings today and tomorrow will be graced by groups from the San Diego school who have visited the city especially to see them.

Eager to Learn.

Maude Fealy, leading woman at the Morosco, says that take it from her there isn't anything to this rural innocence thing.

"I was waiting for my car in front of the theater the other day," said Miss Fealy, "when up walked a couple of young rubes and began to discuss the pictures in the lobby. 'The Song of Songs,' murmured the girl. 'Le's come see it,' volunteered the boy. 'Oh, but here it says under one o' the pictures something about 2 a.m. I don't believe it's a nice kind of play. I'm afraid it's risky.' 'Whee!' whistled the youth. 'Is that so? Well, we'll see this play, sure!' And the girl didn't even have time to catch him by the coat tails, so swift was his dash to the hole in the box office that the urbane Mr. Neill smiles through."

"Three Twins" Soon.

"The Three Twins," a musical comedy, is scheduled for production at the Burbank very shortly.

Warner's Baptism.

Warner Baxter has at last arrived. He has received the M. I. degree. He stands in the sacred leading man niche. And it's not alone by the number of crocheted ties he receives, nor yet the number of "If-you-did-not-love-me-I-would-die-and-then-I-would-be-dead" letters he gets, either, that he knows. It's by the fact that every automobile dealer in town is trying to sell him a car.

"I used to walk boldly out of the stage entrance," says Baxter, "then I got so I sneaked out of the back door in the alley to avoid the agents. Just lately I've discovered a secret passage under the theater, and when they block that up I shall buy a flying machine."

We Shall Have Rose.

Rose Stahl will tour the country this season in "Our Mrs. McChesney," dramatized from the Edna Ferber story, in which Ethel Barrymore appeared last season.

Terminal Plans.

NEW ROUTING SCHEME FOR ELEVATED RAILWAY.

WITH $350,000 being spent for the completion of an elevated railway system from the rear of the Pacific Electric Building to connect with the Pacific Electric tracks on San Pedro street, the Board of Public Utilities yesterday approved a tentative routing scheme following a conference between Paul Shoup and President Lane.

It is probable that additional and possibly changed orders will be issued before the operation finally settles down to regular standards.

The plans for the new terminal consist of three stub-end tracks behind the present Pacific Electric station building with overhead bridges across Los Angeles street, the outgoing passengers following an overhead course through the Sunset Room of the Pacific Electric Building to the cars, while the inbound passengers will be separated from the outgoing traffic and will be brought in to the main concourse of the building through a suspended subway underneath the floor of the Sunset Room.

In addition to the three stub-end tracks for passengers there will be two main-line tracks that will run directly through the Pacific Electric Building from Main street to San Pedro street.

West bound through the station cars will be loaded as at present, but will be unloaded behind the building on the Los Angeles-street side. The process will be reversed for the cars that are east bound from Main street to San Pedro street. These cars will be unloaded as at present, but will be loaded by means of a suspended subway that will run from the main concourse of the building to the south side of the east-bound track, underneath the present trackage in the terminal.

Two additional tracks will be furnished, over the present surface tracks off of Los Angeles street to furnish storage facilities.

The new station will accommodate 1200 passengers per minute on its loading and unloading platforms and under the tentative plan as outlined by the Board of Public Utilities and President Shoup, the Pasadena short line, the Oak Knoll line the Redondo line and the Whittier and La Habra cars will run east bound through the building, looping from Main street to San Pedro street.

West bound through the building, from San Pedro to Main streets, will be the San Gabriel, the Sierra Vista, the Sierra Madre and the trolley trips. The Mt. Lowe, Annandale and Glendale lines will use the front of the building entirely.

On the stub tracks back of the sunset room will be the San Bernardino line, the Pomona line, the San Dimas line, the Covina, El Monte, Monrovia and Glendora traffic, and the service for Santa Ana, Newport, Long Beach, San Pedro and the Santa Monica air line. This routing will be subject to change after a tryout.

In the Far East.

FUGITIVE FROM CHINESE REVOLUTION SUCCUMBS.

A CABLEGRAM was received here yesterday announcing the death of Mrs. W. H. Dobson, whose husband is head of the Presbyterian Mission Hospital at Yeung Kong, Southern China. Other than to say that she died from malaria, the cablegram gave no details of her sickness and death.

Mrs. Dobson was a daughter of Mrs. Cynthia A. Moore of No. 149 North Sichel street, this city. She went to China with her husband seventeen years ago, and in that time has visited her relatives and friends here twice. The last time was five years ago.

Recently, because of threatened uprisings among the natives, Mrs. Dobson, with her husband and children, went to the seacoast on Long Island, Hong Kong.

The last letter the family had from Mrs. Dobson was written on August 8. She was well, but said that, because they feared the uprising in Southern China, they had decided to leave much earlier than they had been accustomed to take their vacations, it takes at least a month for a letter to reach Los Angeles from there, so members of her family will have no information regarding her death for several weeks.

Mrs. Dobson had lived in Los Angeles since her early childhood, until she went to China. She has many friends here to mourn her death. Besides her mother she leaves two sisters and three brothers. They are Miss Jessica M. Moore, who lives with her mother, and Mrs. F. M. Brininstool of Alhambra, F. I. R. and Royal D. Moore of this city and Lester S. Moore of Riverside.

AT THE THEATERS.

Symphony.

"The Pretenders" is making a big hit this week at the Symphony, with Emmy Wehlen and Paul Gordon in the leading roles. The photoplay is a delightfully breezy comedy, with some thrills thrown in for good measure. This bright production sets the pace for film entertainment of this sort. Channing Pollock and Rennold Wolf are the authors.

Next week the attraction will be Lionel Barrymore in "The Upheaval," said to be his best picture.

Miller's.

"The Unwelcome Mother," a film drama of the sea, featuring Valkyrien and Walter Law, is now being shown at Miller's Theater. Valkyrien is beautiful and accomplished. She is surrounded by clever actors and actresses, and the story has the necessary "punch" to make it popular.

Theda Bara, the screen's most popular star, is announced as next week's attraction in "Her Double Life."

Majestic.

"The Daughter of the Don," the fascinating historical photoplay of life in Southern California in the early days, continues a great drawing card at the Majestic. There will be another special matinee for children today in order that the school children may have an opportunity to view the photoplay, which not only will hold their interest because of its story, but will instruct them in early California history.

SOME FAMILY, THIS.

Judge's Heart Melts when a Father Accused of Failure to Provide Shows Him Eleven Children of Tender Age and an Empty Pocketbook.

Fred Hallett was arraigned before Superior Judge Craig yesterday on a charge of failure to provide for his family. And it is some family—for eleven children sat beside the mother, Helen Hallett. The defendant is the father of them all.

It was shown that Hallett is a poor man and has much difficulty in providing for his numerous progeny. The court remarked it is no wonder the father finds himself in financial difficulties. The children range in age from twins a few months old to a girl of 13 years.

The court took the matter under advisement and said that Hallett might go on his own recognizance for two weeks, and in the meantime an effort would be made to get employment for the man.

AT HOLLENBECK PARK.

An exhibition of high diving and other aquatic feats will be given by Tony Pizzo of Madison, Wis., at Hollenbeck Park tomorrow afternoon and Sunday, at 3 o'clock p.m. A musical and vocal concert will also be given in the park during the two afternoons. An extensive musical programme for tomorrow, in celebration of Admission Day, has been prepared. Selections will be rendered by Francis Cooky, pianist; Alice Carrico, violiniste, and Nina Belden, soprano. The programme for Sunday afternoon includes numbers by Prof. Guido Helmick, Harry Adams, Harry Cook, Carl Purcell and Miss De Wayne Geissler. Mr. Pizzo will attempt a dive of 125 feet into the lake.

VIEW HIDDEN DEEDS.

Heirs to Great Solari Property in Ventura County Win Battle to Ascertain Their Shares in Their Mother's Broad Rancho.

The litigation which has been waged vigorously before the Ventura county Superior Court and the District Court of Appeals affecting the Solari ranch of 2200 acres in Ventura county, has reached a conclusion.

Judge Willis, sitting for Judge Merle J. Rogers of Ventura, yesterday ruled favorably to the contention of the heirs in their quest for the testimony of E. P. Foster, the well-known banker of Ventura, and thereupon, after several conferences, Mr. Foster produced deeds showing that each of the Solari heirs is entitled to about 200 acres of choice bean land in the Rancho Santa Clara del Norte, subject to the life estate of their mother, Mercedes Cota de Solari.

Judge Willis complimented all parties concerned in the matter over the happy termination of what seemed to be a bitter family quarrel. He also spoke most favorably of Mr. Foster's efforts to keep inviolate the confidences that had been reposed in him.

The case is novel in the legal history of the State, for there seems to be no precedent whereby testamentary deeds have been inquired into.

Robert M. Clarke, who represents the successful contenders for the ranch, said that no effort will be made in any way to interfere with the life estate reserved for the mother. In fact, it is the wish of all the children that the handsome revenue derived from this principality shall be devoted entirely to the aged mother during her life.

CHIEF TO SIT UPON THE LID.

Snively Takes Personal Charge of Metropolitan Squad. Town Closed Now.

Chief Snively has assumed personal command of the Metropolitan Squad, the police organization which attends exclusively to the stopping of gambling and the social vices. At its head, he will execute the determination of Mayor Woodman that this city shall be a closed one. In the past the squad has worked under the direction of a police sergeant. Chief Snively relieves Sergt. Ferns in control.

The purpose of the change is to put the Chief directly in control of the cleaning up of the city. The personnel of the squad will be more than doubled to adequately cope with the work ahead.

Chief Snively issued a further order yesterday directing the policemen to pay closer attention to their personal appearance and to their treatment of citizens. He called attention to the necessity for polished shoes and pressed and brushed uniforms. He expects to make the local force the best-appearing department in the West.

Clash?

QUESTION AUTHORITY.

Sergeant of Marines Held to Answer to Local Court on Embezzlement Charge Writes that He Cannot Get Away from Naval Duty.

There is a possibility of a clash between the Federal and State authorities in connection with the prosecution of Delbert Moore, a sergeant of marines at San Diego, charged with embezzling a diamond ring valued at $250 from Norma Stanley July 8, last.

Moore, after his arrest, gave bond for his appearance before a justice court, and returned to duty. Yesterday Judge Craig ordered the issuance of a warrant for his arrest. Before the instrument was issued a letter was read from Moore, in which he stated that the naval officials on duty in San Diego would not allow him to come to Los Angeles to enter his appearance for an arraignment.

Deputy District Attorney Selph was ordered by the court to take up the matter with the officials at San Diego, with the view to having Moore brought here for a hearing. There is no information as to the attitude of the San Diego authorities other than what is contained in the letter from Moore. Heretofore both the military and naval officers have co-operated with the State authorities to bring wrongdoers in the service of the United States to justice.

Everett Williams, charged with grand larceny, pleaded guilty, and his hearing for sentence and probation was set for Thursday next.

R. E. Stevens changed his plea from not guilty to guilty on a charge of forgery, and he will be sentenced Monday.

Festive.

MUSIC AND FELLOWSHIP.

First Gamut Club Meeting of Fall Season is Characterized by Warm Old-time Spirit. Attractively-rendered Programe is Enjoyed.

There was much joy and good fellowship, and just a touch of sadness, to mark the beginning of the new season of the Gamut Club at its monthly dinner Wednesday evening at the clubhouse, No. 1044 South Hope street. It was a meeting that began earlier than is the custom, because the club has adopted the policy this year of starting the festive ball revolving merrily on its course at 6 o'clock, and it closed perhaps a trifle later than anticipated to bear witness to the good time that was being enjoyed.

Melody and harmony, as have ever graced these meetings, was in pleasing evidence at the one held last night. Songs of varied type and intimate appeals were rendered by Gage Christopher, baritone; Marion Woodley, mezzo-soprano, and Adelina Tromben Lebegott, soprano, and Theophilus Fitts, baritone. Arnold Krauss and Jay Plowe also delighted respectively with violin and flute selections. Frieda Peycke and Eduard Lebegott assisted at the piano.

Among the other guests of the evening were Florencio Constantino, Signor Valenza, Supervisors Woodley and Norton, and Dr. Stewart Lobingier.

The touch of sadness was lent by the news of the passing of Charles Eager, formerly a director of the club. The members drank a silent toast to his memory.

Fifty Years of Happy Married Life.

Dr. and Mrs. Henson H. Cross,

Los Angeles physician and his wife, prominent in city affairs since village days thirty-three years ago. They celebrated their golden wedding anniversary yesterday.

Anniversary.

WEALTHY PAIR CELEBRATE THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING.

WITH a score of their relatives enjoying the occasion as much as they, Dr. and Mrs. Henson H. Cross of No. 661 Lucas avenue celebrated the golden anniversary of their wedding Wednesday with a picnic in Griffith Park. The aged couple, who have been prominent in the social life of the city since it was a small village thirty-three years ago, rounded out their fiftieth year of happy married life amid the flowers and sunshine of Southern California.

Dr. Cross and Miss Kearny H. Cope were married in Keokuk, Iowa, in 1866. The young physician, who was a graduate of the Iowa Medical College, had just been mustered out of the army, where he had served for three years. He was a member of the famous Thirtieth Iowa Infantry that established a name for itself during the Civil War.

For many years they remained in their home town, the young physician building up an extensive practice. Then they decided to come to California. That was thirty-three years ago.

At that time Los Angeles was little more than a village. The outskirts of the residence district barely reached beyond Figueroa street in the west, so that Dr. Cross, who had his heart set upon an orange grove, found no difficulty in obtaining one situated at Pico and Alvarado streets.

Soon after their arrival, Dr. Cross succeeded in establishing himself as a physician. Foreseeing the great possibilities and future before Los Angeles, he invested in city lots and acreage. Much of this property he and Mrs. Cross still retain, the choicest plot being that upon which the annex of the Alexandria Hotel now stands.

As the years wore on and the city grew Dr. Cross improved his inside property and built the family home at No. 661 Lucas avenue, where they still reside.

Dr. Cross is now 84 years old. His wife is 67. Both are enjoying excellent health and are looking forward to many more wedding anniversaries.

LOVE, THEN LAWSUIT.

Milliner Seeking Damages from Man She Says Promised to Wed Her, Then Refused; Hurt Her Business and Made Her Ill, She Declares.

When Miss Hilda Swanson met A. B. Gutshall, she says, he paid her such ardent attention that she postponed going East and was rewarded by his promise to marry her. Mr. Gutshall, however, went East to attend a convention of the Elks, and on his return, she alleges in a $12,750 breach of promise suit filed yesterday, through Attorney Earl C. Peck, he refused to marry her.

The shock to the attractive young milliner is said to have been so severe she became ill. Meantime, having disposed of her business on Figueroa street, she was maintaining herself in this city at considerable cost. In the East a profitable business awaited her, she declares.

Mr. Gutshall's refusal to marry her is item one for which she asks $10,000 damages. Item two is the cost to stay in Los Angeles, $250. Item three is nervous shock and illness, $2500.

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.

CHIEF EVENTS OF YESTERDAY.

(At Home:) Broadness and activity characterized the Wall-street market, incident to which Reading mounted to its highest price since May. Some of the prominent issues suffered some depreciation on account of bull holdings over-extended, while others took an opposite course. The firmness of franks and, at the same time, another reaction in marks, featured exchanges. Bonds were irregular, with Rock Islands heavy.

(Abroad:) Figures given out by the British Board of Trade for August show that imports during the month increased by £6,716,000, while exports increased by £15,231,000.

OH, HOW CRUEL!

A husband who refuses to unhook his wife's ball dress, and compels her to sleep in it while he snoozes in comfort sans coat and sans culotte, is guilty of cruelty so extreme that one shudders at the contemplation of it. The fact that he did not hook the dress and that Somebody Else did (the identity of which Somebody Else is not disclosed by her,) is pleaded by him in defense of his conduct.

HUGHES ON THE SURRENDER TO GOMPERS.

Mr. Hughes, in his Lexington (Ky.) speech, called attention to the fact that President Wilson is not the only pebble on the beach, so far as humanitarian legislation is concerned. The world did not begin when he was inaugurated President. The Republicans placed in the Federal laws the Interstate Commerce Act, the Safety Appliance Act, the Hours of Service Act, the Federal Employers' Liability Act, the Meat Inspection Act, the Pure Food and Drugs Act, the Hepburn amendment controlling rates under the Interstate Commerce Act, and the amendment of 1910 to the Interstate Commerce Act. Mr. Hughes deprecated the Democratic practice of demanding executive and Congressional action in advance of an examination of the facts upon which action should be based—and sharply criticised the surrender of Wilson to Sam Gompers. Mr. Hughes's backbone is made of the right stuff.

RUMANIA'S IMPORTANCE.

Rumania's intervention in the war is undeniably a heavy blow to Teutonic hopes, more on account of her geographical position than from her power as a military state. It opens more of the Black Sea coast to Russia, shortens the drive on Constantinople, imperils Bulgaria, and enables a blow to be struck at Hungary's most vulnerable frontier. It practically gives the control of the Danube into the hands of Germany's enemies.

A large source of supplies has also been cut off from the central empires by Rumania's belated decision. Nor must the military force of Germany's last foe be minimized. If the Rumanian army is as well drilled and numerous as reported it can drive in a wedge to cut off Turkey from her senior partner.

Has Rumania duplicated the part she played in the second Balkan war? That remains to be seen. The allies must have offered her strong inducements to win her support. Whether they will be able to deliver the goods is a chance that the Rumanians were evidently willing to take. Cold-blooded opportunism has frankly been the one foreign policy of Rumanian statesmanship. Her geographical position was a valuable asset and she has probably traded it to the highest bidder; for when the giants fall out, sometimes the dwarfs find their importance vastly increased.

NAVAL SARTORIAL WOES.

According to the tale of woe of a naval volunteer, writing in the New York Herald, life on board is "just one damned suit of clothes after another." He declares that they often change their clothes five and six times a day and that no belle at a fashionable summer resort has anything on the naval volunteer in this direction.

The suit they wash the decks in at 5 a.m. has to be changed for breakfast. Since they all wear white, the suit they wear for breakfast finds its pristine purity painfully sullied long before lunch time, chiefly for the reason that they wash yesterday's clothes in it. So lunch calls for another clean suit, which, like everything else, has to be dug up from the bottom of a canvas bag which the naval regulations of 1642 A.D. designed as the best wardrobe for a sailor, and no sinful reformer would think of innovating anything so sacrilegious as a suit case.

A couple of hours' deck work soon settles that suit and by the time the captain calls for "inspection" another dash below for clean suits has become imperative. And any sartorially epicurean young naval volunteer feels it imperative to remove his inspection suit for the ensuing gunnery practice, which plays the dickens with one's grooming. Then if one has a night watch, still another change becomes necessary.

The spick and span appearance of our naval men is evidently not the simple affair we imagined. It is hard training and quick change. But it pays. Who of us has not suffered the chagrin of total eclipse when the rival for the ladies' attentions is in the navy? Those multitudinous clean suits fetch 'em every time.

FOR THE AID OF DYNAMITERS.

Walking delegates of the notorious San Francisco Union Labor Council are busily engaged in raising a slush fund to defend two members of the labor council who are accused of manufacturing and placing the bomb that wrought such havoc in the line of San Francisco's great preparedness parade. Assessments have been levied, council funds have been appropriated and appeals have been made to union labor members of the whole country to come to the aid of these two indicted men, "lest the cause of organized labor suffer through their conviction."

This is not the first time that the San Francisco Union Labor Council has raised a fund to purchase for red-handed criminals immunity from the law. Dynamite and arson squads always form an integral part of the forces of so-called "organized labor." Whether it be in the lumber camps, the hop fields, printing plants, machine shops, railroad yards or elsewhere these bloody mercenaries are always within easy call to coerce and intimidate when the unjust demands of the union labor despots are refused. Sometimes they are apprehended, but they know that if they are caught they will have back of them the moral (!) and financial support of the labor unions. Vast sums are raised, not for legitimate defense, but to locate "plants" on the jury, thus making conviction impossible.

Always foes to law and order, the unions of San Francisco opposed the plan to hold a preparedness parade in that city. When their demands and threats were ignored actual violence was resorted to and the streets of the city were strewn with the blood and debris of innocent victims. When the hand of outraged justice closed upon the alleged perpetrators of the crime the walking delegates sounded their old cry, "It's a frame-up! Big business is trying to fasten the crime upon labor!"

In San Francisco an office is permanently maintained for the purpose of raising funds to defend members of the dynamite and arson squads apprehended by the police. It is called the "International Workers' Defense League;" its secretary is Henry Hagelstein. He is sending circular solicitations nationwide to raise more money for the defense of Edward D. Nolan, a member of Machinists' Union No. 68 of San Francisco, delegate to the notorious Union Labor Council and representative of his union in the recent international convention of the Machinists' Unions of the United States and Canada. Nolan is one of the "higher-ups" in union labor circles and his apprehension has occasioned grave alarm. The labor union despots generally sacrifice the smaller fry, but keep their own skirts clear. In a letter to one of his kind, which miscarried, Hagelstein asserts that:

> "Besides the $600 donated by voluntary subscriptions of our members, Lodge 68 voted $1000 out of the treasury; 284 of Oakland added $250 out of its treasury. This is only a partial appreciation by us of the services rendered for our organization by Brother Nolan."

Hagelstein leaves us to make our own conjectures as to whether these services consisted in the manufacture of the bomb that blew out so many innocent lives. The police allege that they found in Nolan's apartments acids and deadly material from which many similar bombs could be made.

We of Los Angeles are familiar with the kind of defense the unions conduct. How forcibly the following quotation from the Hagelstein letter calls to mind the utterances of the MacNamara attorneys:

> "Remember that it is a frame-up and, for people that are playing such a desperate game, no actions are too vile or vicious; it is the part of better judgment that our evidence, other than what chief counsel deems advisable, be not given out. But when our boys are again free we will have exposed as foul machinations as blood-thirsty corporate wealth could devise."

Today we hear the same old appeal to unlettered ignorance and class prejudice. The credulous workers are asked to contribute to the slush fund on faith. They are asked to believe that "big business" placed that bomb in order to bring discredit on the organized labor movement. Professing to be the friends of good government, the union leaders are bending every energy to the end that a horrible crime may go unpunished and that red-handed murderers may evade the penalty of their crimes. The very nature of the defense is tantamount to an admission of the guilt of the accused. Honest men are not so defended.

WHERE ARE OUR MANNERS?

It seems to be an unpleasant axiom that every gain must carry a corresponding loss. Modern life has become so efficient, so well organized, so scientific, so rapid in action, so packed with opportunities that we proudly acclaim our privilege of occupying a place in this magnificent and multifarious century. And in our eagerness not to let the smallest chance slip past our alert fingers, are we not losing one of the chief charms of society, courtesy and good manners?

Everywhere the pressure increases: everywhere the contestant grabs more unceremoniously at each high-speed opportunity; he must grab or miss the forelock and slip off the smooth bald pate behind. And, of course, grabbing is inconsistent with good manners. Such is the general attitude toward surging ahead, and perhaps it's a miscalculation.

For one of the surest signs of capability, one of the best proofs of the master touch, is to pick the fruit from the tree of endeavor and not bruise it in the process. Believing the delicate touch to be out of date and rapidity the one thing needful, we fill our boxes with too much bruised fruit. So, after we have scrambled and shoved ourselves through a dozen near successes, we may find that after all good manners pay, though we turn aside from a uniformed official to bestow them on a beggar.

On the public streets, at any rate, one might well ask, "Where are our manners?" With the acquisition of the 5 o'clock street-car, seat-at-any-cost habit we flourish too many heels in the faces of the climbers crowding us in the rear. We are too busy to be polite. The knockout route seems quicker than scientific fencing. We say in effect, if good manners interfere with business, cut out the good manners. Efficiency demands the short cut. Courtesy and ceremony belong to those who are not so rushed as we are. Some day we may be well enough off to indulge our taste for public good manners.

If this reasoning continues, something dreadful may happen to us. We may start to legislate against bad manners, and then our hopes of ever acquiring good ones will depart like the glory from Israel. As soon as you have to force the majority into behaving themselves—or what is worse, imagine you have to—you have fixed the bad manners of the minority as permanently as sulphite of soda fixes a negative. A law to compel male street-car occupants to throw away smelly cigars or surrender a comfortable seat to a tired woman or to cease from fighting ahead of the girl loaded down with parcels, will kill the instinct of courtesy as surely as hard-and-fast prohibition will extract the virtue from temperance.

Yet, something ought to be done to save the beauty of good manners from total eclipse. The best manners come spontaneously or not at all, and spontaneity knows no law. Education can do much, home life can do more. Our public schools can form the habit of courtesy in the fathers and mothers of the next generation to bring back the natural good manners whose virtue is their best reward.

We grow in efficiency and material progress and intellectual vigor. We cannot afford, however, to lose our most honorable of all titles to esteem, that of gentleman or lady. We must be men and women first—granted—but why stop there?

Perhaps we shall catch the crowded car and get home just as quickly, and with more satisfaction to ourselves, without hogging a woman's seat or kicking the fellow behind us as we dash for the steps; perhaps we may get a firm hold on the forelock of opportunity without grabbing; and if we do miss one car or one opportunity, perhaps it is not such a calamity to know one has acted like a gentleman!

ALL THAT IS LEFT OF THEM.

Only six European nations remain at peace—Switzerland, Spain, Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Holland, for Greece is probably in the fray. Switzerland and Holland are both fully mobilized and on a war footing to "defend their neutrality."

There are a round dozen European nations at each other's throats as official belligerents, without counting such distinct people's nations as Poland, Ireland, Bohemia, Hungary and the countless other tribes. There is war in Africa and in Asia on several fronts.

And there is always Mexico. As Roosevelt said, "the United States is busy, waging peace furiously."

Japan is an active belligerent, although temporarily resting.

How much more blood does that old villain, Mars, demand before he is surfeited? Does he begrudge Europe those poor, anxious disturbed six nations? He certainly begrudges the United States our furious peace. He is doing his level best to foment rebellions in India and in China. The great national orchards have been pruned back to their very roots.

Mercy, mercy, where art thou? Hast thou altogether forsaken this sorry world? We seem to have fallen too low for that gentle dew from heaven to reach the place beneath. Man's inhumanity to man makes countless thousands mourn.

NO VETERINARY NEED APPLY.

Another government job will soon be open for a deserving Democrat. He will be stationed on the island of Jamaica and it will be his duty to purchase every year 200 horses and 500 sons and daughters of jackasses, to be used for military purposes on the Canal Zone. Whether the job will be given to a Tammany pugilist or a Princeton professor is as yet undetermined, but it may be predicted that it will be accorded to somebody who does not know the difference between a spavin and an attack of the glanders.

Something in the Way.

HER SON'S VOICE.

Pathetic Incident of a Mother Whose Son Perished at Verdun.

[Will Irwin, in the Saturday Evening Post:] The old lady in mourning stood just within the door of the Parisian Petshop, caressing an alert-looking gray parrot. The parrot responded to her caresses as parrots do, with rubs of his head, with awkward, uncertain biting of her fingers, and with uncouth squawks.

"You will see that he gets a good home?" she said. "Plenty of green food every day——"

"I will see to it, madame," he said, and there was a sense of emotion underneath his Parisian politeness.

"Adieu, Coco," she said; and she gently transferred him from her finger to the finger of the petshop man.

The parrot gave the preliminary squawk of his kind, then responded in excellent voice and articulation:

"Bonjour, maman."

Whereupon the old lady turned and sped as fast as her feet would carry her out of the shop.

The proprietor of the jewelry shop next door, who had dropped in to gossip with the petshop man, looked after her and asked in the argot:

"Strapped? Broke?"

"No," said the proprietor, gently, scratching the head of Coco, who sat ruffling his feathers; "no, she told me about it when she came to make the bargain. She had one son. He and Coco—they were brought up together. He taught this bird to talk; it is a famous talker and can whistle three tunes. The son, he is dead at Verdun. And Coco talks with the voice of the dead—you see. Listen!" For Coco had started his gurgle, preliminary to speaking.

"Where are my shoes, maman?" he said.

"How would you like it——" began the petshop man. Then he stopped dead. For the jeweler had turned and was looking out of the window. And he wore a crepe band about his left arm.

BILLY SUNDAY ARRIVES.

[Philadelphia Public Ledger:] "Billy" Sunday was in Philadelphia for two lively hours yesterday.

He arrived at 11 o'clock.

He became very angry when he learned that he was not to be permitted to rest here.

He shook hands with several hundred friends in the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel.

He refused to eat any of the food served at the luncheon in his honor because, he said, he didn't like it.

He gave a half-dollar to three newsboys who besieged him to buy a paper.

He asked them to divide the money between them.

He saw them start a fight over the spoils.

Then his automobile moved off for Ocean Grove, where he opens a one-week campaign tomorrow.

With him was "Ma." She said she was glad to see everybody.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Sunday had just concluded a five weeks' vacation, which was spent between Vancouver, B. C., and Philadelphia, Pa. Their faces were tanned a deep brown and Billy said he was back to his fighting weight, 145 pounds.

Save the Cherry Stones.

[New York Mail:] Everyone who has felt the scarcity of fats and oil in a disagreeable way on his own body, as we all have, will not permit the pits of fruits to be wasted. Ten cherry seeds yield enough fat for soap to wash one's hands and face; 100 cherry stones enough oil for a goodly portion of salad. The Red Cross and schools are gathering well-washed and dried pits of peaches, apricots, plums and prunes. The actual cash value of this nation-wide collection is turned over to charitable purposes. Therefore, collect your fruit stones. Allow nothing to be wasted.

The above communication of the German war nutrition department to the public tells a whole story without further comment.

OBSERVATIONS OF A VETERAN LAWYER.

BY TOM. FITCH.

The Inheritance Tax Law.

A French statesman said that "the science of taxation consists in plucking the most feathers with the least squawking." An inheritance tax, when the law is properly administered, is a fair method of raising revenue. Gibbons, the historian, says that Emperor Augustus originated the inheritance tax to support the Roman army. Lord North introduced it into Great Britain in 1780. Prussia, France, Italy, Spain and the Scandinavian countries have made it a part of their revenue systems. In 1826 Pennsylvania adopted it, since which date forty-one other States of the Union have made it a part of their tax system.

Yet, notwithstanding the fairness of an inheritance tax when levied by the State, it becomes unfair if levied by the Federal government, for it would be double taxation as clearly as if the United States were to levy a direct tax on real and personal property. In 1913 the American people paid in taxes to the Federal government $664,000,000; to State governments, $307,000,000; to county governments, $310,000,000, and to municipalities, $850,000,000, a total of $2,103,000,000. The head of the average American family is compelled to pay $75.50 per year for the support of his State and municipality, and $32.30 for the Federal government, making in all a tax of $110 per family.

Duties on imports may not under the Constitution of the United States be levied by States. That source of revenue was reserved to the general government. Direct taxation except for the excise on liquors and tobacco was left to the States, and was not, except in times of stress, exercised by the Federal government. The money raised by the inheritance tax law of the State relieves the small property owner of a part of his tax burden. To take away the right to levy inheritance taxes from the State and bestow it exclusively upon the Federal government would be to increase the tax burden of the home owner. To allow inheritance taxes to be levied by both State and Federal governments would be double taxation which, if extended to property generally, would be an intolerable burden on the citizen.

The inheritance tax bill now pending in Congress is objectionable not only in principle, but in its administrative details. One section of it requires the collector of internal revenue to force a sale of the property of the estate within fourteen months of the death of the decedent. This practically takes away from the executor of an estate the powers intrusted to him by the will of a decedent, and bestows them upon a collector of internal revenue who, however deserving he may be as a politician, may be very undeserving as a business man or as a guardian of the interests of heirs.

Carranza's Confiscatory Decree.

William H. Seaman, late of Chihuahua, who has had long experience in Mexico as a mining engineer and is thoroughly familiar with industrial and financial conditions in that country, has furnished a table showing the amount of investments in the republic in mines, haciendas and industrial plants. His figures show that the amount of property holdings of Americans in Mexico is $1,057,770,000, of Mexicans is $793,187,343, of English is $321,302,800, of French is $143,446,000 and of other nations is $118,535,380. Of $2,434,241,422 worth of real property in Mexico, aliens own more than two-thirds and Mexicans less than one-third.

As explained in a recent editorial in The Times, Carranza, by a decree which it is in his power as de facto President to make, has, in strict compliance with both international and common law, transferred all foreign-owned real property in Mexico into Mexican-owned property subject as such to any general system of taxation which Mexican rapacity and ingenuity may devise. For instance, if, following the plan now pending in Washington of taxing the industry of munitions manufacturing on the basis of a share either of net profits or gross receipts, he should issue a decree levying a tax of one-fourth or one-third of all the copper, lead, silver and gold produced in the mines, or one-tenth of all the products of the agricultural land, two-thirds of the tax would be collected from property holders who are now aliens entitled to the protection of their governments, but who would not as Mexican citizens be entitled to appeal to any government except that of Mexico, and they would, by Carranza's decree, be compelled to naturalize as Mexicans, or to sell out to Mexicans—which would be difficult if not impossible—or else lose their property altogether, for, as shown by The Times, under both international and common law every sovereignty has the absolute right to dictate the conditions on which it will allow aliens to own real property or if it will allow such ownership at all.

It looks as if the civilized nations which hold to the doctrine of the obligation of nations to protect the property rights as well as the personal rights of their citizens in foreign lands, will be obliged to call to account the Aztec barbarism which is masquerading as a government on our southern border, and either require Carranza as evidence of good faith to rescind his confiscatory decree, or else intervene, take possession of Northern Mexico and rescind it ourselves.

Turkey's Right.

[New York Evening Sun:] The Armenians are eating human flesh to sustain life; the Syrians are in equal extremity. In both countries wholesale murder has thinned the ranks of those who fight starvation. Whatever any other power may win in the present conflict there can be no two minds as to Turkey's right. By her brutality to her Christian subjects Turkey has already won the right to extinction.

It is claimed there is enough coal in Alaska to last the country 2000 years. But what shall we do after that?

THE OPEN DOOR.

[CONTRIBUTED TO THE TIMES]

BY CHUGO OHIRA,

Editor of the East and West News; Member of the Law School at Tokio University.

IN A COUNTRY like Japan, with an ever-increasing population and yet with very limited resources, a policy which does not aim at industrial and commercial expansion is unthinkable. Work or starve is the condition of the masses in Japan. Under this absolute necessity for work Japan cannot afford to miss any opportunity of economic expansion. It is but natural, therefore, that Japan is reaching out for markets in China, as elsewhere.

Does this Japanese ambition come into conflict with the Hay doctrine commonly known as the "open door" policy? Does this Japanese expansion policy menace American trade in China? These questions merit special attention at this time when the newly concluded Russo-Japanese concordat is viewed with apprehension by certain Americans.

For quite a long time it has been maintained by certain critics, especially by writers from Peking and Shanghai and their associates in this country, that the "open door" policy is diametrically opposed to Japan's policy in China. Nothing can be more wholly absurd. The "open door" policy does not thwart Japan's trade expansion in China; on the contrary, it serves Japan as a positive asset. Unless the door is kept wide open Japan can hardly expect to satisfy her trade hunger in China, and on this Japan's future prosperity is largely dependent.

The reasons why the "open door" policy is an asset in Japan's trade ambition are not far to seek. Suppose that Japan were to close the door to the world in her sphere of influence—South Manchuria, Eastern Inner Mongolia, Fukien and a section of Shantung, covering in all 204,000 square miles; the inevitable result would be that she would find herself excluded by England, France and Russia in their spheres of influence—North Manchuria, Outer Mongolia, Sinkiang, Thibet, the provinces all along the Yangtse Valley, and the provinces of Yunnan, Kuantung and Kuangsi, extending over 2,000,000 square miles. She would thus be deprived of the opportunity to make use of her vast natural and acquired advantages over all the western nations—her proximity to China; kinship in language; similarity of every-day needs; fuller knowledge of Chinese conditions and the abundance of cheap labor at home. It was entirely due to these advantages that under the very eyes of the Germans in Shantung the Japanese there succeeded in surpassing them in trade.

This idea being well understood by the Japanese people generally, it is beyond comprehension that the Tokio government would ever resort to a policy adverse to the Hay doctrine. The main reasons which lead to an apprehension regarding Japan's attitude toward the doctrine are the failure to grasp the far-reaching extent of western influence in the Far East and an exaggerated idea of the Japanese advance in China.

Although the "open door" policy is so beneficial to Japan that she will uphold it with all her might and main, its advantages are scarcely so great as to allow her to gain control of all industrial and commercial opportunities in China. Her resources as well as her capacity for production in volume and variety are too scant and limited to realize such a dream!

It is unmanly, more than unjust, to quote as do certain critics the falling-off of American trade in Manchuria as an instance of Japan's interference with the full and free course of commerce in that Japanese sphere of influence. The decrease, as was found by an American investigating committee sent over there, is not due to unfair methods employed by the Japanese but to the following reasons: the Japanese are practically the sole customers for the soya bean—Manchuria's premier product—which gives Japan the most advantageous position to supply the necessary imports of Manchuria; her methods in the spinning industry are second to none in efficiency; she has vast natural and acquired advantages, such as mentioned before. As a matter of fact, though the American cotton-goods trade has given way to Japanese cotton, the United States is selling raw cotton to Japan at the rate of $30,000,000 a year; even in Manchuria, there will be found a great deal of American flour, oil, rolling stock and rails.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

CHARITY.

A man came feebly to my door;
he'd walked a hundred miles or more, since last he had a meal; he said, "The road is harsh and long, and words, however fierce and strong, can't tell how tough I feel.
I beg you for a half a plunk, that I may get myself a bunk, and something I can eat; for I am old and fear I'd die if I again must hungry lie in alley or in street." "In sooth," I said "I'm glad to aid the man whose fortunes are decayed, his prayer I do not spurn; but it would pauperize you, friend, if haply I should give or lend some coin you do not earn. I'll give you fifty cents," I said, "if you will paint you cattle-shed, and prune those basswood trees, and make the sidewalk good and straight, and nail some hinges on the gate, and herd the bumblebees. And you might paint the window screens, and hoe that patch of Lima beans, and skim the milk in yonder pans, and gather up the old tin cans, and take them to the dump." That pilgrim, ancient and forlorn, regarded me with blighting scorn, and shuffled out of reach; it merely shows that homeless men don't really want to earn the yen
they soulfully beseech.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.—The favorites won in the third round of the national golf tournament at the Philadelphia Cricket Club today and tomorrow will see Robert A. Gardner, the title-holder, paired with Jesse Guilford, the Massachusetts champion, while Chick Evans, Chicago, will play against D. C. Corkran of Baltimore.

Gardner had his hands full to defeat R. T. Jones, Jr., the 15-year-old Georgia youth. The title-holder was 1 down after the first thirteen holes, but by playing perfect golf all afternoon, won on the thirty-third green by 2 up and 3 to play.

From a sectional standpoint the tournament now has a decidedly eastern flavor with Chicago's open and amateur champions still in the running, Evans having put his old rival, John G. Anderson of Newport, out of the going today, 3 to 2. New England still has Jesse Guilford as a contender, since he put Robert Gardner White of Flushing, N. Y., by a 4-and-3 score, crushing New York's chances of showing a winner.

From below the Mason and Dixon line, D. C. Corkran of Baltimore is [illegible] representative. Corkran put out to-day Cameron B. Buxton's Philadelphia hope, by a 5-and-4 score. PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.—The favorites won in the third round of the national golf tournament at the Cricket Club today and tomorrow will see Robert A. Gardner, the title-holder, paired with Jesse Guilford, the Massachusetts champion, while Chick Evans, Chicago, will play against D. C. Corkran of Baltimore.

Gardner had his hands full to defeat R. T. Jones, Jr., the 15-year-old Georgia youth. The title-holder was 1 down after the first nine holes, but by playing par golf on the second, won on the third green by 1 up and 2 to play.

From a sectional standpoint the tournament now has a decidedly western flavor with Chicago's open and amateur champions still in the game, Evans having put his old friend John G. Anderson of New York out of the running today, 9 to 8. Guilford still has Jesse Guilford as a contender, since he put Gardner White of Flushing, N. Y., out by a 3-and-2 score, crushing New York chances of showing a winner.

Both the Mason and Dixon champion, D. C. Corkran of Baltimore is still in the running, Corkran put out Theodore B. Burton's Philadelphia team, by a 2-and-1 score.

Gardner made a supreme effort to defeat Guilford and played up to the form he showed better than the champion himself on the greens the Chicago boy had much the better of it.

Going to the sixth, Gardner was the only one having made a bad start. Both had poor balls, but Jones put his second fifteen feet short of the cup, while Gardner was off the green and played very badly for his third. Gardner, however, laid his putt dead and thus got a 4, and the hole was halved.

In the next seventh and eighth holes Gardner scored exactly the same, getting his par 3 and 4 after playing every shot perfectly. Meanwhile Jones got his pars in the same manner. His iron on the seventh was over the green in the rough, but he got his 3. On the eighth Jones's second was over the green in a pit, his third was one, and his putt from the pin, yet he failed to putt to halve Jones's score, which stood 4.

Then on Gardner was not in the least the count to dormie Jones with his first ball out of bounds. Jones was well up the fairway and it looked as if Jones would be able to win another hole. However, his second drive was a trifle short of the green, and although left him twenty feet from the pin, but he sank it, thus halving with the second ball. This enabled him to halve Jones's score, as he played 4 and end the hole.

Anderson of Swansey was matched today for Chick Evans.

The open champion had a lead of 6 up at the end of eighteen holes, while the final score was 9 to 8. Evans played great golf, taking 75 for the completed morning round, to 84 by Anderson.

Guilford had no trouble in beating Gardiner White of Flushing by a 4-and-3 score.

TRYING TO WALK WOLTER COSTS JACK QUINN GAME.

Angel Right Fielder Steps Across Plate and Swings at Wide One When Tiger Pitcher Attempts to Walk Him. Blow Results in Triple Driving in Tying and Winning Runs—Zabel Sticks.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

BASEBALL is filled with the unexpected, and therein is said to lie its chief charm.

Jack Quinn begs leave to differ. In the seventh yesterday, Jack was trying his durndest to walk Harry Wolter with runners on second and third and the score 5 to 4 in favor of Vernon. With Mitse standing far to one side, he threw up two wide ones. Suddenly a clever idea was germinated inside of Wolter's head, and reaching out he cracked the next one pitched to left for three bases. This was so very unexpected that it took all the charm out of baseball for the most prominent member of the Quinn household.

The wallop did considerable irreparable damage to the hopes of the Hampats, and they never did catch up. Two scored on it. Also the blow jarred Quinn down to his foundations, injured his pride and upset his mental equilibrium with the result that the Angels finished up the job by knocking him out of the box and landing on good old Otto Hess for enough hits to net a grand total of five runs in the inning. These placed on top of four made off Chief Johnson in the second, returned Los Angeles a 9 to 5 winner and placed them back within a fraction of a game of the lead.

BAD MEDICINE.

Chief Johnson ducked into the bomb proof under fire in the second. This created consternation, as the Chief showed a lot of stuff while warming up, and generally is straight poison for the Angels. It is believed that the Chief left his medicine case containing the poison at home yesterday.

George Washington Zabel was touched for seven hits, three of them very shady, and displayed more than his usual steadiness, passing only two. As a result the Hampats, did hardly enough walking to keep in good condition, or improve their appetites. The last time Zabel was in action here he suffered from an explosion in his right side when a large cargo of custard pie and other home cooking fermented. The shell crater in his ribs had entirely healed, and nobody would have suspected that he had torpedoed himself less than three weeks ago.

Not an earned run was scored off Zabe, which does not speak well for his support. Errors committed on the first two men to face him paved the way for two runs. In the almost fatal fourth Rube Ellis dropped a short fly on what should have been the third out, and in the haste of the crisis made a bum throw to the plate, making himself in the small space of five seconds responsible for three runs. This wiped out the lead which Los Angeles had compiled in the second, and made Rube rather unpopular for the moment, but he was forgiven if not forgotten in the developments of the seventh.

THE TRICK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—"Chick" Autrey, first baseman, has been given his unconditional release by Manager Harry Wolverton of the San Francisco team in the Pacific Coast Baseball League, according to a telegram received here today from Wolverton. Autrey, who came to the Seals from the Minneapolis team in the American Association, will be replaced by Bill Speas, formerly with Portland in the Coast League.

POWERS PLANS GREAT STADIUM.

President Powers of the Angels is making arrangements to provide a permanent home for the Los Angeles club that will make Washington Park look several years behind the times.

It has been learned on apparently reliable authority that he already had picked the site. The new park will not be built until the present lease expires in 1920. It will be christened "Chance Park," according to present plans. Powers, as he will provide the money, could have appropriately named it after himself, but prefers to dedicate it to his manager. The grand stand is to be a double-decker and of concrete. The park will be constructed along stadium lines.

OAKLAND, Sept. 7.—Salt Lake defeated Oakland today 2 to 1. The score stood 2 to 1 in favor of Salt Lake until the ninth, when the Bees converted six hits into six runs. Fittery was touched for nine hits, but good support prevented their development into anything more serious. The score:

CORONADO POLO TEAM LOSES IN THE EAST.

BEVERLY (Mass.) Sept. 7.—In final match for the Samuel D. Warren memorial cups, Myopia first team showed the way to the Coronado four at Prince Mere, the private polo grounds of Frederick H. Prince at Wenham this afternoon, winning by a 14 to 10½ score. Coronado had a nineteen-goal outfit to a nine-goal line-up from the Hamilton cup, the home team getting an allowance of ten goals through virtue of the ratings.

Features were the playing of Hopping and Balding for the visitors and of Harry McKean for Myopia. Enthusiastic galleries saw the match.

ATHLETES LINE UP AT NEWARK.

East and West Scrap on the Track.

Both Sections Represented by Strong Men.

Hurdle Race Admitted to be Feature Event.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 7.—Athletes from all over the country, the pick of the leading clubs in all divisions of the Amateur Athletic Union, will gather tomorrow and Saturday to compete for the national junior and senior championships on track and field, which will be decided at Weequahic Park, Newark, N. J., where two weeks later the national all around championships of the A.A.U. will be the attraction.

Judging from the lists of intending competitors furnished by the officials in the different divisions of the Amateur Athletic Union, the greatest athletes available will be on hand so that the special events will be closely and cleverly contested.

In the senior sprints the West and East will be strongly represented, with Williams from the Coast, Loomis and Ward of Chicago, and Morse, Smith and Kelly of New York. The quarter-mile will bring together Meredith of Pennsylvania, Halpin of Boston, Lennon and Lagary of New York, and Sloman.

Several crack runners will be seen in the half-mile event, which should be an unusually well-contested race, as Eby and Campbell of Chicago, Higgins of Boston, W. M. Scott, the conference champion, and record holder, and Schuler and Homer Baker of the New York A. C. are listed as starters.

Wilson, the Pacific Coast champion; "Joie" Ray of Chicago, Gordon of the New York A. C., and Meyers of the Irish-American A. C., should furnish a stirring contest in the one-mile event and in the five-mile race; Millard of San Francisco, who ran second to Hannes Kolehmainen last year, will again meet the champion, who was beaten by Holden in the metropolitan championship last week. These three and "Joe" Ray should be in the forefront at the finish of the long run.

The timber toppers will be the features of the meet, and new championship time is almost sure to be registered for the shorter distance over the sticks. Murray, Kelly and Thomson, from the Coast; Simpson of Missouri, French of Maine, and "Jack" Eller of the Irish-American A. C., leave nothing to be desired as to quantity and quality in a field of hurdlers. In the longest of the three hurdle contests, Mamik, Goelitz, Muenter and Scharf should take care of all other contenders.

On his showing in the metropolitan javelin throw, Lincoln of the N.Y.A.C. might beat Bronder again, while Liversidge, the record holder, may win the event. Sam Bellah could not come East for the pole vault, so that Landers of Chicago seems to be the most likely winner.

"Big Pat" Ryan of the Irish-American A.C. should have no difficulty in retaining the hammer honors, but in the 56-pound event the big fellow will meet Talbot, McEachern, McGrath and McDonald, any one of whom is likely to beat him. Mucks, Ryan and McDonald should account for the shot put and the discus honors should be divided between Mucks and Duncan.

Platt, Adams (N.Y.A.C.) Worthington, Boston A.A., with Sisson from the Coast and Simpson of Missouri could fill the point places in the running broad jump, while Oler, Richards, Erickson and Mayer look the pick of the high jump. Of the other field events, the hop, step and jump must be conceded to Dan Ahern of Chicago, the title holder.

The team that will represent the Chicago A.A., while not as well balanced as the N.Y.A.C. and the Irish-American A.C., is sure to give these two local clubs a hard fight for the point trophy.

Landers, the schoolboy from the Oregon High School, who is now representing the Chicago A.A., vaulted 12ft. 7½in. recently in the Central Association championships and looks to be the best in the pole vault, although he will meet good men in "Ed" Klourek of the Illinois A.C. and "Red" Graham of the University of Chicago, who tied at 12ft 10in. in the indoor championships of the Central Association last April, and "Fred" Watkins of the Los Angeles A.C., who has a record of 12ft. 6in. in this event.

Striking Out!

The fellow that strikes out every time he goes to bat will not remain on the pay roll very long.

The fellow that habitually misses every passing opportunity to save part of his salary will soon find himself unfitted for the business game.

The Kaiser insists that he did not start it. Then who did?

The Japanese peril has now attacked the lawn tennis court.

Poets as well as book agents and life insurance solicitors are born not made.

President Wilson announces that he will not go to Maine. And Maine will not go to Mr. Wilson.

The drouth has badly injured the corn crop in Kansas. Nothing has hurt during the Taft administration.

Not a word from Texas about invading Mexico since the watermelon season has been in full swing.

With Greece shoved off the map and stool, Sophie will see to it that King Constantine is kept busy shelling peas for dinner.

Ulric, how would you like to be a trained nurse? It is claimed that you receive on an average a marriage proposal a week. Some life, that.

What has become of the old-fashioned mothers who threatened to bake their own bread whenever the bakers talked about advancing the price?

The Episcopalians have agreed to eliminate the word "obey" from the marriage ceremony. Why not? It has been a dead letter ever since Sam was a boy.

Prohibitionists are claiming that Gov. Hanly, their candidate for President, spent his childhood in a log cabin. Wonder if there was a barrel of cider in that particular cabin.

The latest report is that the Chinese have attacked the Japanese prison at Chenchiatun. Remember the place? It is near the Chinese Railway, on the road to Changchun.

Some talk about the resignation of Chairman McCormick of the Democratic National Committee. He claims he is weary of being a messenger boy of the Morgan-Baruch-Morgenthau management of the Wilson machine.

President John K. Tener of the National League says that baseball must be played so as to suit the whims of the game. But how is a Governor of Pennsylvania going to manage it so that the home team will win all the time. Some job, that.

The Wilson administration fears re-election by resorting to a campaign of apologetic defense. Its chief attacks have focused public attention upon the shortcomings of the administration and upon the hypocrisy of its catch phrases.

Judge Seabury has resigned as associate judge of the Court of Appeals to make the race for the Democratic nomination for Governor of New York. How will Catholic Tammany like the prospect of supporting Seabury, whose chief asset is his opposition to that church?

The American shipbuilding business is now prosperous, and the national output is likely to exceed that of all the rest of the world. Then, isn't it a good time for the government not to interfere with shipping bills or other measures warranted to kill or cripple?

The trouble with the rural delegates that President Wilson has brought Congress is that it is a delegation rather than co-operative. They are there for government aid rather than for private enterprise. But even if aid is needed was a law on the statute books that would suffice for emergency purposes.

The bill just passed by the House authorizes the President to arm merchantmen of the United States when, in the opinion of any belligerent nation, such does not accord those rights to American vessels, citizens, their cargoes or corporations. This is a discrimination against England for the latter's orders on American goods, and the blacklist and interference with mails. Now let us see if the American protest will get beyond the letter-writing stage.

President Wilson is quite a lawyer. He was opposed to the Panama labor bill, and then after he reversed himself on the Panama Canal tolls; then on preparedness, and then on the immigration proposition. It is easy for members of Congress to commit themselves, and even circumstances making them forget as taking orders; as he blows one way and votes another. He is playing the game politics to the limit.

THE LAST MARCH.

By Marshal South.

Under the muffled hand, and voices wailing, wailing;
Over the sunlight on the sleeping rifles shine;
Down the slowly-moving khaki column swaying,
Moving down the silent street in solemn line.

Past the slowly-turning wheels of the roadway,
Stirring through the dust like some more shall tread;
Over the sobbing bugles wailing, calling, calling,
Wailing out their last and final moans to the dead.

Under the flag that drapes its staff in folds above him,
As he passes silent on his last review;
Under the lines of boots and rifles swinging—
The slow footsteps of the regiment that he knew.

"Taps" has passed," bear him mournful notes declare.
He is summoned to report
"Great Command;"
"Taps has passed"—the silent
And the distance drowns the ring of the band.

Defeat of Dodgers Gives Champs Big Lead.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BOSTON, Sept. 7.—Philadelphia won both games from Boston today, the first, 4 to 2, and the second, 3 to 0. In the first game Rixey allowed only one hit up to the seventh, when the home team scored their two runs on four singles and an error by Niehoff. Ragan was hit freely and Reulbach was sent in in the ninth. The second game was a pitchers' duel between Mayer and Hughes up to the sixth inning, when Barnes relieved Hughes, who was struck on the back of the right hand with a pitched ball. Philadelphia scored its two runs in the ninth on a single by Luderus after two were down and an error by Smith had filled the bases. The scores:

BILL LEARD A MANAGER.

[DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Sept. 7.—Bill Leard, former Tacoma second baseman and Coast League infielder, has been signed today to succeed Tealey Raymond as manager of the Seattle Northwestern League club.

Raymond says he has nothing in view. "I felt that eight years was long enough for a player to stay on one club, so I asked for my release," declared the little manager.

Rumor has it that Raymond has his eye on a managerial berth in a league of higher classification than the Northwestern.

AMERICANS DEFEAT JAPANESE STARS.

R. N. WILLIAMS II AND CLARENCE J. GRIFFIN VICTORS.

Oriental Players Win First Set of Exhibition, then Blow—Kumagae Easily Wins from Roland Roberts on Courts of the Cynwyd Tennis Club.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.—R. Norris Williams II, the new national singles tennis champion, and Clarence J. Griffin of San Francisco defeated I. Kumagae and H. Mikami, the Japanese experts, in an exhibition doubles match today on the courts of the Cynwyd Tennis Club, 3-6, 7-5, 6-2.

Williams substituted for William M. Johnston, who shares with Griffin the national doubles title. It was the first time the Americans had played as partners and the visitors easily won the first set. The team work of the Americans improved as the match progressed and the second set was won by them after they had forced the score to deuce and they won the third set easily.

Kumagae scored an easy victory earlier in the afternoon in a singles match with Roland Roberts of San Francisco. The score was 6-1, 6-2.

SATISFY!

—what does that mean?

It means that NEW quality, in a cigarette, that does for your smoking exactly what a drink of cold water does for your thirst!

To satisfy, a cigarette must do far more than just "please" you—it must let you know you've been smoking.

That's what Chesterfields do—they satisfy! And yet they're MILD!

For the first time in the history of cigarettes, here's a cigarette that satisfies and yet is mild! Chesterfields!

Other cigarettes may be mild, but they don't satisfy.

BUT, Chesterfields satisfy—yet they're mild!

This is new enjoyment for a cigarette to give. It's something that no cigarette, except Chesterfields, can give you—regardless of price.

Why?

Because no cigarette maker can copy the *Chesterfield blend!

Over-extended Bull Accounts in Some of the Prominent Specialties Suffer More or Less Depreciation in Broad and Active Dealings, While Other Issues Pursue a Contrary Course.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Over-extended bull accounts in some of the prominent specialties suffered more or less depreciation in today's broad and active market, while coppers, petroleum, tobaccos and numerous minor issues pursued a contrary course. There was heavy selling of Mercantile Marines, the common making an extreme decline of 1 points, with 2 for the preferred. United Fruit forfeited 2 points, but Pacific Mail, controlled by the Marine interests, made a gross gain of 4½. United States Steel reflected steady dealings for profits on yesterday's advance to a new record, though losing only ⅝ point on the day, but Bethlehem-Springfield Tire, one of the speculative issues of the motor group, broke 4 points to 80½, only a part of this decline being regained. Reading's strength was the outstanding feature, mounting 4¾ to 110¾, its highest price since May, with moderate activity and strength in coalers, New York Central, Baltimore and Ohio, and New Haven. Pacifics helped the movement in rails for a time, but fell back on light offerings. Improvement in coppers did not make much headway until the final hour, when Utah rose 3 to the new record of 93¾, with average gains of 1¾ points in other metals. Favorable trade conditions and additional foreign orders were accepted as the primary reasons for the movement. Scarcity of the finished product accounted for the activity at higher prices of several paper issues, International Paper common and preferred, gaining from 3 to 4 points. Munitions and shipments were irregular at best, and motors yielded to pressure with their accessories. Total sales of stocks amounted to 1,035,000 shares. The issuance of francs and another reaction in marks, both on nominal dealings, featured the exchange market. Bonds were irregular, with heaviness in Rock Island debentures. Total sales, par value, $3,485,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

BIG JIM ADVANCES ON LOCAL EXCHANGE.

CONTINUED UPWARD MOVEMENT IN LEADER.

Public Purchases Mining Favorite at Better Prices—Other Oatmans Steady—Lucky Boy a Trifle Higher—Union Oil Gains Strength—Investment Slumps.

Big Jim continued the chief feature at yesterday's session of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange, and trading in the sensational mining leader lent what excitement there was to the day's activity. Opening in the morning firm at 1.12½, the stock gradually accumulated strength in the afternoon, and closing transactions were recorded at 1.15, a gain of 3¼ points over final dealings on Wednesday. The upward movement in Big Jim, which started a little over a week ago, seems destined to carry the quotation for the stock to a high level before the inevitable reaction sets in. However, a large number of local brokers are making the statement that there will be no reaction this time, or at least the stock will advance to much higher marks before there is any decline of a serious nature. A great many of the sales yesterday, which totaled over 16,000 shares, were for private account, and it is said that the public has been steadily buying the stock since the recent bull movement. The other Oatmans were steady Thursday and Lucky Boy was a trifle higher at .13¾. The first sale in the bank group for over a month was registered when ten shares of Commercial National changed hands at 190. In the oil list Columbia was active at 1.05, but United brought only .18¾. Bidding for Union was more in evidence yesterday, and the stock was much stronger than the day before. A sharp upward movement in this security is expected from now on, and it seems likely that the stock will be selling for $5.00 or better within a few days. Los Angeles Investment was unable to hold its high marks of the day before, and a full decline of 1 point was observed before the meeting was brought to a close.

Business Page: Citrus Fruits, Butter and Eggs—Current Trade—Local Produce Marke

COMMERCIAL.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Valencia oranges were a little easier yesterday when the Sunkist variety was cut to $4.75 a box. Eastern demand for California oranges has fallen off quite a bit of late, and this is the reason advanced for the lower values Thursday. Peaches are cheaper in the fresh fruit list, and the range of quotations yesterday was all the way from 45 to 90 cents a lug. Clingstone peaches are of course the most expensive, but the price for them at some stands today is fully 25 cents below prices ruling a week ago. As a matter of fact, receipts of peaches have increased so heavily during the past ten days that dealers were forced to lower their prices if they wanted to keep their stocks cleaned up from day to day. Cantaloupes coming into the market now are all in small crates, the large pineapple crates having dropped off the market. German prunes are on hand at $1.60 to $1.75 a crate, and French and Italian varieties are selling for the same values.

As a natural result of the sharp upward movement on grain which has taken place in the last thirty-five days, prices for rolled wheat and rolled oats have been advanced repeatedly of late by local jobbers. It may be that these values will ease off later on, but for the present the higher prices are liable to hold, as stocks in particular have been purchased quite extensively on the stronger market, and jobbers will naturally get the full prices as long as they can.

Cape Cod's cranberry crop is estimated at 250,000 barrels, slightly in excess of the 1915 crop, but 200,000 barrels short of the record yield of 1914.

Butter and eggs were again advanced at yesterday's session of the Produce Exchange, when 5 cubes of creamery extras changed hands at 33 cents a pound, and bids were heard for more of the same at 36 cents a dozen. Egg receipts contine small, and this is the main reason for the higher values that have prevailed this week. A heavy demand for California butter from outside points is responsible for the bullish market in that commodity. According to Secretary Stanley, the receipts consisted of 372 cases of eggs, 44,700 pounds of butter, 200 pounds of cheese, 1374 sacks of potatoes, 50 sacks of onions, 23 sacks of sweet potatoes, 10,118 boxes of apples, 1000 boxes of peaches and 2168 crates of grapes.

DOLLAR-AND HALF DECLINE PER BALE.

SOUTHERN HEDGE SELLING AGAIN MARKET FACTOR.

Outside Liquidation on Liberal Scale and Short Transactions are Again in Evidence—First Ginning Report of Season to be Issued Today.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 8.—Today's was another session wgh cotton values displaying a dropping tendency, and prices at one time showed a decline of $1.50 a bale, as compared with yesterday's finals. The extreme low quotations showed a decline from last week's high prices of 1 to 1¼ cents a pound. Southern hedge selling was again a big factor, and outside liquidation was also on a rather liberal scale. Fresh short selling was indulged in by the professional element, and it is the consensus of opinion that the technical position of the market has been considerably strengthened. Waco (Tex.) and Savannah (Ga.,) reported that spot markets were inclined to show a hardening tendency, with farmers unwilling to sell at the lower basis. The first ginning report of the season, showing the amount of cotton ginned up to September 1, will be issued tomorrow at 10.00 a.m. Unless the figures are sensational, the same is expected to exert little or no influence on the market. A local statistician has estimated the 1916-1917 cotton crop, including linters, at 13,193,000 bales. The attitude of the southern farmer relative to the marketing of his product is the real key to the situation, and unless hedge selling is persisted in, it is more than probable that a sharp rally is liable to take place.

Liverpool cables, due 3½ lower on October, 3 lower on January, 4½ lower on March, and 4 lower on May, came 4½ lower than due on October, 4 lower on January, and 5½ lower on March. There was a fair demand for spot cotton; prices easier; sales, 8000 bales; receipts, 3000 bales; American, 2500 bales; middlings, 9.45; futures opened easier and closed so.

Loses the Game.

situation for four innings, and had the Angels obeying him in every particular. The first hit off him was made in the seventh, when Zabel himself poked a grounder into right that was too deep for Risberg to handle cleanly. Maggert worked Jack for a pass and Ellis sacrificed, placing the runners on second and third.

To pass Wolter was the legitimate move, and Quinn and Mitze decided to do so without hesitation. Two wide ones were sent up. Wolter assumed an aimless attitude at the plate, and appeared to be free from guile. In reality he was fully cocked with both eyes twinkling brightly. The next pitch was wide, but broke slightly in toward the plate. Unshouldering his bat, Wolter, with a half hook, placed the ball out in left field near the line, sadly crossing the opposition.

Daley, caught flat-footed, was unable to reach the ball, and it eluded him for three bases. Zabel and Maggert piled across the plate. For a time it was feared that Wolter would laugh himself to death before reaching third, but he finally managed to arrive there in a choking condition.

HAM EXCITED.

Patterson bounced out from the bench, and told Quinn what he thought of him as a pitcher and of Mitze as a ketcher. As Mitze didn't throw the ball it is hard to see in what respect he is guilty. Pat also referred to Wolter as the meanest and most treacherous batter in the world.

When Ham had subsided, Koerner cut in with a clean single to center that brought Wolter back to the scene of his great deed. Quinn wild pitched Koerner to second, and fanned Joe Schultz, our newest third baseman. McLarry plumped out a single, and Capt. Beef cashed in with another run. This closed up the affairs of Mr. Quinn. Jack on leaving the box did not pay a visit to the Vernon bench. He took a cross-country cut direct to the clubhouse. Enter Otto Hess. Boles straightened the first ball which good old Otto threw up into a single. McLarry went to third, and scored on a double by Bobby Davis, who represents the latest style in Angel short stops. Polly took third, and expired there when Zabel around again for the purpose of repeating fled to Mattick.

BAP GONE.

These unforseen events sort of took the sap out of the Hampats and they didn't take much interest in the subsequent proceedings. With this lead to sustain and comfort him, Zabel remained steadfast to the end. A wonderful catch by Ellis edified the eighth, Rube snatching McGaffigan's liner off his toes with two on, and executing two more desperate catches in the ninth.

Both Schultz and Davis made strong bids for a permanent home here, and the indications are that they will buy bungalows on the installment plan and locate. After a bad getaway in which he fell down in the first inning, Schultz performed a number of hair-curling assists, and drove in the first Angel run with a single. Davis exploded a triple in the second, and later registered a double, both blows landing with men on bases. His tagging of runners at second also was sensational—not much less so than the shooting of Boles. Walter gave one of the finest little exhibitions of throwing seen here in quite a spell, pinging two men who had taken abnormal leads. Bassler is not going to be missed as much as expected.

The Los Angeles Rooters' Club, under the valiant leadership of Dad Munholland, fulfilled its destiny and was responsible for a lot of heavy shouting which doubtless had its influence on the ebb and flow of human events.

RICKETY FIRST.

The Angel defense was very rickety in the first. After Zabel had whipped over two strikes on Doane, Walter drove down to third. Schultz caught his Pittsburgh spikes in the turf and fell while fielding the ball. Gleichmann bunted to Zabel who tried to throw the ball before getting hold of it. Both runners safe. Risberg sacrificed. Ellis pulled down a vicious fly from Bates, Doane scoring after the catch. Daley tripled to the fence, scoring Gloomy Gus, and Mattick fled to Wolter.

After remaining dormant in the first, Los Angeles became buster than a strange cat in a new alley in the second. As a starter, Koerner pumped a double to the left-field fence. Schultz scored him with a single that grased McGaffigan. McLarry bunted to Bates, whose throw pulled Gleichmann off the bag. Boles sacrificed. Davis made his batting debut here with a long triple out between Daley and Mattick, two counting. Quinn pitching. Zabel walked. Maggert, with a fly to Daley, released Davis. Quinn tossed out Ellis.

NEAR WRECK.

Too many new men on the ball club came near wrecking it in the fourth. Bates opened with a single. Daley sent a spiteful grounder toward left. Davis, thinking that Schultz would take the ball, let it go through him. He could have made no play anyway, being too deep. Mattick and McGaffigan flied to Maggert. Mitze lifted a fly in short left. It was comparatively easy for either Davis or Ellis. There was a moment of hesitation by both men. Rube made a lunge for the ball and dropped it. Bates and Daley scored, Ellis soaking the latter in the back with the pill. Mitze went to third on the error, and counted on Quinn's Texas leaguer between McLarry and Wolter. Doane forced Jack. Vernon nourished this slender lead until the seventh, when Wolter established himself as one of the foxiest and most resourceful batting athletes in these entire United States. The score:

Finance Committee to Seek New Appropriation.

Says Tunnel will Mean Vast Profits for City.

The Finance Committee of the City Council will today recommend that $38,000 be appropriated from the general expense fund for the continuance of the work on the Crooked Creek tunnel proposition, a portion of the municipal power project. The committee states that when completed it will mean property worth millions of dollars to Los Angeles.

The committee reports having personally gone over the ground and that $16,305 already has been paid out for lands, tunnels, conduits, dam sites, camp buildings and water supply, construction equipment, local superintendence and administration, surveys, filing fees and miscellaneous items. The conduit from the Owens River to the portal is partially completed. Over 1500 feet of tunnel has been driven at an expense of 1 per cent less than the original estimate. The work is now proceeding at about eight feet per day in the tunnel.

It is absolutely imperative, the committee says, that active work should be kept up in order that this great work may be completed at the earliest possible time, and, aside from that, even a temporary cessation of work might encourage attempts to the city's intention to utilize its natural power producer. In order to do this it is necessary to make some appropriation for the immediate continuance. The money appropriated is to be used for the building of machinery, wages and supplies, which must be gotten in camp at the earliest possible date, for the reason that in a short time the heavy snows will make the work impossible. The amount recommended will last until April, when it is made will again be open for bidding.

This is practically the last power site in the mountains available for use, and the committee says it would be nothing short of almost criminal if it were to refrain from urging on the city the absolute necessity for the carrying out of this proposition. The magnitude of the work is of considerable extent, but ranges from $5,000 to $9,000 additional horse power electrical energy to be owned, controlled and operated by the city. It will also give a transmission line independent of the one now under construction, which, in all human probability, will positively guarantee a reliable continuity of service.

Coincidence.

JAPANESE HERE TO STUDY IRON GAME.

BARON SHIBA OF TOKIO AND PARTY LOATH TO TALK.

Railroad Arrangements May be Made for the Delivery of Ore to Japanese Steel Mills; the Need is Very Imperative, Owing to the Scarcity Caused by the War.

It is a peculiar coincidence, two parties of prominent Japanese arrived at two different hotels in the city yesterday, and in each instance the principals declared themselves here to study at first hand the iron and steel industry in the United States with a view to making business arrangements so that the present critical condition due to lack of these products, in Japan, may be relieved.

Baron I. C. Shiba, Japanese noble and professor of engineering in the Imperial University at Tokio, arrived at the Alexandria. Baron Shiba, while loath to talk about his visit, admitted he is here to glean all the first-hand information he can regarding iron and steel. He is accompanied by Dr. N. Okada, professor of medicine at the Imperial University, who desires to study surgical conditions here. V. Hashimoto of the Oriental Steamship company, S. Kanahara of the Nippon Shipbuilding Company, and S. H. Kato of Yokahama Dry Dock company, all men of prominence in their own country, are also with the party. Those men will assist in any commercial negotiations that Baron Shiba may undertake while here.

Kenji Angelus yesterday afternoon. T. Kuroda, representative of one of the great steel manufacturing firms in Tokio, declared he is here to see if it is possible to obtain sufficient iron ore to supply the demand of his company. He stated that since the outbreak of the war his company has found it harder than ever to obtain this ore. As all the mines are running full speed in the making arms and ammunition the need for steel at the present time is great.

Accusations.

MAIL THEFT CHARGED.

Grand Jury Now Held in Missouri is Indicted by the Federal Grand Jury Here for Rifling a Postal Pouch; Action on Other Cases.

The Federal grand jury yesterday returned an indictment against Frank English, alias Acey Hutchinson, charging him with rifling a registered mail pouch while it was in the Arcade station in this city the morning of January 30, last. He will be brought here from Kansas City, Mo., where he is in custody without charge.

Other indictments found yesterday were as follows: Henry Martin, for a signature to a money order; Jose Vargas and C. Estrada, for smoking opium in their possession; Arthur D. Votaw, transporting women in interstate commerce for immoral purpose (Votaw is a minister on the county chain gang for beating his wife;) A. Farmer, Bernardino, L. Carbajal and Jose Bahote, selling liquor to Indians.

Mary Sunshine,

"Headliner" of the moving picture to be presented at Trinity Auditorium for children tomorrow afternoon.

TO ENTERTAIN CHILDREN.

Show Saturday — Oh! Mary Sunshine.

A number of ladies of Trinity Auditorium have selected a special motion picture to be shown Saturday afternoon from 2 to 3:30 o'clock and from 3:30 to 4 o'clock at the Auditorium. The leading character will be Mary Sunshine, the 4-year-old child actress. Animal impersonations will also be given. This is a benefit for Trinity Church and the price of admission is nominal. The mothers of Los Angeles are invited to bring their children to this wholesome entertainment.

The different classes of Trinity Sunday-school have contributed complimentary tickets to the children of the Mexican Mission on East Seventh street. It is probable that groups from orphanages and other institutions will be present also.

LOCAL DISTRICT'S EXPORTS INCREASE.

OTHERWISE YEAR'S REPORT SHOWS FALLING OFF.

Embargo on Arms and Ammunition and Handling of Refugees Some of Delicate Problems Treated—Much Progress Made in Preventing Traffic in Drugs.

In obedience to the request of the United States Treasury Department the Collector of Customs has submitted a narrative report of the operations of the Los Angeles district for the year ending June 30 last.

It is said that the continuance of the European war has influenced the business of the district, as the following statement shows:

	1915.	1916.
Number of entries	8,360	8,498
Number of mail entries	5,465	5,479
Value of imports	$4,786,512	$4,175,200
Value of exports	2,541,581	3,201,420
Collections	855,190	846,569
Number of employees	50	49

Many questions have required delicate treatment during the year, such as the embargo on arms and ammunition and other merchandise, the bringing of loot into the United States from the disordered sections of Mexico, and the arrival at times of hundreds of refugees.

The use of automobiles in the customs service has increased during the year with good results. The district now has five automobiles on the Mexican border. During the year there were sixty-three arrests for opium smuggling, as compared with thirty-one for the corresponding period last year; 1006 cans of opium seized, as compared with 301, and forty-six other seizure cases, as compared with twenty-four.

The decree of the Mexican de facto government prohibiting the importation of opium into Mexico, or the handling of the drug in that country, has had an excellent effect in reducing the operations of those engaged in the traffic.

Orders issued by the department that have operated toward the wiping out of traffic were: The prohibition of the shipment of cocaine, morphine, heroine and other harmful drugs to the principal towns of Ensenada, Mexicali and Tia Juana, and the issuance of an order against the destruction of seizures of smoking opium in order that recovery may be made of the valuable drugs contained in the opium.

It has been recommended that the penalty for opium smuggling be increased from two to five years, and bills to that effect are now pending in Congress.

Many important protest and reappraisement cases have been won for the government in the district during the year, the most far-reaching being a series of protests growing out of the assessment of duty on large shipments of wrapper tobacco. It is recommended that the country be divided into districts wherein all tobacco importations will be examined by an expert tobacco examiner.

DR. SHIELS GUEST.

Reception to New Superintendent of Schools Feature of Parent-Teacher Association Open-air Luncheon—Work Here is Praised.

The annual openair basket lunch of the Parent-Teacher Association of Los Angeles was held yesterday in Echo Park and the occasion furnished an opportunity for a reception to the new superintendent, Dr. Albert Shiels.

Mrs. C. C. Noble, president of the association, introduced Dr. Shiels and offered the co-operation of its members in his work.

Dr. Shiels spoke in high praise of the efforts of the associations of this city, and invited the co-operation of the members.

Short addresses were made by the present and past officers of the association.

Motion pictures of the event were taken by the Pathecope company for use in the city schools to form a part of the school history. This is a part of the campaign for visual education in the schools.

Preliminary in Murder Case is Long Drawn Out.

That the fist fight which led to the slaying of John Brennan in Riley's Garage, No. 432 South Flower street, August 20, last, started when young Brennan resented an aspersion cast on his mother's good name by Eben J. Gregory, is the declaration of Julius Nelson, a garage employee, who testified in the preliminary examination of Gregory before Justice Brown yesterday. The charge is murder.

He said Mr. Brennan told Gregory, "You will apologize for calling my mother a thief," and Gregory retored that all of the Brennans could not make him say that. This was the signal for a bitter fight in which, the arresting officers said, Gregory was severely beaten.

The prosecution, conducted by Attorney Powell, sought to show that when Gregory drew a revolver, Mr. Brennan started to run and was shot in the back. Mr. Nelson testified that two shots were fired. The bullet from the first shot could not be located in the garage. The second bullet lodged in Mr. Brennan's back.

Gregory's defense, it is thought, will be that he acted in self-defense. He is represented by Attorney Earl Rogers. The hearing was behind closed doors, a score of witnesses being excluded.

The Brennans formerly rented rooms in apartments at No. 451 South Flower street, conducted by the Gregorys. The accused is alleged to have intimated that when the Brennans left, Mrs. M. H. Brennan abstracted linen from the apartments.

On August 20 Gregory drove his auto to the garage and put it away. He encountered young Brennan as he was leaving the garage.

The witnesses were cross-examined at great length. The hearing was not concluded last night.

In Bankruptcy.

STOCKHOLDER NOT LIABLE.

Referee's Findings in Motor Company Case Upheld.

Chief Shareholder Absolved by Federal Court.

Debts are Nearly Twenty Thousand Dollars.

The financial affairs of the Pacific Motor Coach Company, that several years ago organized a service between this city and the beach cities, were aired in Judge Trippet's court yesterday, on the hearing to review the findings of Force Parker, referee in bankruptcy. The testimony was given some weeks ago.

The court affirmed the opinion of the referee to the effect that William F. Douglas is not responsible for the debts of the concern to the extent of his stock holdings, but gave a different reason. Referee Parker decided that Douglas was not a stockholder, Judge Trippet held that he is not liable because he was an assignee for value, and the corporation had issued his stock as fully paid up.

With Douglas absolved from financial responsibility, the creditors of the company will have to look elsewhere for the payment of about $19,000.

The question whether stock issued without consideration could be held liable for debts was not passed on by Judge Trippet, as there seems to be much conflict of authority on that question.

When the Pacific Motor Coach Company was organized $50,000 shares of the stock were issued to H. G. Munn, who promoted the enterprise. William F. Douglas, a rich Manhattan man of New York, bought 150,000 shares of the capital stock, for which he paid $150,000 in cash. It is alleged that after Munn secured this money he spent $100,000 with the Kelly Springfield Motor Truck Company of Springfield, O., for vehicles; that $20,000 went to the company and $30,000 for commissions of various sorts.

Referee Parker decided that the corporation had never profited financially by the sale of the stock to Douglas.

Judge Trippet said that the company, in his opinion, had violated the law in issuing stock that had not been fully paid up, and that Douglas had been imposed on in his deal, for he had every reason to believe that the stock he paid for had been regularly issued and been paid for.

In the opinion of the court, Douglas did not owe the corporation a cent, and he thought the courts of New York, where Douglas lived, would study a long time before they would consent to a judgment against him. Judge Trippet also declared that in finding that Douglas was not a stockholder, Referee Parker had exceeded his authority. That is a question that should be settled by the State courts, he said.

The decision absolves Douglas of any financial responsibility for the debts of the Pacific Motor Coach Company, and it will be necessary for the creditors to bring an action in the State courts to enforce the stockholders' liability law against the other stockholders.

After the financial failure of the local enterprise the trucks were sent to San Francisco, where they did duty as means of transportation at the exposition.

After Five Years.

LAST CHAPTER OF SMUGGLING STORY.

HALL PLEADS GUILTY AND IS SENTENCED.

Defendant's Attorney, Asking for Leniency, Describes Hall's Reasons for Coming Back to this Country and Refers to Unnamed Dead Person Chiefly Responsible.

In Judge Trippet's court, yesterday, Ed Hall pleaded guilty to a conspiracy to bring Chinese contrabands into the United States that resulted in the successful landing of forty-two men at Monterey, in September, 1911. He was sentenced to three months in the County Jail with a fine of $20 on each of the five counts of the indictment against him.

In asking for the mercy of the court, Hall's attorney said that consideration for the dead sealed the lips of his client as to who was responsible for his predicament, the impression being that he referred to Ethel Hall, wife of the prisoner, who died at the Clara Barton Hospital in 1912. It was stated that Hall returned to the United States for the purpose of seeking medical treatment, and further that he was tired of being a fugitive from justice.

Before Hall went into the courtroom he gave a statement of his activities to Capt. Charles T. Connell, immigration agent in charge, that confirmed what that official has been informed concerning the trips of the Comrade and the Ethel Hall into Mexican waters.

The sentence of Hall cleans up a smuggling episode that caused much comment in immigration circles five years ago, when Ethel Hall, a Tacoma school girl, made the record of being the boldest operator on the Pacific Coast.

The couple was married five years ago in the East. They were both previously married and have families. Mrs. Ogden, when leaving, took her three children with her. There are no children by the present union.

Thomas J. Wilkie,

Advisory secretary of the California Young Men's Christian Association, who was buried yesterday after fifty years in Christian service.

Boys' Friend.

FULL OF YEARS AND OF GOOD SERVICE.

STATE Y. M. C. A. SECRETARY LAID TO REST.

Fifty Years in Association Work, He Concluded His Labors in California, Where He has been for the Past Ten Years—Leaves Sister and Two Sons.

Funeral services for Thomas J. Wilkie, advisory secretary of the California Young Men's Christian Association, who died at his residence, No. 3521 South Hope street, Tuesday morning, were held from Pierce Bros.' chapel yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. W. R. Brooks officiating. J. E. Spunger, State secretary of the Y.M.C.A., delivered an address in which he reviewed the life and work of the deceased. Telegrams of condolence were read from the national council of the Y.M.C.A. of Canada, the Northern California Secretarial Association, San Francisco, San Diego and from branches adjacent to Los Angeles. Burial took place at Inglewood Cemetery.

Mr. Wilkie was 75 years old and leaves a sister, Miss Mae Wilkie, and two sons, Charles and Williams. Miss Wilkie and Charles Wilkie lived with him. William Wilkie resides at San Pedro.

Mr. Wilkie entered association work in Toronto in 1867. In 1868 he organized the Provincial Committee at Toronto and was engaged as general secretary of the Toronto Young Men's Christian Association.

In 1871 he organized the work among the soldiers, the first work among the army men that was ever undertaken by the Young Men's Christian Association, and during the past few months he was very anxious for every word regarding the work being done at the border among the men now stationed there.

In 1874 he commenced railroad work among the shop men at the Toronto round house, and became the first secretary of the Provincial Committee. In 1880 he became general secretary of the Brooklyn association. When Mr. Wilkie took charge of the work of this association it was heavily in debt, but when he left Brooklyn six years afterwards that city had one of the finest buildings on the continent.

On account of ill-health he resigned and return to outdoor life in Toronto in 1887, but remained in active service as a director of the Young Men's Christian Association and a member of the Provincial Committee.

From 1891 to 1893 he was honorary general secretary at Corpus Christi, Tex., after which he returned to Toronto and for four years was on the Provincial Committee, giving all his time without salary. The following ten years he was secretary of the provincial staff.

In 1906 he came to California and became the county secretary of the California State Committee and organized that department of the work which has done much in reaching boys in the rural districts.

SUICIDE IDENTIFIED?

Investigator Satisfied a Bay City Tragedy Victim was Realty Man Against Whom Fraud Action Pends; Criminal Case was Contemplated.

Efforts to identify as Z. F. Callahan, real estate operator in this city, as the Z. F. Callahan who committed suicide in the Hotel Glenn, San Francisco, last Tuesday were successful, in the opinion of Special Investigator Chappelle of the District Attorney's office. Mr. Chappelle was preparing to issue a complaint against Mr. Callahan, the operator, charging him with defrauding Mrs. Kate Welsh, when the suicide was reported.

Yesterday Mr. Chappelle stated he would drop the complaint as he is convinced the suicide was the real estate operator. It was ascertained that the Los Angeles man's middle name was Freeman, which corresponds to the middle name of the man found dead at the hotel.

Miss Welsh, daughter of Mrs. Kate Welsh, says she is not sure the identity is completely established and that further proof is necessary. Her mother's affair has been placed in the hands of Attorney N. P. Moerdyke, who filed suit recently against Z. F. Callahan, charging fraud. Mr. Moerdyke says the suicide had a card bearing the name "Z. F. Callahan," which was found in the Zelda apartments, where the suicide had stopped.

Mr. Callahan, it is said, realized about $950 by securing a deed from Mrs. Welsh on a lot in Glendale, which was to have been placed in escrow. He succeeded in borrowing $950 on the lot before he placed the deed in another escrow.

The suit charging fraud will be pressed against Mr. Callahan's estate, Attorney Moerdyke stated yesterday. The operator's death will have no effect, he stated, on the suit.

COURT GRANTS NEW TRIAL TO DOCTOR.

SEPARATE MAINTENANCE SUIT AWARD EXCESSIVE.

Trouble Revolves Around Son by Former Marriage—Husband Refuses Boy—Wife Resents Presence of Relatives Near Her Home. Pathetic Letter Introduced.

Judge C. A. Raker of Modoc county yesterday granted a new trial in the separate maintenance suit of Marion H. Doctor against Fred H. Doctor, tried by him some time ago. At that time the court ordered Mr. Doctor to pay his wife $50 a month. His attorneys moved for a new trial on the ground that the award of the court was excessive and that new evidence had been discovered.

The trial of the suit revolved around the son of Mrs. Doctor by a former marriage. She testified that Mr. Doctor agreed to take the boy into his home and care for him as a son. But when a girl was born to the couple the atmosphere changed, she tried to show. His attorney wrote to Mrs. Doctor indicating pointedly that she could return from the hospital with the baby, but his stepson was not desired.

It was further shown that Mr. Doctor wanted his wife to live in a flat near his parents' apartments, but she declined, as she did not care to be so close in view of the lack of harmony between the father and mother-in-law and herself. A letter written by Mrs. Doctor to her husband had a touch of the pathetic. She said she wanted him to feel the touch of baby fingers around his neck.

FILM ACTOR SUES.

LOSS OF PRESTIGE, BOSWORTH.

Declining to consider a proposal made to him by the Universal Film Manufacturing Company to appear as actor and director, unless his reputation, prestige and drawing power was sufficiently protected in the provisions of the contract, Hobart Bosworth alleges in a suit filed against the company yesterday for $50,000 damages, that after the contract terminated, March 5, 1916, a film play in which he starred and directed was sold in the United States and Canada without any indication that it was a Hobart Bosworth brand of production.

This film was Clyde Fitch's "The Way of the World," and was released throughout the United States and Canada. By reason of this alleged breach of contract, Mr. Bosworth says his reputation, prestige and drawing power has suffered and his earning capacity decreased. He is represented by Attorney William A. Bowen.

TO DECIDE PATERNITY.

ACTOR AGREES TO PAY.

Judge Reeve will decide this afternoon whether or not he will dismiss the contributing charge against Scott Beal, a moving picture actor, on Mr. Beal's agreement to pay Miss Elsie Thornton, a dead film actress, $2000 for the care and education of her infant, the paternity of whom she charges to the actor.

Attorneys for Mr. Beal attempted to secure a dismissal of the case on this promise to pay. It is understood that the payments will be in installments. Judge Reeve declined to bind the court, but he suggested in view of the installments that Mr. Beal furnish a bond guaranteeing the payments. He was given until today to file such a bond. The trial of the case was continued until the 15th inst.

ESTATE DIVIDED.

WALKER RELATIVES BENEFIT.

Frank Walker of Glendale, who died August 26, last, executed his will May 15, 1912, and added a codicil the following October, the will and codicil providing for a long list of relatives and friends. The petition for the probate of the will was filed yesterday by Frank Harvey Walker, a son, of No. 921 South Olive street. The widow, Mrs. Sarah Walker, lives at No. 580 South Western avenue.

The widow and the son are bequeathed the estate, valued in excess of $10,000. The youngest beneficiary named in the list of twenty-three, Angus Potter of Hollywood, is 14 years old, and the oldest, James Boyd of Chicago, 75 years old.

SETTLE ACCIDENT.

In giving judgment in favor of Charles D. French, who was injured by the automobile driven by Mrs. Grace Nelson, Judge Works yesterday decided the legal question raised whether or not the husband, Jack Nelson, who owned the car, but was not in it at the time of the accident, was liable for damages. The court decided that he was not liable for the acts of his wife, although it was a family car, but operated by the wife alone.

The attorneys had stipulated that Mrs. Nelson was negligent, the amount of the judgment, $600, and all of the facts necessary to allow Mr. French's claim, reserving the legal question of the liability of Mr. Nelson.

INS AND OUTS.

PETITION GRANTED. Marie Louise Robinson was formally adopted by Marie Louise Weber, her grandmother, yesterday. This adoption was urgent because of the serious illness of Mrs. Stella Robinson, the child's mother. On Wednesday Mrs. Robinson passed away, happy in the thought that her daughter would be with her grandmother, now her mother by adoption. Because the papers could not be served on the father, David F. Robinson, the hearings were continued from various dates by Judge McCormick.

CONVICT SWINDLER. In Judge Craig's court, yesterday, A. B. Drake, who pleaded guilty to swindling the German-American Trust and Savings Bank out of $55, was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary at San Quentin. Drake has been in trouble before, and recently escaped from the insane hospital.

TELEPHONE MERGER HEARING DATE SET.

RAILROAD COMMISSION FIXES OCTOBER 16.

City will Oppose Projected Consolidation of Home and Pacific Companies on Ground that it will Do Away with Competition and Might Hurt Service.

The State Railroad Commission yesterday notified the Public Service Commission that the hearing on the proposed merger of the Pacific Telephone ("Sunset") and Home Telephone companies has been set for October 16 in the Union League Building. Commissioners Thelen and Gordon will hear the case.

The city will oppose the merger. President Fulton Lane gives the following reason for this action:

"The franchise of the Sunset company expires November 16. At the last general municipal election a vote was taken which committed the Council and the city to the policy of granting the Sunset company a new franchise on condition it should put in an interchange exchange so as to make it possible to call any subscriber in the city; that is, one could call from one system to the other. By doing that the people indicated they did not want the Sunset company to operate with the Home company's franchise, which it would do through this merger.

"We are opposing this merger because it means the American Telephone Company, the Bell system, will control the telephone system here and there will not be any competition existing, and it may be difficult to keep up the service the city is now getting, the service being about the best there is in the United States, owing to the keen competition between the two companies."

City Hall Notes.

The Council yesterday adopted an ordinance abandoning proceedings for the improvement of Third street from Grand avenue to Bunker Hill avenue.

The Humane Animal Commission has asked the Council for an appropriation to enable it to care for stray and injured cats.

Aftermath.

DAMAGE SUIT ECHO OF FIRE-BUG CASE.

WOMAN CHARGES CONSPIRACY TO DEFRAUD HER.

Accused of Attempt to Burn Hotel and not Yet Tried, She Alleges Plot to Take Away Furniture, Good Will and Lease of Hosiery.

An aftermath of the arrest of Mrs. Harriet A. Canfield, charged with an attempt to burn the hotel at No. 840 South Flower street, is a suit filed by her yesterday against her former attorneys and the owner of the hotel building, alleging conspiracy. She says that, while she was in jail on the incendiary charge, the defendants conspired to defraud her out of the furniture, good will and lease. Damages are asked in the sum of $25,000.

The defendants are the Jean Investment Company, F. O. Jean, A. P. M. Narlian and Edward A. Goodrich. The complaint alleges that Attorney Narlian called on Mrs. Canfield in jail and induced her to sign notes and mortgages covering the furniture in the hotel, stating that this was necessary to obtain her release on bail.

Mrs. Canfield declares there was no consideration for the notes and mortgages and that subsequently she was induced to relinquish title to the lease and furniture. Furthermore, she says, she entered a sanatorium at the solicitation of Attorney Narlian.

The charge against Mrs. Canfield has not gone to trial. The case went off calendar to be reset in the criminal courts. She denied she had attempted to fire the building, but the police declare they found gasoline and distillate in many unoccupied rooms and only a fortunate accident prevented a disastrous fire.

over, said that the sum asked was greater than needed to pay off all indebtedness and demanded to see the books of the company and the holding companies. When this was refused, the stockholders named went into court and on May 14 of this year asked for a mandamus to force the defendants to come into court and exhibit the books. The stockholders won and the new action in the Federal courts is the result of their investigations.

The plaintiffs in their complaint allege that the transfer of the company into a holding company and the assessment of 5 cents a share was not authorized by a proper meeting of the directors and that they were in danger of losing their interests in the mines unless they paid the assessment. The property of the company, in which there are said to be more than 6000 stockholders, is reported as valuable although progress in the development of the mines has been slow.

Split Verdict.

SON FOUND GUILTY.

Jury, However, Declares Father is Innocent of Knowledge that an Outfit for Making Bogus Paper Money was in His Residence.

After wrestling all day on the question of the guilt or innocence of Edward and Charles de Zelle, charged with having counterfeit tools in their possession, a jury in the court of Judge Edward E. Cushman yesterday returned a verdict of guilty against the son, Charles de Zelle, and as to the father, not guilty on two counts of the indictment, and a disagreement as to the other of three counts. The younger De Zelle will be sentenced by Judge Cushman Tuesday morning.

The boy did not go on the stand at all, and the father denied that he knew anything of the son's having the printing press, camera, negatives, etc., alleged to have been used at the various places the De Zelles have lived in Santa Monica, Anaheim, Alhambra and this city in the printing of $5 Indian head silver certificates.

SEAPORTS CAPTURED.

Victory for Bulgars and Turks.

Desperate Battle Between the Russo-Rumanians and the Germanics.

Austrians Forced Back from Hargitta—Little Fighting in the West.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Sept. 8.—Rumania now is the scene of a great battle between Russo-Rumanian forces and armies of the central powers. Eastern Rumania has become a fighting ground and the opposing armies are engaged from the Black Sea to the Danube, along a front of about seventy miles.

Bulgarian and Turkish troops have occupied Baltjik and two other seaports, Sofia reports, and the fortress of Dobritch or Bazardjik has been taken. The armies of the central powers have not yet crossed the Danube.

The Rumanians continue their offensive in Eastern Transylvania and have occupied Gorsova on the Danube. Advancing from Csik Szereda, in Transylvania, the Rumanians are driving westward and Berlin admits the withdrawal of German forces before attacks against Hargitta.

The Russians on the northern end of their line near Riga have begun a new undertaking and have crossed the Dvina north of Dvinsk. Repeated efforts by the Germans to dislodge them failed, Petrograd declares.

Austro-Germans are fighting desperately to hold back the Russians advancing on Halics. Petrograd says the Austro-German forces have fallen back to the western bank of the Zlota Lipa, while Vienna asserts that the forces of the central powers are holding their own. Russian attacks against German positions on the Zlota Lipa, southeast of Brzezany, and with heavy losses, Berlin reports.

On the Somme front violent bombardment continues. The French report a further advance for their forces in Vermandovillers.
